Dedication

The great ones of the past have bequeathed to our generation countless ideals, and laws and institutions for achieving them. These were once non-existent save in the minds of men who sacrificed everything, even life itself, for their realization. The web of the present is woven of the golden dreams of the past. The future is ours, ours to improve and develop, ours to make or mar. May we, too, cherish our dreams, work for their accomplishment, and enrich the World by the best we have to give. To aspiration we dedicate the Aurora of 1925.

Foreword

Upon a hill within a city fair
 There stands an ancient ivy-mantled hall
 Whose lofty towers the traveller sees afar.
 Round it a grove doth spread its grateful shade
 Above an emerald lawn where flowers spring,
 A fountain's silu'ry music fills the air.
 A fit abode for our most gracious queen.
 Widespread is her renown throughout the earth,
 And there are many whom she doth invite
 To join her court, and thus to share her fame.
 Our Alma Mater, she; within her court
 Are numbered those whom love of wisdom calls.
 The treasures in her store are manifold,
 And royally she proffers Life's best gifts.
 Joy and the peace of mind's content she gives.
 A guiding light is she to all her court
 Inspiring each to do the best he may
 To make this world of ours a place wherein
 A coming generation will find life
 A little more worth while because we've lived.
 Her realm is far too broad for single sway
 And, lest a province all neglected lie,
 Unto vice-regents she doth lend her seal,
 And they perform all duties in her name.
 These are our teachers, and our honored friends
 The while we sojourn in this well-loved place.
 The poet well hath said most sweet it is
 That certain hours to merriment be given.
 Our queen a joyous, happy court desires.
 She wills that mirth shall fill her subjects' hearts
 With pleasure she doth join the stately dance,
 Or watches tilt and tourney where brave knights
 Match skill and strength as in the days of yore.
 We who have made this volume are her bards;
 Our task it is to faithfully set down
 All of the pleasures that the year doth hold
 That memory of these days may ever be
 Most clear and bright; that you may keep untouched
 The tho'ts, the aspirations, and ideals
 Which they inspired. O Alma Mater dear,
 May this, our work, be worthy of thy name,
 Deserve thine approbation, and delight
 Those of thy court for whom the book is planned.

PRESIDENT CHARLES McKENNY

LYDIA I. JONES
Dean of Women

CLEMENS P. STEIMLE

*Registrar
Dean of Men*

Dr. Charles O. Hoyt is one of the best known teachers of the Normal College. The Department of Education, through which all of our students pass, is in his charge. Its reputation is safe with him. Dr. Hoyt is progressive. His scholarship has been built up by tireless labor. He inspires confidence. His students respond to his enthusiasm by catching something of his spirit. Dr. Hoyt is a great teacher.

"Great thoughts come from great hearts."

Charles O. Hoyt, Ph. D.
Professor of Education and Philosopher of Education
A. B., Albion College
Ph. D., University of Jena, Germany

Florus A. Barbour, A. M.
Professor of English
A. B., University of Michigan
A. M. (Honorary), University of Michigan

*In him the masters of the ages find An instrument fine-tuned to all they sing,
His beauty-loving heart and soul and mind
Lend passionate fervor to his gifted tongue.*

*Lifted by his inspired words, I rise
And on the wings of his appreciation soar,
And as I see the masters thru his eyes,
I learn to understand and love them more.*

*Thru near a half a century's service here
Fearlessly for his ideals have his firm accents rung,
And tho he, too, has borne life's laugh,
its tear,
Still is his great heart young.*

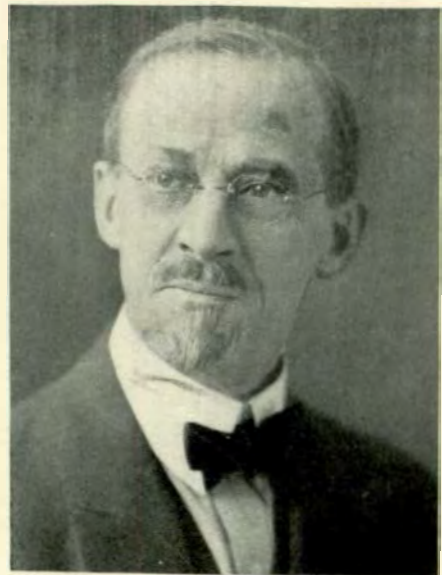

Bertha M. Goodison
Professor of Fine Arts

After a thorough study of art, both at home and abroad, Miss Goodison came to us and now is head of our department of Fine Arts. Her father was formerly head of the Art department here and The Aurora, '93, was dedicated to him. Generosity is her only vice. Specializing students find her an un-failing friend who is ever willing to help those who need and are deserving of help. In connection with Miss Goodison it is impossible not to mention Spike, her Airedale. She admits that he is a bad dog, who often stays out nights, but then he redeems himself by condescending to pose for Art classes.

"Fine Art is that in which the hand, the head, and the heart go together."

Professor Jefferson, who heads our Geography department, was chief cartographer at the Peace Conference in Versailles. Following is a quotation from an article on Mr. Jefferson in a recent copy of The Schoolmaster, by Dr. Isaiah Bowman: "He sees life as a whole and describes it in that way and not in terms of a narrow specialty. Nor does he leave the firmament out of consideration. His philosophy is too broad for that, and anyhow he was trained as an astronomer. As he used to say to us on many a field trip when cloud formations of special interest were to be seen, 'Look up, man; the sky is part of the picture!'"

Mark Jefferson, A. M.
Professor of Geography
 A. B., A. M., Harvard University

Here's to our good Professor Pray, in whose classes the suffering of the homesick Freshmen is first alleviated. Indeed, if one hasn't a class to him, just to encounter his smiling presence in the corridor is cheering. Most fascinating of story tellers, he transforms the so-called dull facts of history into a gorgeous and dramatic panorama. Not only in the class does he delight his hearers, but his wit and vivacity make History Club meetings especially charming. If necessary he can supply the entire program, music as well as story and lecture. Our readers "will soon forget what we say here" but they will ever remember what he does here.

Carl E. Pray, A. M.
Professor of History
 B. L., Olivet College
 A. M., University of Wisconsin

Fannie Beal, A. M.
Assistant Professor of Home Economics
 B. S., Michigan Agricultural College,
 A. M., Columbia University

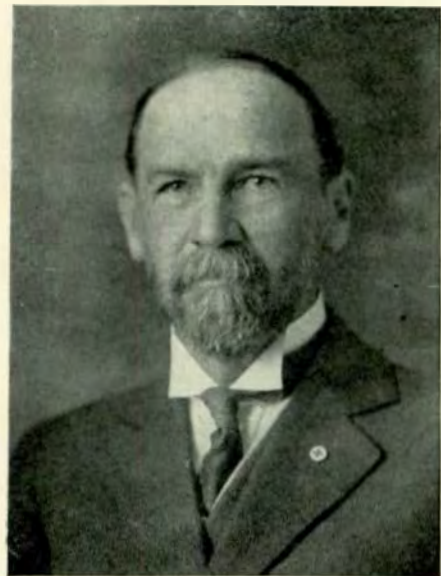

Little! But, oh my! Good things come in small packages. Miss Beal has many important duties on our Campus but we find her loyal to all. A great share of her time is devoted to the Home Economics Department. The girls within the department have gained for themselves under her guidance a higher standard of living and insight into many phases of life.

Alice I. Boardman
Assistant Professor of Industrial Arts
 Graduate of Mount Holyoke College and
 Lloyd Training School, Boston

Babies and baskets! This dear New England lady collects them — so we've been told. She has them in every size, color and description, and keeps on adding more to her collection. Of course, we were talking about the baskets and not the babies, but she wants to adopt every baby she sees, just as she longs to possess every queer-looking basket that she finds. Her students are always willing to be "adopted" and "her boys" think that "Aunt Alice" is the best friend a fellow could ever have. After discovering the twinkle in her eye and her whole-hearted interest in them, they pronounce her "pure gold" and "true-blue." The doors of her home in Ypsilanti and her farm in the Berkshires, Massachusetts, are always thrown wide open to her many friends, old and young.

"There is a golden mean in all things," says Horace. Dr. D'Ooge is very fond of this quotation, but he is a better preacher than practitioner. As a scholar, lecturer, teacher, and author he has made the golden extreme his goal, and has achieved it. His enthusiasm for his subject is boundless, and surely he has done his best in its behalf, for he writes textbooks and then he trains the teachers. For these things he is famous, but for his kindness he is loved, and when his pupils' brows are crowned with snowy locks, each will say to her grandchildren, "I went to school to Dr. D'Ooge." Ah, there were teachers in those days."

Dr. D'Ooge, Ph. D.
Professor of Latin
 A. B. A. M., University of Michigan
 Ph. D., University of Bonn

A tall and lanky form, a kindly face,
He holds himself aloft with languid grace.
Towering above us, ever smiling down,
I think that I have never seen him frown.
He can make figures talk, I know,
The books that he has written prove it so;
Broad in its range of interest is his mind,
And those of us who are in his classes
find
That in the blue-grass country under southern skies,
In Berea College, that great interest lies.

Elmer A. Lyman, A. B., LL. D.
Professor of Mathematics
A. B., University of Michigan
Graduate Student, University of Michigan
LL. D., Berea College, Berea, Kentucky

R. Clyde Ford, Ph. D.
Professor of Modern Languages
Ph. B., Ph. M., Albion College
Ph. D., University of Munich

"Once upon a time in the upper peninsula lived a little band of—," and we settle down to enjoy one of Dr. Ford's famous Indian stories, for Indians and Indian mounds and relics furnish him a delightful avocation. Dr. Ford is a great scholar, a graduate of famous schools, both at home and abroad, but he is also a great teacher. His classes are lit by the glow of his great friendliness for his pupils and by flashes of his clever, original humor. Along with this work and his frequent trips abroad Dr. Ford has had time to make his name well known as a lecturer.

Frederick Alexander, A. B.
Professor of Music, and
Director of Conservatory of Music
 A. B., University of Michigan

Our Mr. Alexander is widely known for his remarkable musical ability, for his intense appreciation of the deeper meaning underlying music, for his success in producing it with a choir composed in the main of untrained singers. He has, however, all the peculiarities belonging to genius. It is our impression that he is directly responsible for the red necktie fad now so universally adopted on the Campus. His reverence and affection for the past lead him to collect all manner of curious and beautiful tapestries, cabinets and chests. His chief treasure is his "well-tempered" clavichord. The combination of new music with this antique instrument jars upon his artistic sensibilities. Therefore he has been known to stain his music in order to give it the appearance of age. To arouse in his pupils an interest in art, interpreting the word broadly, is his aim. May it be accomplished to his satisfaction.

Those who have been fortunate enough to go on one of Dr. Sherzer's tours through western United States and Alaska know him for a most efficient organizer and a very delightful traveling companion. Everything moves smoothly and when the unexpected does arise, it is met promptly and with an unruffled temper. Thorough and exacting in his teaching, nevertheless, he sometimes in anecdotes gives tantalizing glimpses of the truly remarkable experiences he has had. A scientist of national repute, we know him best of all as a true gentleman.

William H. Sherzer
Professor of Natural Science
 B. S., M. S., Ph. D., University of Michigan

In the Physical Education line
Does our Professor Bowen shine.
With the great builders that this school has known
His years of faithful skill has shown.
For his department has he labored long
And he has builded it both firm and strong
'Tis now the largest on our Campus here,
And each year more new followers appear.
Through him has his department
famous grown,
By the whole nation he and his great work are known.

Wilbur P. Bowen, M. S.
Professor of Physical Education
B. S., M. S., University of Michigan

Frederick R. Gorton, Ph. D.
Professor of Physics and Astronomy
B. S., A. M., University of Michigan
Ph. D., University of Berlin

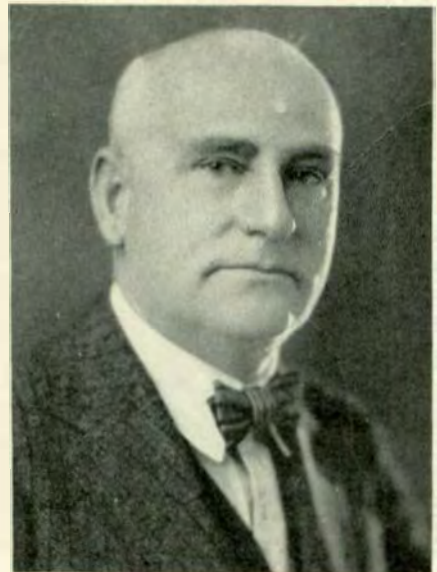

Astronomy is the most popular course in the Spring term. Why? Because "In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to—star-gazing." Dr. Gorton understands young people and usually chooses the darkest nights for observing the stars. If our hearts are responsive to the beauty and wonder of the heavens, the stars can teach us many lessons that will stay with us thru life. We earnestly advise everyone to take this splendid course in Astronomy. Dr. Gorton's Physics classes are just as splendid, and he is always ready to answer all questions, wise or otherwise. With infinite patience and sincere enthusiasm, he teaches the great truths of science. Everyone has a good word to say for Dr. Gorton. He is truly a prince among men!

J. Stuart Lathers, A. M.
Professor of Speech
B. L., University of Michigan

Mr. Lathers may have several avocations, but if you wish to discover a very interesting one ask him some such question as this, "It looks like fine weather for chickens, doesn't it?" and soon he'll take you over to his back yard and show you that he agrees. There is always a fussy old hen with her chattering brood there throughout the spring and summer, and when his classes prove too exasperating and unintelligent, we wonder whether he doesn't confide in these understanding friends. But Mr. Lathers is an artist, a genius and a real person. Not only can he teach how to read and act, but he can do both himself with success which few ever attain.

Every student in this college comes in contact with Mr. Roberts before receiving a diploma of any size, kind or description. He inspires, advises, and admonishes aspiring young teachers. His critic meetings are invigorating, to say the least. In saying a thing he remembers that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line. Mr. Roberts believes in young people, and heartily approves of hobbled hair. He is a cordial friend to all — even to the stray cats and dogs wandering about the Campus.

Dimon H. Roberts, A. M.
Superintendent of Training School
A. B., A. M., Amherst College

Men's ambitions, aims, and ideals are a great influence in molding the characters of young people with whom they come in contact. Kind words and a helping hand when the work is hard, a few jokes to make the work more cheerful; these are the things that make us remember with pleasure the chemistry courses we have taken.

Bert W. Pect, M. S.
Professor of Chemistry
B. S., Michigan Agricultural College
M. S., University of Michigan

Horace Z. Wilber, A. M.
Professor of Education and Philosophy
Director of Extension College
A. B., Michigan State Normal College
A. B., A. M., University of Michigan

When not engaged in directing the activities of correspondence and extension students, Professor Wilber finds time enough to teach an occasional class in history of education or philosophy, or to give pointers to prospective high school teachers concerning the best available positions. He is, as his title implies, very enthusiastic over extensions of every kind. At present he is working on the problem of extending the 24-hour day to give him time for a few more classes. His favorite catch questions are along this line: "Why is this thus, and what is the reason for this thushness?"

Dr. Pittman is nationally known as a lecturer at educational associations and conventions. His books, Successful Teaching in Rural Schools and Problems of the Rural Teacher and his zone plan of rural school supervision, are distinctive contributions to rural education.

On the Campus he is known for the rapid growth of his department, for the Trailblazer Club, the rural students' organization, and for his devoted personal concern for the success and happiness of every rural student.

*A tall, strong man of most forbidding mien,
In him the perfect penman may be seen.
His the task to teach us to acquire
To some degree, the skill we all admire.
And what a worthy work it seems
When we consider that man's dreams.
The noble thoughts of many a noble
mind,
The deep emotions of a great heart
stirred,
Have found and in the future, too, will find
Mode of expression in the written word.*

FELICITER EXPLICIT

Once upon a time a student at the M. S. N. C. conceived the idea that a year-book should be published on this Campus, and so foisted another piece of work upon that class so widely known for their ambition, the Seniors. Mr. Lathers, the originator and the first editor of THE AURORA is still in our midst, and is the author of many brilliant projects. We will wager, however, that he did not realize how long he was going to stay on and what a lengthy shelf in his library would be required to accommodate the successor of his brain child.

So it comes about that every year a new group of individuals sets to work at the Atlantean task of producing a book which will favorably compare in wit and beauty with those AURORAS that have gone before. They make it according to their own conception of what it should be, not because they think their ideas are so superior, but because it is impossible to consult each and every member of the school. Remember this and "do not view us with a critic's eye, but pass our imperfections by."

The board has increased respect for editors in general and those who edit annuals in particular, for have we not at the last moment, consumed with wild despair, been compelled to await the pleasure of some important delinquent? Have we not kept the wires humming urging a procrastinator to go and make the required number of faces at the photographer and then leave a copy in the AURORA office, not the Normal News office nor the Special room. We have succeeded in deciphering various interesting and individual methods of penmanship, any of which Mr. Newberry might to advantage substitute for Palmer. We have done considerable research work, too, in the spelling of proper names and can tell you at least sixteen variations of Catherine, Christine and Myrtle. In spite of our worries we have had a jolly time and there is only one thing lacking to make our happiness complete. That is your approval. We hope you will like your AURORA for this year as well as any other that you own.

We wish to express our appreciation to all those who so efficiently and intelligently co-operated with us to make THE AURORA of 1925 a success and particularly to the following members of the Art, English and other departments:

THE SENIOR'S CREDO

*I believe in and desire knowledge and understanding,
 Knowledge of trees, and flowers, and sky,
 Knowledge of books, and an intimate knowledge of man.
 I believe that my knowledge will lead
 To a broader understanding of these,
 And will not alienate me in a world of unreality.
 I believe that through knowledge and understanding
 Comes a greater love for man, for nature, and for God,
 And with the love a greater power to serve and to enjoy.
 Because of my belief I have joined the modern crusade,
 A crusade against ignorance, and all its attendant evils,
 A crusade whose aim is knowledge for all
 That all may live more richly and more abundantly.*

YE SENIOR HALL OF FAME

We had a sweet president named Helen,
A right pretty maid I'm a tellin'.
She wrote a school song,
It was not very long
But it took second prize — so they're yellin'!

A Senior named Ralph, with a gun
On his shoulder, went North on a run
To hunt for a duck,
(But what was his luck?
Were ducks the only things that he won?)

No doubt you have heard of Ruth Bowen,
What she doesn't know isn't worth knowin',
And if by chance
You've seen her dance
You'll know why my praise is so glowin'.

There was a sage Senior named Meade,
In Albion (It's fully agreed.)
He yelled with such pep
(For so goes his rep)
That listeners in Ypsi gave heed.

The grave Seniors once had a Mixer,
They played "Adam and Eve" (quite a trick, sir).
Now "Adam" was Lumley
And "Eve" he chased dumbly,
For she proved to be very quick, sir.

There was a young fellow named Ed,
Whose glory on Ypsi was shed.
One night on the radio
He sang and he played-io,
This clever young fellow named Ed.

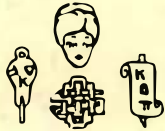

From India came young Carlotta
Of beauty and brains she'd a lotta
But for praise or for blame,
(They were one and the same),
She never cared even a jotta.

There's Carl that you dare not abuse,
Nor ought he requests can refuse,
With immediate action
He'd seek satisfaction
On a page of his Normal News.

There once was a Senior named Leib
Who belonged to a very strange tribe.
Every word that he uttered,
You were sure to hear muttered,
"Your Aurora! It's time to subscribe!"

Oh, we have a quiet Miss Mary,
A very demure little fairy.
But the honors she wins —!!
There is no one begins
To take as many as Mary!

There once was a man named Gerard,
He worked exceedingly hard.
He knew how to letter,
Oh my, no one better
Than this painter of signs and show cards

Colonel Gillespie's our clown,
He's never been known to frown,
He makes us all laugh
'Til we nearly go daft,
He's the funniest person in town.

Dr. Gorton's our worthy adviser
Of good plans he is a deviser.
He looks at the stars
And the heavenly cars
And apparently is much the wiser.

This list is most far from complete,
To mention them all is a feat.
I will leave to all you
Of whose friends (be they true)
I am quite unable to treat.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

Laverne Miller	President
Jean Manion	Vice-President
Walter Goudy	Secretary
Helen Mason	Treasurer

JUNIORS

The class of twenty-six, first assembled as Juniors at Starkweather Hall, October ninth, nineteen hundred twenty-four. The program for this initial meeting was the election of officers. Balloting moved smoothly after nominations for the various offices had been made, and at its close it was found that the will of the class for the coming year had been placed in the hands of Laverne Miller, President; Jean Manion, Vice-president; Walter Goudy, Secretary; and Helen Mason, Treasurer. The election also gave Laurene Prouse and Paul Ward seats on the student council as representatives of the class. The job of athletic manager was given to A. L. Erickson.

One of the important steps at the second meeting, held in the Little Theatre, was the selection of Professor Pray as class advisor. Professor Pray had cleared up many troubles in history for us, and it was only natural that he was chosen to help and advise if difficulties arose during the year. At this time a committee was appointed for the collection of dues.

Our third meeting found us well under way. Money was voted to purchase a horn for the newly-organized band. The committee for the J-Prom was selected and plans were begun for an elaborate party, which has become a tradition for the third year class.

At eight-thirty o'clock on the evening of February sixth, nineteen-twenty-five, the doors of the Armory were opened for the Annual Junior Prom. The decorating scheme was carried out in purple and gold, the class colors, and favors of red rose-bud were presented to the couples. Music was furnished by the Michigan Wolverines. About eleven o'clock the Grand March was led by President Laverne Miller of Clio and Miss Ruth Pound of Lexington, Mich., followed by the Prom Committee and members of the class. The time of the Prom was extended to one o'clock by special permission from the faculty and student council. Refreshments, consisting of punch, ice cream and wafers were served during the course of the party. As the wee hour to close drew near, serpentine in various hues added much to the color and merriment of the evening. Chaperones for the party were: Professor and Mrs. Carl Pray, Coach and Mrs. James Brown. Guests present were: President and Mrs. Charles McKenny, Mr. and Mrs. Clemens P. Steimle, Miss Lydia I. Jones, Miss Fannie E. Beal, Mrs. Fannie Cheever Burton. The Prom Committee consisted of Jean Manion, Paul Ward, Charles Lappeus and Del Morse.

Though totaling but two hundred in number, the major offices on the Campus were held by members of the Junior Class this year.

ALUMNI FEALTY SONG

TUNE: Kreisler's Old Refrain

Thy sons and daughters all thy name revere

And hold each vine and stone in memory dear.

*And still their voices sing M. S.
N. C.*

And still the echoes ring in praise of thee

And may we raise upon our friendships true

*A living monument of love to you.
The years roll on and on, but love remains,*

We sing within our hearts thy old refrain

And pray that heaven may thy future bless

And grant on thee a crown of rich success

While we renew our pledge of fealty

COMMENTARII SOPHOMORICI

Ms. Found in a Bottle

And it came to pass that in the consulship of Carlus McKennius Ypsilanticus there did enter into these halls of learning a strange and marvelous tribe called Sophomores which in our language means those foolish in their wisdom. Before the brilliancy of their intellect and the scintillating quality of their wit the listener was stricken dumb. Straightway did they confer with the elders that they might determine the smallest number of the simplest subjects whereby they might secure a certain parchment. Then they repaired to the corridors and kept up a ceaseless chattering which ended only when the sun sank. One other tribe called Frosh they did regard with much scorn, and would have fought frequent battles with them, but that the consul declared a state of peace.

And there went out an order from headquarters that they should come together on a certain day, and elect those leaders to whom they proposed to commit their affairs for the space of one year. And with much delay and indecision, for these barbarians know nothing of the leges parlamentariae, those were chosen whose names are here written:

Maurice Pederson	President
Frank Manley	Vice-President
Marion Shorts	Secretary
Arthur Smith	Treasurer
Josephine Manchester	Student Council Representative
Eugene Knapp	Student Council Representative
Donald Seed	Athletic Manager

Vox populi, vox Dei.

And they did bid all the tribes to a merrymaking where to the accompaniment of clashing cymbals and jazzophony they would have danced happily until dawn, but that the rulers sternly forbade them.

Now it was accomplished by these that another instrument was added to the band's equipment. For this good deed they shall dwell long in the memory of those who here seek for the knowledge which passeth all understanding. And at all festas and merrymaking shall it be played, and the givers thereof shall be revered and honored.

Thereafter it came to pass that a group of heroes like to Larissean Achilles who dwell upon the Campus held a song contest, and any whom the Muses inspired might make trial of his skill. Two songs did the Sophomores write, and they were good. But they who judged deemed best those written by the Frosh. And when this became known unto the Sophomores there was weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Many of these brave youths and fair maidens, even those who hold high rank in the councils of the elders, will soon go hence bewailed by members of their own tribe who remain, and by members of other tribes. May the Fates be kind to them—Selah!

FRESHMAN OFFICERS

John Burrige.....	President
Margaret Grant.....	Vice-President
Byron Boyd.....	Secretary
Harriet Carmichael.....	Treasurer

FRESHMAN CLASS

"Pots off!"— yes, and more, a challenge to the class of twenty-eight. The hordes of jeering upper-class-men never let even the most meek and unassuming frosh pass unmolested. If the newcomers had any desire to remain obscure, it was denied them and they were dragged from their haunts.

It is true that the campus has much fine scenery, but the Freshmen ceased to appreciate it after a few nightly dips into the sparkling water of the picturesque fountain near the administration building. During those cool autumn nights some people came to view the splendor of the fountain, but the Freshmen came escorted by their elders to feel its drenching water.

A freshie's life is not all water and green pots. The class met October 7th and organized their forces. The officers elected were: John Burridge, president; Margaret Grant, vice-president; Byron Boyd, secretary; Harriet Carmichael, treasurer; "Bingo" Brown, class patron; George Shaugnessy, athletic manager; Helen Squiers and Carl Pray, Student Council representatives.

The class launched two social events during the year. A closed party was given November 9th and the "Frosh Prom," a distinctly unique event, was held on Friday, the 13th day of February. Both of the parties were very successful.

The ability of various members of the class was exhibited on several occasions. A Freshman girl won the women's oratorical contest. The song contest was won by the Freshman contributions. The Freshie went almost undefeated through the football season, but finally met their match in the contest with the Degree team.

The Freshman year draws rapidly to a close, but the members of the class will always be mindful of its pleasures. They will look back upon their achievements with pride. They will be properly grateful for the kindly reception accorded to them by their superiors.

*We now our green lids bid adieu
For Cap Night is not far away.
From Frosh to Sophs we'll soon evolve,
At last to Seniors gray.*

*The portals of a Senior year
Loom vague and dim and distant still,
But that's our goal, we'd have you know,
So we must study with a will.*

PUBLIC SPEAKING

The Oratorical Board which supervises public speaking activities consists of the following officers for the current year: President, Paul K. Ward; Vice-president, Willard Morris; Secretary, Raymond Harvey; Pi Kappa Delta representative, Eloise Ewell; faculty representative, Professor McKay. The numerous details connected with arranging for the various local contests, and the duties that arise out of our membership in the state oratory league and three debate leagues constitute the chief business of the board.

A greatly enlarged program of contests is being carried thru this year, and with interesting results. In the field of oratory the tryouts brot out twenty-five contestants and the final contest resulted in the selection of Reva Jarman, freshman, and Paul K. Ward, junior, as the college orators. The state contest was held at Kalamazoo College on March 6th, where Miss Jarman presented her oration, "Student Training for Leadership," and Mr. Ward spoke on "The Invisible Enemy." Both gave a good account of themselves, tho' neither was awarded an honor place, Miss Jarman receiving fourth place and Mr. Ward fifth.

Debating this year called for six teams — two first-line and two second-line men's teams, and two women's teams. The season opened on January 30th with a dual debate by the second-line teams with the Central Michigan Normal School. The affirmative consisting of Edwin Stahl, Jacob A. Weitzel and Loy B. LaSalle won the decision of the expert judge at Ypsilanti, while the negative, Will H. Irwin, Harold B. Locke and William Underwood lost the decision of the judge at Mount Pleasant. The question debated was the official men's question for the year. "Congress should be empowered to over-ride by a two-thirds vote decisions of the Supreme Court which declare acts of Congress unconstitutional." The Michigan Debating League contests came next in which the first-line teams engaged. On February 13th the affirmative team, composed of Leon A. Wilber, Eugene Knapp and Raymond Harvey, met Kalamazoo College at home and were defeated unanimously, while the negative team, composed of James K. Seaton, Willard Morris, and Paul K. Ward defeated Alma College at Alma by a 2-1 vote. On February 27th the affirmative was defeated unanimously at Western State Normal College, while the negative sustained a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Albion College at home. On March 12th the Normal debaters engaged in the Bluffton-Bowling Green State Normal-Michigan State Normal College debate triangle. The second-line affirmative team defeated Bowling Green by a 2-1 vote at home, while the first-line negative team secured the decision of the expert judge in the first debate with Bluffton College at Bluffton. On March 20th the Normal women debaters went into action in a dual debate with Heidelberg University on the question: "There should be no discrimination against the Japanese in our present immigration law." The affirmative team composed of Elma Hall, Alice Bradbury and Florence Westbrook defeated its opponent unanimously at home, while the negative team consisting of Ethel Helrigel, Galdy B. Schutt and Gladys V. Bayler, owing to the absence of one judge, received a tie vote at Heidelberg. Thus the winter term closed with five victories, four defeats and a tie decision. The men are still to hold four debates in the spring term. On April 12th, Leon A. Wilber, Eugene Knapp and Paul K. Ward are to meet Adrian College at Britton, Michigan, where they will defend the affirmative, while on the same evening the second-line negative team will meet Adrian at Ypsilanti. The last debate with Adrian College was held in 1914. On April 24th we resume relations with Ferris Institute, whom we have not met since 1917. The affirmative second-line men go to Big Rapids, while the negative second-line team goes to Charlotte for the debate. This year marks the beginning of the experiment of making inter-college debates available to citizens of other than college towns.

This description would not be complete without special mention of the honor forensic society which is now firmly established as an enthusiastic campus activity — Pi Kappa Delta. It has never furnished a stronger incentive than this year to students to enter platform activities. Its annual initiation occurred at the home of Professor McKay on April 10th, and proved to be one of the most successful occasions it has ever held. The largest number since the installation of the chapter were admitted to membership — seventeen students and two faculty members. The chapter now numbers seventy-five. For the first time this year the college assumes the expense of the keys and the national dues, in lieu of the college medal formerly given. Expansive preparations are now going forward for the annual banquet to be held on May 1st.

The scheme of awards for student speakers in inter-college contests has been greatly enlarged this year, and over two hundred fifty dollars in money prizes will be given. Thus the public speaking activities of the college are experiencing one of the most successful years in their history.

THE INVISIBLE ENEMY

Paul Ward

A reddish-green smoke rose in the distance. As it rolled forward propelled by the winds, it increased in volume. Like a mist it hugged the ground and penetrated to every dip and crevice in the earth. Harmless as it appeared, the approach of this slow-moving cloud marked a new era in methods of human destruction. Men were overcome in its enveloping fumes and their bodies were convulsed with horrible torment. Death was almost sure. The few who escaped will never fully recover. Such is the story of the first use of poison gas in the world war, of the stealthy approach of a new and fearful form of death. I am to sound the warning today of another danger, slowly creeping upon the nation, stealthy in its approach, widespread and sure in its ultimate effects. It is no other than the world danger of the opium traffic.

Paul Ward

America today is consuming forty times as much of these drugs as any other white nation. . . . The use of opium is widespread. In this country it is estimated that there are between 500,000 and 2,000,000 thus afflicted. Its use has spread to all walks of life and no class may call itself exempt. . . . What is its effect upon the individual? Though soothing and exhilarating at first, relief is only temporary. . . . The victims deteriorate physically, mentally and morally. They become deceitful, they steal, they lose self-respect and ambition. . . . Now what is the effect upon the nation? The ever-increasing complexity of present-day problems call, as never before, for physical alertness, for mental stamina, for self-restraint, for moral vision. Only a rugged physique can keep America fit in the midst of the strain of modern life. Will it be possible for her to maintain that physique with this enemy sapping her vitals? . . . Again industry must be carried on to supply human need and contribute to our material happiness. . . . In the face of our national problems there is also vital necessity too, for moral character.

What is the remedy? Public opinion must be enlightened. . . . The attack must be begun by means of education. . . . As human courage and inventive genius and organization have found means of defense in other crises, so our manhood and womanhood must rise to meet the invisible enemy. The call is urgent. What shall our answer be?

STUDENT TRAINING FOR LEADERSHIP

By Reva L. Jarman

The forty thousand English colonists who came to this country between 1620 and 1650 probably formed the most significant migration that has ever occurred in the movement of peoples. Fatigued with caste and privilege, tired of monarch and tyranny, upon the inhospitable shores of New England, they decreed the sovereignty of the people. . . . From belief in the theory of rule by the people there developed the idea that the voice of the people is the supreme directing agency of our progress, that American history and tradition are the result of the collective thinking of the mass of Americans.

When, however, one examines our traditions and policies he discovers an interesting fact. That fact is that the great ideas for which America stands came not from the masses, but from a few outstanding men whom we call our national leaders. They originated and enunciated our ideas and ideals. . . .

Now, far from boasting about it, it is a matter for deep thought to every college student, that the class to which he belongs stands high in the scale of intellectual ability.

And does not the world of today and tomorrow need the contribution which the college graduate can make? . . . Upon them depends whether America shall continue on the road of progress or whether decadence shall set in; for to nations, equally with individuals,

*"there openeth ways and a way,
And the high soul climbs the high way,
And the low soul gropes the low,
And in between on the misty flats
The rest drift to and fro."*

Now how shall the college fulfill its mission of training such men and women?

We will agree that three elements in such leadership are outstanding: a background of knowledge, a foundation of character, and a desire for self-assertion. . . .

Today leadership cannot compel; it can only beckon. It cannot trample; it must invite. Our youth, who have been called contradictory, trying, confusing, and confused, themselves, when once aroused to what is expected of them, will proudly and gladly strive for the qualities of leadership, and enter into their tasks with all the vigor, enthusiasm, and imagination which are the glory of youth. So the college must not lose the golden opportunity to train its students for the leadership of the new America. And when she summons, we, her college youth, must not fail. For our America is:

*"The fairest,
The rarest
That man ever trod,
The sweetest and dearest
'Twixt the sky and the sod,
And it's mine
And it's thine,
Thank God!"*

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club was organized in 1910, with B. W. Peet, founder of the organization, as patron, Mr. Clarke Davis as president, Mr. Savage as Vice-president, and Miss Eaton as Secretary-treasurer. Since that time the club has steadily grown under the excellent guidance of Professor Peet until it now enjoys a position of great importance among campus activities.

The purpose of the club is to foster greater interest in Chemistry and to keep in touch with the modern chemical world. Some very interesting meetings are held from which facts are gathered that time does not permit to be presented in the class room. One of the outstanding events of the year is a trip to one of the nearby cities for the purpose of visiting the industrial plants to gain a clearer conception of the application of Chemistry to modern industry.

The Euclidean Society was reorganized November 15, 1923, by a large and enthusiastic group of Mathematics Students. The number of members has steadily increased until the organization has become one of the largest on the Campus.

The aim of the club is to promote the interest in the scientific study of Mathematics. The Society began this year's activities October 14, at which time the officers were elected and the committees appointed.

The programs for the regular meetings have been interesting as well as instructive, consisting mostly of mathematical games and puzzles, and reports on mathematical magazines and journals. During the holiday season the club enjoyed a Christmas party, Santa being present with his pack well filled. In March, St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by a banquet at the Methodist Church. The closing event of the year was a picnic held at Recreation Park.

The enthusiasm and spirit of the members of the organization have at all times been the best, and hopes of accomplishing much more during the ensuing years are entertained by all. Plans are being studied so that the future members will be better fitted for the improvement of the curricula and the organization of clubs in the various Junior and Senior High Schools. Within a short time the Society hopes to be a vital force, not only on the Campus, but also throughout the schools of the State.

HISTORY CLUB

Every year the Campus witnesses the mushroom-like growth of a number of clubs in which interest is soon lost and the very names are forgotten. The History Club, however, has grown steadily since its organization in 1913 and bids fair to continue to hold its position of importance. The meetings are carefully planned so as to be not only social, but cultural. Two illustrated talks on historical places of interest and an account of a recent trip to Europe were given to encourage travel. The unusual art exhibit of the Dutch masters of the seventeenth century at the Detroit Art Museum proved particularly interesting. The banquets given at Starkweather were very jolly affairs. The annual trips to Port Huron and Lansing were most enjoyable.

This year the Club is endeavoring to bring before the public the Yale University Press, historically accurate motion pictures based on the American Nation series. The Columbus group is to be presented.

The book exchange instituted by the History Club is of real service to the student body. Used books are bought, sold and exchanged, with the result that the student is saved considerable expense. This project has been confined so far to histories, but there is no reason why it should not be extended in the future.

Altogether it has been a most profitable and active year, one that we may look back upon with much pride and pleasure. May the Club be more and more successful each year.

The Kindergarten Primary Club is the largest club on the campus, the members of it being all those on the Kindergarten Primary Curriculum.

The activities of the club throughout the year of 1924-25 have been a pleasure to all who have attended. The first social event occurred early in the fall when the Sophomores entertained the Frosh at a weenie roast at the River Brink. By that time a Hallowe'en party was in order. This was held at Starkweather Hall on the 28th of October.

It has been the custom of this club to have at least two dances during the year, one coming in the fall or winter and one in the spring. Hence on November 14th we had a party in the West Gym. On account of a storm on the evening of December 9th the Christmas party at Prospect Kindergarten was not well attended; however, those who were there were entertained by music, games, story-telling, and last but not least, each one received a red and white-striped candy cane.

Our pot-luck supper on February 17th in the Home Economics lunch room was given to celebrate Miss Skinner's birthday. After the supper Mrs. Olander, of the Speech department, read and recited several children's poems, and discussed the good and bad points of each.

One very interesting and rather different feature of the year was a meeting with the Physical Education Club and Home Economics Club at Starkweather, March 10th. Our club members acted as the hostesses on that occasion. We were very fortunate that evening to have the Nutrition Instructor of the Merrill-Palmer School of Detroit, here to speak to us.

Our spring party was held April 24th at the Masonic temple. With it closes the record of the Kindergarten Primary Club of the year 1924-25. As a whole, it has been a successful year, and we hope the Kg. girls next year will enjoy the activities of the Club as much as we this year have enjoyed them.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

The Physical Education Club consists of the instructors and students of the Physical Education Department. The purpose of this club is to bring the members of the department together socially and to promote interests, enthusiasm and co-operation among the faculty and students of the department. The club is unusually large this year due to the increase in this department.

A student council has been organized to help settle any problems of the department. A standard system of marking has been adopted and an effort is being made to raise the scholarship of the Physical Education Department.

The club has had many parties and business meetings where recognized physical education leaders have imparted facts of value to the students of physical education. One of the enjoyable features of the year was the teaching of "Old Folk Dances" to the club, by Miss Grace Ryan, of Mt. Pleasant, a former instructor in Physical Education at M. S. N. C.

The most recently added department of the Normal College is that of Special Education. Its object is to prepare students for the profession of teaching exceptional children, those who are super-typical, sub-typical, crippled, deaf, or blind. It is for the prospective teachers of these children that Lambda Tau Sigma was organized. This fraternity aims to unite its members by the bond of brotherly love, to stimulate character development, to promote social and intellectual culture, to inspire interest and enthusiasm, and to foster the professional spirit of the department for which it was organized.

Active membership is offered to those specializing in the work for exceptional children, honorary membership to those who have contributed in a real sense to the work of the department, and associate membership to those taking at least one subject in the department, and who are interested in the work to the extent that they are willing to abide by the constitution and by-laws of the fraternity.

The year of 1924-5 has been a most delightful one for the members of the Laonian Dramatic Society. The program for the meetings which were held twice a month have been varied, and interesting.

Some of the first evenings were spent in the study of the influences affecting the drama, the movements of the modern drama, and the "Little Theatre" movement. Next several one-act plays were read. On December 2nd, Professor Pearce invited the Laonians to attend The Little Theatre of Ypsilanti with her. Another evening was well spent when some of the members dramatized the play "Joint Owner in Spain," by Alice Brown. Some of the noted plays of 1922-3 were read, and other plays presented were: "The Old Soak" by Don Marquis, "Merton of the Movies" by Kaufman and Connelly, and "You and I" by Phillip DuBarry. Some of the Russian plays were also taken up. The members were not content with just the reading of plays, but were eager to try their own skill in writing. Much ability along this line was discovered and several fine plays were written by the members. One of these plays was chosen for presentation at the Kollege Komedy. The evening on which Miss Eckert gave a report of some famous play which she had the privilege of seeing while in New York during the summer of 1924 was a most worth-while one. In March a few of the members left the campus to take teaching positions. A farewell tea was given for these girls.

Impressive pledging and initiation ceremonies were held in the spring of 1925 when several new girls were taken into membership. Two evenings of entertainment were given for these girls — one evening a hike and a picnic were indulged in, and another evening was spent at The Little Theatre of Ypsilanti, where the old members put on three one-act plays, namely, "Thursday Evening" by Christopher Morley, "Punk" or "The Amateur Rehearsal" by Henry Clapp Smith, and "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Down.

Altogether the Laonians feel that the year has been a most profitable one for them.

MEN'S UNION

OFFICERS

Edwin Stahl, President
Elwood Watson, Vice-President

Plynn Matthews, Secretary
Charles Lappeus, Treasurer

Forming a permanent organization under a constitution designed to bridge the gap which has existed in past years between the Spring and Fall activities, participating in an "everybody vote" rally conducted by the citizens of Ypsilanti, engineering an all-college trip to the football game at Albion, putting on a men's mixer in the gymnasium, and developing school spirit generally — these have been the accomplishments of the Normal College Men's Union for the school year 1924-25.

Edwin Stahl, a senior, was president of the Union for the year. He was assisted by Elwood Watson, vice-president, Plynn Matthews, secretary, and Charles Lappeus, treasurer. Mr. Stahl, a member of the debating team, exercised his office in a fearless, aggressive manner, both in doing business of the Union and in the debates of the Student Council.

The Men's Union, two hundred strong, took part in a political rally, held by a combination of the three major political parties in Ypsilanti, the Friday before November 4. The rally began with a parade, which formed down-town and marched to Pease Auditorium for a mass meeting. The Normal College men met at the gymnasium, where they got kerosene and red-fire torches. Going down Cross Street on the double in order to arrive at the appointed place on time, the men lustily whooped "Gump for President" and "Hooligan for Sheriff," much to the amusement of the natives who watched from windows and porches. Stretching out their lines as far as possible, and hurling college yells at the crowd, the men made a big showing in the parade.

"And remember, men, steal all the torches you can lay hands on," came the word down the line. And they did. As the paraders threw away their torches at the end of the march, the Men's Union, in partnership with the local guards, picked them up until they had a pile large enough to supply the men's Union rallies for the next ten year.

The next major operation of the Union was a trip to the football game in Albion, Saturday, November 15. Six Detroit United Railway cars left Brower Street at nine o'clock in the morning, a clear, frosty morning. Arrived in Ann Arbor, everyone raised his window and shouted a rousing greeting to "the City where commerce and education meet," as the trains passed through the business district. The same stunt was pulled off in Jackson.

Upon arriving in Albion shortly after noon, the students formed in line with the band at the head, and marched down the main street of the town to the railroad track. Stopping here, they gave a few warning yells, and dispersed pell-mell to raid the eating houses. The parade reformed immediately after dinner and marched back through town and out to the football field. The game was lost, but the "Ypsi" rooters supported their team to the finish. Leaving shortly after the game, the crowd reached home late in the evening.

The first men's mixer to be held at the Normal College in several years was managed by the Men's Union Thursday evening, January 15, in the West Gymnasium. All the men of the campus, faculty and students, were invited.

The affair opened with a buffet luncheon, arranged for by Del Morse. The program, arranged by Floyd Groves, consisted of a boxing match, a wrestling match and short talks by faculty and students. Over five hundred men were present.

In order that the Men's Union might be made a more permanent organization a constitution and by-laws were drawn up and adopted. The constitution provides that every man enrolling in the school shall be a member of the Union. Officers under the new constitution will be elected in the Spring. The general government and direction of the organization is under an executive board, consisting of the president of the Union, two members from the senior class, two members from the juniors, two from the sophomores, and one from the freshmen (the latter elected in the fall, whereas the other are elected in the spring). The executive board will nominate officers of the Union.

The constitution was drawn up by a committee composed of Sidney U. Cooper, Prof. James M. Brown, Will H. Irwin, Edwin Stahl, and Walter A. Goudy.

About twenty years ago the Minerva Literary Society was organized as a group whose activities were to be devoted to the study and appreciation of literary works of art. The work of the last two years, 1923-1925, has been entirely in the field of Contemporary Drama, and under the inspiring direction of Miss Alpermann and Miss Vinora Beal, this study has been exceedingly profitable and enjoyable. The policy has been that at each meeting of the Society a play has been read and followed by a general discussion of the writer and his works. In the year 1923-1924 an Alumnae Banquet was given, and this event was repeated in 1924-1925. The banquet was held at the Huron Hotel on May 22.

At the beginning of the Spring term, Frances Lister and Helen Knapp resigned from their respective offices. Those elected to fill their places are:

PORTIA LITERARY SOCIETY

The Portia Literary Society was founded in 1901 as a women's debating society, but time has so changed its original character that it is now purely literary in its aims.

During the past year, a very interesting and profitable study has been made of grand opera. The members of the society have added to their knowledge of Wagner, Verdi, and other great composers. They have sought out the origins of the themes, have learned the stories, and listened to selections from the operas themselves.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC CLUB

The Public School Music Club is composed of the graduate class in public school music, and for several years has been one of the most active organizations on the campus. The meetings are cultural and educational in their scope, as well as social, devoted to topics of professional interest in the development of musical education. Drawn together by a common interest, its members have shown remarkable initiative, an efficient co-operation, a fine spirit and an ability for achievement that will mark the class of 1925 as outstanding in the annals of club history.

THE MICHIGAN TRAILBLAZERS

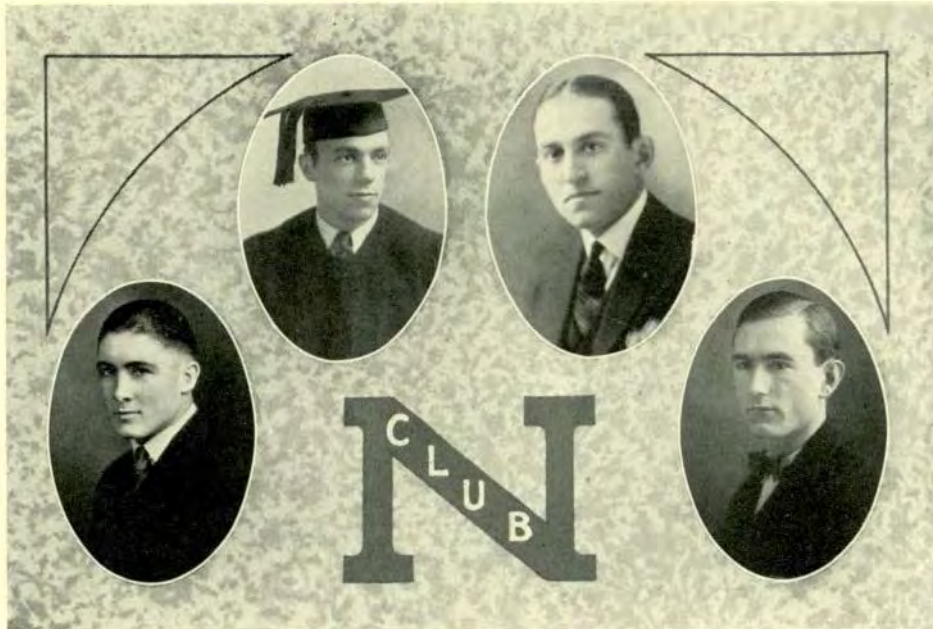

The year 1924-1925 has proved to be the best of the five years of the Michigan Trailblazers. Who are the Trailblazers? One of the most wide-awake, active groups on the Campus, the members of the Rural Education Department. Ever since the club was organized, five years ago, it has been an enterprising, ambitious organization, and, under the able guidance of Miss Ella Smith and Dr. Pittman, has been growing rapidly. This year the members of the club have gained both pleasure and inspiration from the meetings.

Under the direction of its President, Miss Bigge, a varied and interesting series of programs have been presented to the club at its semi-monthly meetings in Starkweather Hall. Beginning with the annual weenie-roast in the Fall, the meetings have been entertaining and profitable. Once during the year the Portia Club presented a program on Faust. A demonstration on Parliamentary Procedure; a reproduction of a Zone Meeting; the telling of the Story of Consolidation in Michigan by Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, G. O. Otwell; a demonstration of the Use of the Victrola in Rural Schools by Miss Alice Keith of Camden, New Jersey; a Christmas party; a dramatization of Correct Table Service and Table Etiquette, and a play by one of the groups have been among the attractions, and many other enjoyable evenings will be spent by the Trailblazers before the Hatchet Sharpener, the last of the club activities, is held in the Spring.

This year, more than ever before, the Trailblazer Club has meant the highest type of enthusiastic, intelligent work in the interest of Rural Schools, and has been one of the professional clubs to represent the highest type of student activity on the Campus.

The Varsity Club is now four years old, and there remains no doubt that it is here to stay. The membership of the club has increased rapidly until there are now about fifty active on the campus, and over a hundred alumni in the field. The Varsity Club is always ready to boost anything of an athletic nature, and this year sponsored a new cause. Under the leadership of Coach "Bingo" Brown, the club initiated the Varsity Club Song Contest, offering a silver loving cup to the class which should write and present the best songs for Ypsi. The freshman class won first and third places with two admirable songs. The fourth annual "Spotlight" was given to a capacity house on the evening of April 22nd, and netted the club over three hundred dollars. This money will be expended during the ensuing year in the furtherance of athletics at M. S. N. C.

THE WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Several years ago in 1920, there was formed on the Campus of the Michigan State Normal College, an organization called The Women's League. It was created for the purpose of bringing the women of the college closer together, of maintaining high standards among college women, and of promoting the interests of the women on the Campus. Certainly, the League has succeeded in doing these three things.

It is the largest organization on the Campus, consisting of every woman enrolled in the Michigan State Normal College. The business part of the League is carried on by the Cabinet, in co-operation with the Central Board. The Cabinet is the "law-making" body, and consists of twenty-three girls, the president of the League, and faculty advisers. The Central Board is made up of the League officers and the presidents of all the rooming houses. The Dean of Women is a member of both.

The Social Committee of the organization has been a very successful one this year. At the first of the Winter Term, a House President's Dinner was given. Speeches by various house presidents and faculty members were given, and each table had songs and peppy yells to offer.

Later in the year, the League gave a "Co-ed Prom." Six hundred and fifty Michigan State Normal College women attended this affair, although half of them were "pseudo-men." All went in bright costume, and the whole thing was a huge success. It was a prom in every sense of the word — good orchestra, dancing, programs, and bright decoration.

The Twilight Hour Talks were continued this year under the name of "The Girls' Forum." Three of the Campus girls, Evelyn Harr, Marion Bessemer, and Helen Lathers, talked at one meeting on "Wherein Our High School Preparation Has Failed Us." Another interesting talk was given by Mr. Gallup of the People's National Bank. Miss Jones, Dean of Women, spoke at the last meeting on "Social Usages."

The Women's League has certainly had a splendid year, and has a very bright outlook for the future. At one of the League meetings, President McKenny made this statement: "The biggest concern with me is how to make the social life of this institution liberal, interesting, and right." This can well be given as the aim for the Women's League. It is the hope of the 1924-1925 girls that the League next year will be as successful in carrying out this aim as it was this season.

Starting with the delegation which went to Lake Geneva as a nucleus, the Young Men's Christian Association has built up a large membership. The first meeting of the year was a reception for all men on the campus. Dr. Pittman spoke and sounded the keynote for the work of the year. During the year President McKenny conducted a Bible class which was most interesting and instructive. Other men on the campus besides members of the "Y" were always in attendance to hear the Book discussed by our President. He dealt with it in its historic composition as well as interpreting it in the light of our present-day thinking.

To better acquaint the students with affairs outside their immediate interest, the officers brought speakers who have presented real present-day questions. Among the speakers were people from foreign countries, some of them students at work here in our colleges as well as members of our own Faculty. The association in its varied activities has worked for the betterment of student life. Co-operating with other organizations on the campus they secured men of national fame who are vitally concerned with student problems.

The Young Women's Christian Association is one of the most active organizations of the college. Starkweather Hall with its cozy rooms is always open to the students on the Campus. As the association looks back upon the past year, it feels that it has done its share of service and has helped to make this Campus a little better.

Among its activities are the Wednesday evening vesper services, where the students are given an opportunity to hear members of the faculty, students from foreign lands and other speakers brought to the Campus by the association. There are also religious education groups under competent leadership which contribute to the spiritual development of the students. The Y. W. C. A. does its part in social service, too, both on the Campus and away from the Campus. Christmas boxes are sent to the Children's Hospital and children's parties are given during the year. The girls will remember with pleasure the delightful and original parties, the teas and the picnics. It is the especial privilege of the Freshman Commission, a group elected from the Freshman class the Fall of each year, to help the Freshman girls to find their places in a new and rather difficult sort of life.

In the Spring, the association entertained the State Cabinet Council with delegates from eleven Michigan Colleges. The local conference was held at North Lake where policies were adopted and plans made for the coming year's work. In the Summer eight delegates were sent to the conference at Lake Geneva. The organization also shares in the work of the national Y. W. C. A. The Alumnae department was organized this year. A monthly Alumnae News Letter is issued and the first Alumnae Breakfast was held May 2. Many former members returned for the occasion which is to be made an annual event.

NORMAL CHOIR

FREDERICK ALEXANDER, Director

An Appreciation of Normal Choir

Paul Stephenson, Assistant Director of Ypsilanti Players

The Normal College Choir has a distinct artistry of its own by which it conveys to one who is of the theatre a quality — not in the flashy meaning of the word — but a quality in imagination and spirit and vision, beyond their almost perfect quality of tone. I would go and go again if only to get that glorious picture that is lifted before you in the Russian piece of Gretchyaninov or that trembles on the old French carols. Mr. Alexander does not conduct his choir in an auditorium, but in little chapels with many, many candles, or in great cathedrals or on lonely snow-swept plains. It is the text when those sounds will ever and again linger luminous in the imagination of those who heard them.

Detroit News Editorial, December 12, 1924

"A certain garment of the enthusiasm invests a notable choir and among the very first choirs in this country is the Ypsilanti Normal, which Frederick Alexander has brought to such a proud place of national repute. It does not need the fillip of local pride to commemorate the rise of this splendid organization for it may be mentioned in any company and in music centers far removed from Michigan with the assurance that prompt and hearty recognition will be forthcoming.

"Once a year the choir comes to Detroit to join the Symphony Orchestra in a program of Christmas music, and once every year the walls are not wide enough to hold those who wish to share such a double seasonal feast. This Sunday will be no exception and a right good thing it is that we know how to appreciate our own."

Detroit Times (Ralph Holmes)

"As per custom, it was Christmas music of the church, though of many different centuries, that engaged them; but, thanks to the skill and magnetism of their conductor and trainer, their material was never as dull as only church music can sometimes be. . . . Two of the numbers had to be repeated, a positively thrilling 'Gospodi Pomilui' by Lvovsky and an old French Noel, sung in rapid tempo and a kind of prolonged ecstasy."

Detroit Free Press (Eugene Leuchtman)

"The Normal singers set an enviable mark in choral singing. Young voices, fresh, ardent, hailed the coming Yuletide in Orchestra Hall, Sunday. . . . The appearance of the Normal Choir under the direction of Frederick Alexander, has been for three years an annual event with the Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Alexander, with each succeeding year, shows better his remarkable ability to guide the voices of a chorus, individually untrained, through the mazes of the intricate liturgical music of the Russians and of Palestina, and the musical artistry which stamp him as among the foremost conductors and choir coaches in the country."

NORMAL STRING QUARTETTE

Edward Mosher.....	First Violin
Gertrude Estes.....	Cello
Paul Tammi.....	Viola
Russell Gwinnell.....	Second Violin

Normal String Quartet is the most important Chambers music organization on the campus. Edward Mosher, who plays first violin, is the artistic director. The quartet has appeared at numerous college functions where it invariably has been well received. The College is fortunate in that the personnel will remain unchanged next season. Few conservatories can boast so delightful an asset as a first-class string quartet.

KOLLEGE KOMEDY

The Kollege Komedy was held as usual under the direction of a committee of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. members, Thursday and Friday evenings, May 7 and 8. Eighteen different organizations presented acts, nine each night.

The work on the Kollege Komedy began the middle of February, when the first call for briefs was sent out. By March 20, thirty-five briefs — twice as many as had been handed in the year before — had been handed in. Because not more than twenty at most could be used, a meeting of representatives of the organizations submitting briefs was called to decide upon the best method of eliminating some. Several, but not enough, withdrew voluntarily. The committee in charge was advised by the representatives at the meeting to reject the briefs of those who had put on acts the year before, and thus to work out a system under which each organization would hereafter put on an act every two years.

This was done, and the number of organizations was cut to twenty. Before the final performance two more withdrew, leaving eighteen in the final performances.

A committee of five directed the Komedy this year. It was composed of President Hilda Schweir, of the Y. W. C. A., President Henry Johnson, of the Y. M. C. A., R. R. Ryder, who served especially as dramatic critic, Marie Laing, who served especially as music and dramatic critic, and Leon Wilber, business manager; Francis Lister, president-elect of the Y. M. C. A. assisted in directing the moving of stage equipment.

The organizations who presented acts were the following:

SORORITY COUNCIL

The Sorority Council is composed of a faculty member or patroness, a freshman representative and the president of each sorority. The offices of the organization are filled by the sorority presidents in annual sequence, the order of service being determined by the installation dates of the various organizations. The council legislate upon rushing, pledging, initiation and the standards of scholarship required of sorority members. It considers standards in social customs and the desirable regulation of social activities.

Chi Delta is completing its eleventh year of existence. The years have dealt happily with us. We feel that the ideals handed down to us by our predecessors have been preserved in a worthy manner. The Pearl, Ruby and Sapphire gleam for us with all of their wonted splendor, exemplifying the qualities for which Chi Delta stands. We are satisfied with the record made on the campus this year, and we hope that succeeding years will uphold the fraternity traditions.

In the Fall of nineteen hundred twenty-four the Kappa Phi Alpha Fraternity started on its twenty-third year of activities on the Michigan State Normal College Campus. Twenty men were back to help in building the organization which stands for all-around men.

The inter-fraternity Council was abolished early in the Fall term, which did away with all rules of pledging. However, Kappa Phi Alpha was in no hurry to pick out the men it wished to have as members for the coming years. After some deliberation fourteen men were pledged and entertained at the annual pledge party at the Country Club on November first.

When the Winter term started the fraternity found a few of its pledges were among the missing or had not made the marks necessary to become a member. Eleven men donned old clothes and took the informal initiation on January twentieth. The formal initiation occurred on January twenty-third and the annual initiation banquet at the Huron that evening. Many of the older brothers were back for that occasion to renew their old acquaintances and meet those who had recently become active members.

The 1924 football season for the Michigan State Normal College under the guidance of Head Coach Brown and Assistants McCulloch and McKenny was a success in an athletic way. The main object of athletics is the training of the mind and body to develop men and women and prepare them for the bigger things ahead. Then any season of athletics that has been carried on in a sportsmanlike way and has improved the physical condition of the players has been a decided success.

Captain Watson piloted the team thru the season with only two victories, the one with Kalamazoo and the final with Olivet, when the Normal won 12 to 6. Nevertheless, the eleven men never failed to play a game clean and according to their usual high standard. Twenty-one men received the football award and six more the reserve award. Of this group of twenty-seven men, nineteen are returning to Michigan State Normal and will make a team so excellent that other M. I. A. A. Schools will have hard work to maintain their places in the association. When the All M. I. A. A. Team was picked, Ypsilanti had one man, Elwood Watson, who received the distinction of being made a member. Captain Watson expects to be back at school next year, and he will do his part in keeping the M. S. N. C. among the leading colleges in the state. Tuefor was elected to captain the team next Fall.

BASKETBALL

1924-1925

The chances for a championship basketball team were exceptionally good early in the season. The team was organized a few weeks before Christmas. They played three games before the holidays with three victories. None of these games, however, were M. I. A. A. games. After nearly three weeks of vacation the men assembled again to find that their condition was much worse than before Christmas. In fact, one man was in such shape that he was never able to play the fast game he could before the holidays. Coach McCulloch worked diligently for weeks trying to get the men into condition and hitting the stride they had set earlier in the season.

Hillsdale was the first association game and gave the Normal an advantage because it was on their own floor. After some exertion, the Green and White squad came thru victorious. The next week they met Alma and defeat by a score nearly double theirs. From then on it was a series of victories and losses until Olivet, Hillsdale and Alma each had put away a victory. The total schedule consisted of twenty-one games of which Ypsilanti won ten and lost eleven, giving a percentage of nearly 50. Some of the men upon whom McCulloch had counted as his leading point-makers were unable to stay in the game and new men had to be started in mid-season. Eleven men were given letters for the winter sport. Most of these men will be back next year and with James Barclay as captain, the students have a right to expect a pennant winner.

CROSS-COUNTRY

1924

Cross Country as a sport with a regular schedule and a championship team has been inaugurated at the M. S. N. C. The season in the Fall of 1924 under the guidance of Coach Olds was a decided success and has come to the Campus to stay. For the first time in the history of the College the Green and White Cross-Country team won the M. I. A. A. Meet at Alma. The other association teams were represented, but Coach Olds' men had little trouble in finishing in the first five places, which gave them the least number of points and allowed them to bring home the long-sought-for banner. Next year the team will lose only one of its members and will no doubt repeat its former successes.

CROSS-COUNTRY SCHEDULE AND RESULTS

- M. I. A. A. meet at Alma, won by M. S. N. C.
- Inter-collegiate meet at East Lansing, second place by M. S. N. C.
- A. A. U. meet at Detroit, M. S. N. C. reserve, second place.

First Row—Ralph Burrett, Thomas Lawrence, D. H. Morse, Earl N. Risky (Coach), Phillip Teufor, Hazen Herkimer, Homer Fisk.

Fourth Row—Wilbur Ballbach.

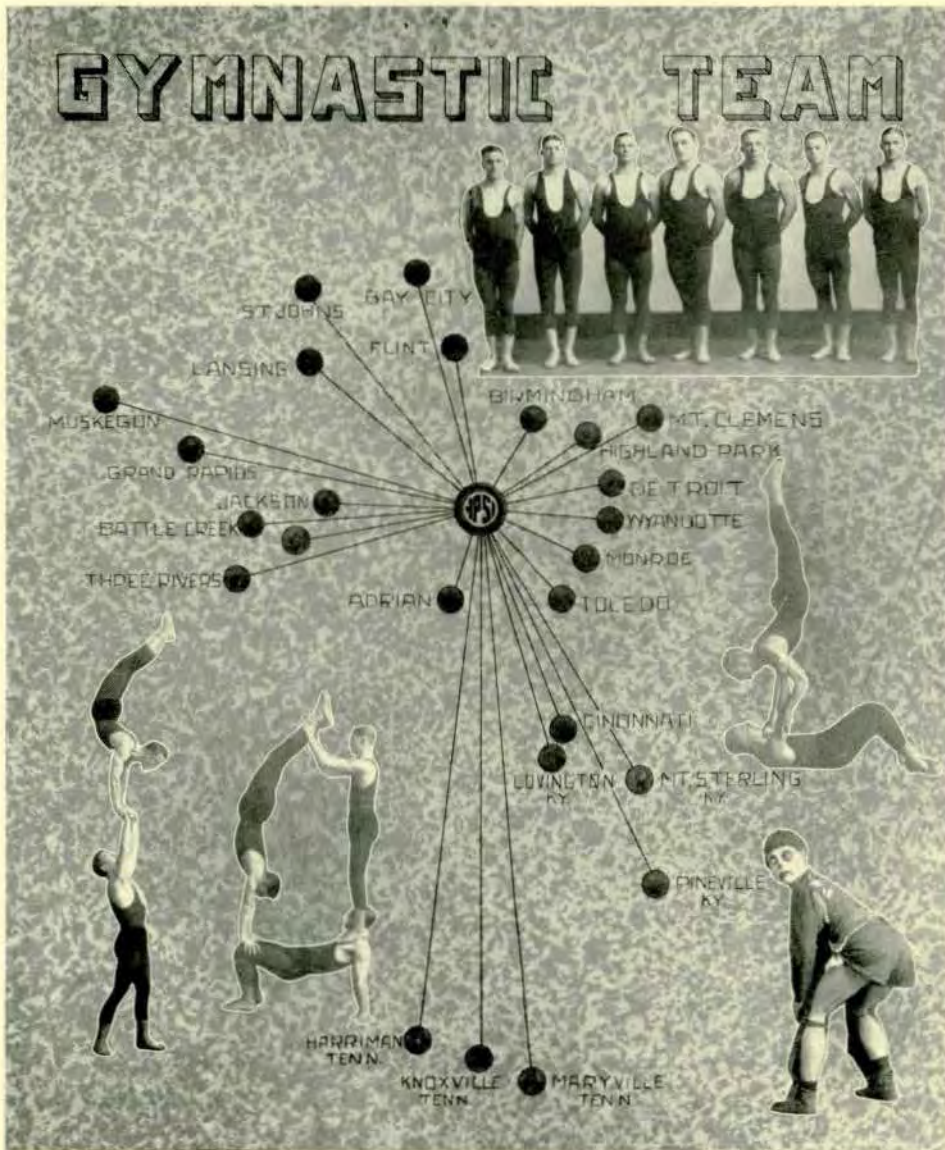

SWIMMING

Coach Risky called his swimmers together soon after the Christmas holidays and a group of about thirty men answered the call. Eight of this group were veterans from last year's tank team while the rest were all newcomers. Captain Cooper who had won most of the backstroke races last year, was back in good form and helped round the team into shape for the first meet at M. A. C. It was an easy victory for the Aggies, but the next meet was with Toledo "Y," and a real battle was staged. Toledo took the meet by a small margin and in the return meet with Toledo, Ypsilanti was able to cut the margin down to six points. Detroit City College defeated the Normal Swimmers in two meets later in the season and then Ypsilanti won a dual meet with Hillsdale.

Swimming is not yet a major sport at the Michigan State Normal College, but bids fair to become one in the near future. Present arrangements will not permit a very large number of spectators to view the home meets. The erection of a new gymnasium with a larger pool and bleachers to accommodate those interested, will no doubt help to give the sport the prominence it deserves.

GYMNASTIC TEAM

The M. S. N. C. Gymnasium Team under the coaching of Earl N. Risky has completed a very successful season. The gym team has been organized for the last few years and during that time have entertained many people about the State of Michigan besides large crowds in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. During the past season they gave forty entertainments in twenty-three different cities before 40,000 people in four different states and traveled 4,000 miles. The advertising they have done for the Michigan State Normal College is almost too great to be estimated.

Track at the Michigan State Normal College has come to be one of the most important of the major sports. Since Coach Olds came to Ypsilanti, the Normal track team has come to be one of the most feared in the state.

During the past three years the Green and White thin clads have won every dual meet and have taken the M. I. A. A. championship for the last two years. The chances this year are just as good as ever before and the association meet held at Hillsdale this year will give them another opportunity to take the title.

Among the Michigan Colleges with which M. S. N. C. competes in track sports, Detroit City College rates the highest and, while Coach Olds' men were able to take the indoor meet with the Detroit boys, nothing is certain about the outdoor meet with that school. The score will be close whoever wins, but a single victory for the visitors will not hinder Captain Peel and his men from taking the association honors at Hillsdale June 5 and 6.

The great success which the track teams of the Normal College have met with may be accredited to the strict training rules to which Coach Olds holds his men.

BASEBALL

1925

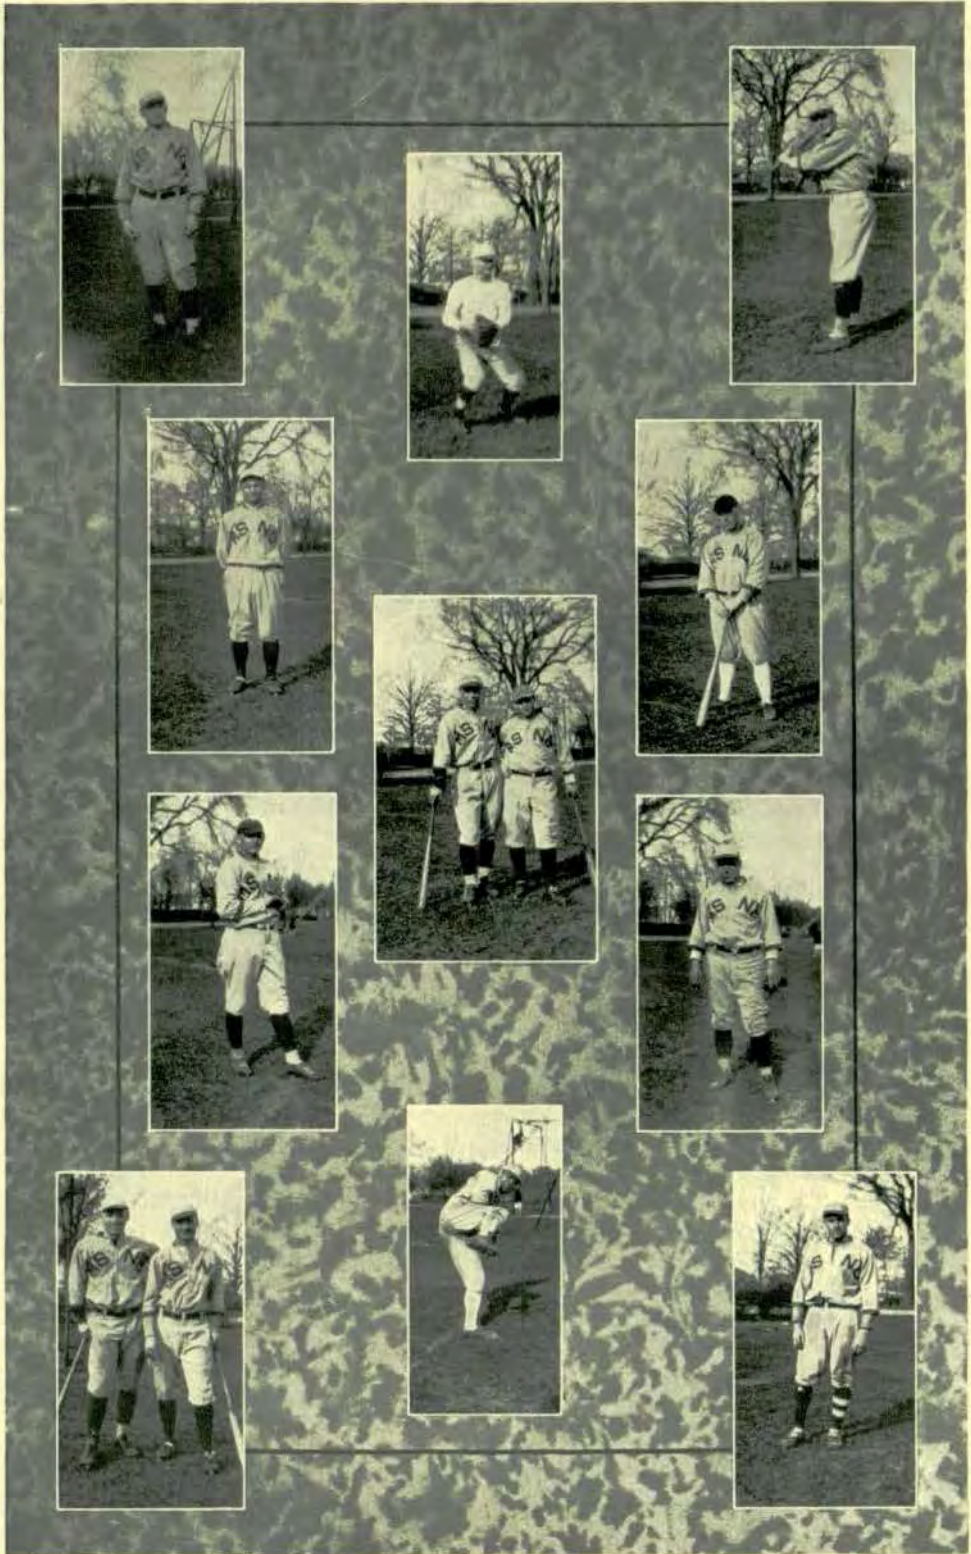

Coach McCulloch called his candidates out early in the Spring while the pitchers had been working out in the gymnasium long before the snow was gone. The number of aspirants that reported for early practice was exceedingly large and soon the squad was cut to the twenty-five which were most promising. Coach McCulloch worked diligently with the men through the entire season and won the first two association games, but Alma with her veteran nine, gave the title seekers defeat early in the season at Ypsilanti, and then again in the return game stopped Captain Patterson and his warriors by a one-run margin. At present Ypsilanti Normal has a chance for the title, but to have any claim our men must win every association game left on the schedule. This includes two games with Hilldale which holds first place at present and one with Olivet, Albion and Kalamazoo. This feat is possible and would allow the Green and White nine a title in two successive years.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM

Here is our first Girls' Hockey Team, a winning one, too. First we engaged in some inter-class games in which the sophomores came out ahead. Then, about the sixth week of the fall term this group of girls played a hard game with Detroit Teachers' College on our field and won. Three cheers for our first hockey team!

GIRLS' SWIMMING TEAM

This year the Girls' Swimming Team has made a brilliant record. First the girls went to the State Inter-collegiate Meet at M. A. C., the first of its kind in Michigan for women, and won everything in sight. Next, they made February the 13th a lucky day for M. S. N. C., by coming out first in a meet with Detroit Teachers' College, the score being 35 to 32. Later, on April 17th, the girls enjoyed a week-end at Toledo, taking first place in their meet with a score of 40.5 to 9.5. In the meets that are coming at the time of this writing, we have no fear for our record-making swimmers!

SPECIALIZING GIRLS' MEET

The annual Physical Education Girls' Meet occurring on the fifth of March this year furnished plenty of excitement. It was run off in a very efficient manner, and is considered the most successful meet we have ever had. First place in the broad jump, posture improvement and post ball went to the Freshmen. The Sophomores were better in high jump, folk dance and baton relay. Five minutes before the end, the score was so close that it was the very last point in the volley ball game which finally gave the meet to the Freshmen. Everyone was pleased by the fine spirit shown by the two classes.

GENERAL GIRLS' MEET

On Wednesday, February 25th, the general students had their meet with gymnasium classes W 1, 2 and 3, competing with W 5, 7 and 9. Combination pass ball, swinging target for baseball, hop-step-and-jump, run and catch relay, basketball distance throw, folk dance, kick-ball, and posture improvement made up the events. Victory went to W 5, 7 and 9 after a hard-fought contest. Much enthusiasm was shown among the general students and it is hoped that this interest will grow until each girl on the campus is eager to take part in the annual meet.

DANSE DIVERTISSEMENT

Students of the Dance, Department of Physical Education, M. S. N. C.

This Dance Program is based on two years of work and research by Miss Naffz and her students, attempting to determine the place of the Dance in college and community life and at the same time endeavoring to discover the function of the college and the community in the development of the Dance as an art.

It is felt very strongly that the Dance has great possibilities as an educational medium. Besides the usual refining influence of art study, there is specifically in the Dance an opportunity to aid and maintain the finest bodily growth and development, an opportunity to give habits of healthy and beautiful movement for daily life, and lastly, a much-needed opportunity to correlate physical activity with intellectual and aesthetic tastes.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is an organization composed of students chosen from each class and from the various organizations on the campus to represent them in the administration of the College. The Council was organized about ten years ago, and since that time it has been ready to recognize the benefit which can be derived from establishing close co-operation between faculty and undergraduate.

The Council has two outstanding aims, one of which is to act as a medium of communication between the student body and the Normal College Council. It endeavors to find the thought and sentiment of the student body regarding college matters, and to bring to the Normal Council such suggestions and recommendations as may seem best to the Student Council. The Council also endeavors to preserve the useful traditions and customs of the college and to establish such new ones as promise to be for the welfare of the student body.

After each organization had elected its officers last November, the Student Council organized with the following officers:

Paul Ward	President
Imogene Manion	Vice-President
Lurene Prouse	Secretary
Frank Manley	Treasurer

Other members of the Council are: Seniors — Ralph Carpenter, Carlotta Corpron, Robert Peel and Helen Lathers; Juniors — La Verne Miller, Paul K. Ward, Imogene Manion and Lurene Prouse; Sophomores — Maurice Pederson, Eugene Knapp, Morley Hough and Josephine Manchester; Freshmen — John Burridge, Margaret Grant, Helen Squier and Carl Pray.

Y. W. C. A. — Hilda Schwier; Y. M. C. A. — Jacob Weitzel, and Henry Johnson; Women's League — Ruth Bayler, Eva Sheridan, Virginia Bonser, Helen Pointer and Margaret Piper; Men's Union — Edwin Stahl; Normal News — Carl Erikson.

ALUMNI NOTES

25 YEARS HENCE

RALPH CARPENTER IS IN BUSINESS. HE HAS A SHINING FUTURE BEFORE HIM.

ART WALKER IS CLEANING UP ON RAILROAD STOCK

DAVE MACPHERSON -28
+ B.H.

COLONEL GILLESPIE IS WORKING FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

CARL ERIKSON IS MAKING HIS PILE IN WALL STREET.

KENNETH MEADE HAS HELPED BUILD SOME OF THE LARGEST CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS IN THE WORLD.

A class was asked to write a theme of 150 words on an automobile and one small boy handed in the following:

"Once my uncle bought a car and took it out in the country about fifteen miles when it stopped. This is only about twenty-five words, but the other one hundred and twenty-five are what my uncle said walking back to town and they aren't fit to write."

* * *

Heard at the Normal Cafeteria: Waiter, bring me a spoon.
Don't have 'em, sir. Too many swiped. Cheaper for the orchestra to provide stirring music.

Manley: This steak reminds me of a co-ed.
Weeber: Why?
Frank: Darned good-looking, but inclined to be a bit tough.

Little Boy: Look ma, the circus has come to town; there's one of the clowns.
Ma: Hush, darling, that's not a clown. That's just a college man.

Frosh: I certainly enjoyed that dance.
Co-ed: I'm so glad. I feel now that I lost these slippers in good cause.

* * *

Mr. Hover: Tell me the use of spades, Mr. Loose—
"Tipper" Loose: None whatever, unless they're trumps.

Cashier: I can't cash this check. Your account is overdrawn.
Co-ed: Oh, that's all right. Just make me out a new account.

Have you seen our snappy ties?—(Railroad adv.)

* * *

Heard at a football game:
Co-ed: What is the score?
Innocent: Our team just knocked a home run in the fifth quarter making the score 6-3.

Eat bananas and hang around with the bunch.

* * *

G. O'G.: What is the liability of a stockholder, Mr. Rice?
Fat: Liable to lose his stock.

Weitzel: I just oiled this cylinder.
Meade: Yes you did! That was my eye.

"Yes," remarked the Frosh as he gazed affectionately into the mirror, "all great men are dead, and I am getting sick."

* * *

Ticket Salesman: Sorry, sir, I have nothing left but two single seats in different parts of the house.

Eddie Stahl: Good. I'll take 'em. I'm going to bring my wife.

Co-ed: Why did they stop that man from running with the ball?
Soph: They did not want him to make a goal.
Co-ed: But I thought the object of the game was to make goals.
Soph: Yes, but he was running toward the wrong goal. He is on the other side.
Co-ed: Well, I can't see why they have to knock him down to tell him about it. Everybody makes mistakes.

By the unfortunate substitution of "n" for "r" in the report of his marriage in a country newspaper, a certain clergyman was styled the "Neverend Mr.—"

Prof. T. L. (To Math. II student who has placed his feet on the bench in front of him): Take your feet down, please, so I can see what you look like.

The student complies.

Prof. T. L.: That's sufficient. Put them back up, please.

* * *

Byron Boyd: I intend to work on a paper when I graduate.

Erik: What route do you want?

*Archie was a liar
He lied in myth and song,
E'en when he was a-dying,
He lied abed too long.*

*He somehow got to heaven,
Slipped in beneath the wire,
But when he joined the angels
They handed him a lyre.—O. S. D.*

Frosh: Why does a cat whine?

Senior: If you had as many violin strings in you as a cat has you would whine, too.

* * *

Professor Pray: Mr. Seynhaeve, who are the three greatest Americans?

Gerard (attempting to look at the "pony" on inside coat pocket): "Er, Hart Schaffner and Marx."

The Dean is my shepherd; I shall not flunk.

She maketh me to stay in on weeknights; she forceth me to keep quiet hours.

She maketh me to sign out; she leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for my parents' sake.

Yea, though I sign out for the lib, and go to the movies, I will fear no evil; for thou aren't with me; thy mob and thy staff won't see me.

Thou preparest an interview with me in the presence of my landlady; thou checkest up on my toil and my marks runneth over.

Surely my week-ends shall be taken from me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house forever.—P.D.R.

Among the boarding-house pests we have known are the guys who get up at five o'clock Sunday morning.

* * *

Heard in a class room:

Instructor: And I said to him, "One of us must be queer."

Bright Student: Which one?

Stude: She said she could read me like a book.

Ditto: Well, I suppose you immediately got red.

People we've been looking for, but haven't met—

(1) The golfer who made a hole-in-one and never even talked about it.

(2) The lady-killer who tells about the time he got left.

(3) The hard-boiled egg that tells about the time he got licked.

(4) A beautiful girl with a kind heart—fond of animals, children, and, more particularly, US, if you gather our meaning.

(5) A prof who never flunked anybody—and didn't break his record on us.

(6) A cigarette that lived up to its ads.

(7) Somebody who is good and doesn't know it—or dumb and does.

(8) An editor who really appreciated our stuff.—C. D.

Bill Clock: Why do you call your flivver "Pyorrhæa?"

Ken. Meade: Because four out of every five have one.

Green-One: "What's a tea-caddy?"

Not-So-Green: "A freshman delegated to chase the things that roll off your knee at any sorority tea."

Prof. Wilson: Why did you use that expression, "pale as a door knob," in your last theme?

F. Hixon: Well, you see, door-knobs are inside so much.

Marriage—the end of the line, with no change.

* * *

"How are you getting along with your girl?"

"She won't speak to me any more. I kissed her, and when she said it wasn't nice, I admitted it.

* * *

Sandwich—an unsuccessful attempt to make both ends meet.

* * *

Mae: How did "Irish" happen to drive his car into the fence?

Ina: He was trying to advance his spark with both hands.

"Say, bo, what is this disease Betes so many people dia?"

* * *

*I don't like my prof. at all,
In fact, I think he's punk.
He sharpened his pencil with my knife
To mark me down a flunk.—S. C. W.*

*The moon is brighter in the spring;
The thoughts are lighter by a few.
The hopes are lighter in the spring;
And the pocket is lighter, too.*

First Co-ed: I'm crazy about Wordsworth.

Another: I can't see why you are, you haven't a chance with him.

* * *

"My name is Johnston," one said, extending his hand. "I'm a painter; work in oils chiefly."

"Well," exclaimed another, "I'm an artist also; I work in bronze."

"This is fine," a third chimed in, "I'm a sculptor; I work in stone."

Then the quiet member, who had been inclined to keep apart, stepped up with a smile: "Glad to see all of you, gentlemen, for I have common interest with you. My name is Lyman; I'm a professor at M. S. N. C.; I work in Ivory."

Mother: I wouldn't play the piano so soon after your grandfather's death.

Ethel: That will be all right, mother. I only intended to use the black keys.

There's just a few degrees between a liberal education and a college education.

* * *

A. L.: "Hey, bozo, why don't you brush your shoes once in a while?"

Bennett: "There's no hair on my shoes."

* * *

Minister: My mission is to save young men.

Old Maid: So glad to meet you. Save me one.

* * *

"When I was in danger from a lion," said the explorer, "I tried sitting down and staring at him, as I had no weapons."

"How did it work?" asked his companion.

"Perfectly. The lion didn't even offer to touch me."

"Strange! How do you account for it?"

"Well, sometimes I've thought it was because I sat on the top branch of a very tall tree."

* * *

Jefferson Hoxie: You're the biggest dumb-bell in the college.

"Red" Shaughnessy: Aw, go on, you are."

Prof. Sherzer: Boys, boys, don't forget I'm here.

*There was an old fellow named Dante
Who lived in an Italian shanty;
And I've heard it tell,
He got ideas for "Hell,"
When he lost in the game, penny-ante.—T. R.*

Ann: Algy is such a good boy.
Sal: Do say.
Ann: Yes. He never fails to say "please" and "thank you" when he leaves.

* * *

Mrs. McGinnis: I'm afraid, Mr. McCann, that your husband is a follower of Bacchus.
Mrs. McCann: A follower, ye say! Sure he's come up wid him and passed him long ago.

Polite Sheik (while it's raining): "May I offer my umbrella and my company?"
Co-ed: "Thank you very much. I will take only the umbrella."

He: What a lovely ring. May I hold it a minute?
She: But I can't get it off.
He: Oh, that's all right.

* * *

Kirk Seaton: I'm a little stiff from bowling.
Erikson: Where did you say you were from?

* * *

Mary: Is Bill a good egg?
Frances: No, he's too fresh.

* * *

Laverne Miller: How long can you live without brains?
Ruth Bayler: I don't know. How old are you?

Teacher: Who invented the steam engine?
Gus Zielke: What?
Teacher: That's right. Now tell me—

YE ENGRAVER OF OLD

with his small tools and his piece of box wood spent days, yea sometimes weeks, in the production of a single illustration requiring much skill and patience.

are made photo mechanically with the use of modern photographic apparatus and the aid of chemistry. But it depends just as much upon the skill of the artisans as in the days of old.

Your illustrations—be it a school book or a catalog, if intrusted to us, will be given careful attention so that the finished printed page may truly convey the illustration you wish to produce.
