THE NINETEEN TWENTY SEVEN
AURORA

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF
MICHIGAN STATE NORMAL COLLEGE

Dedicated to

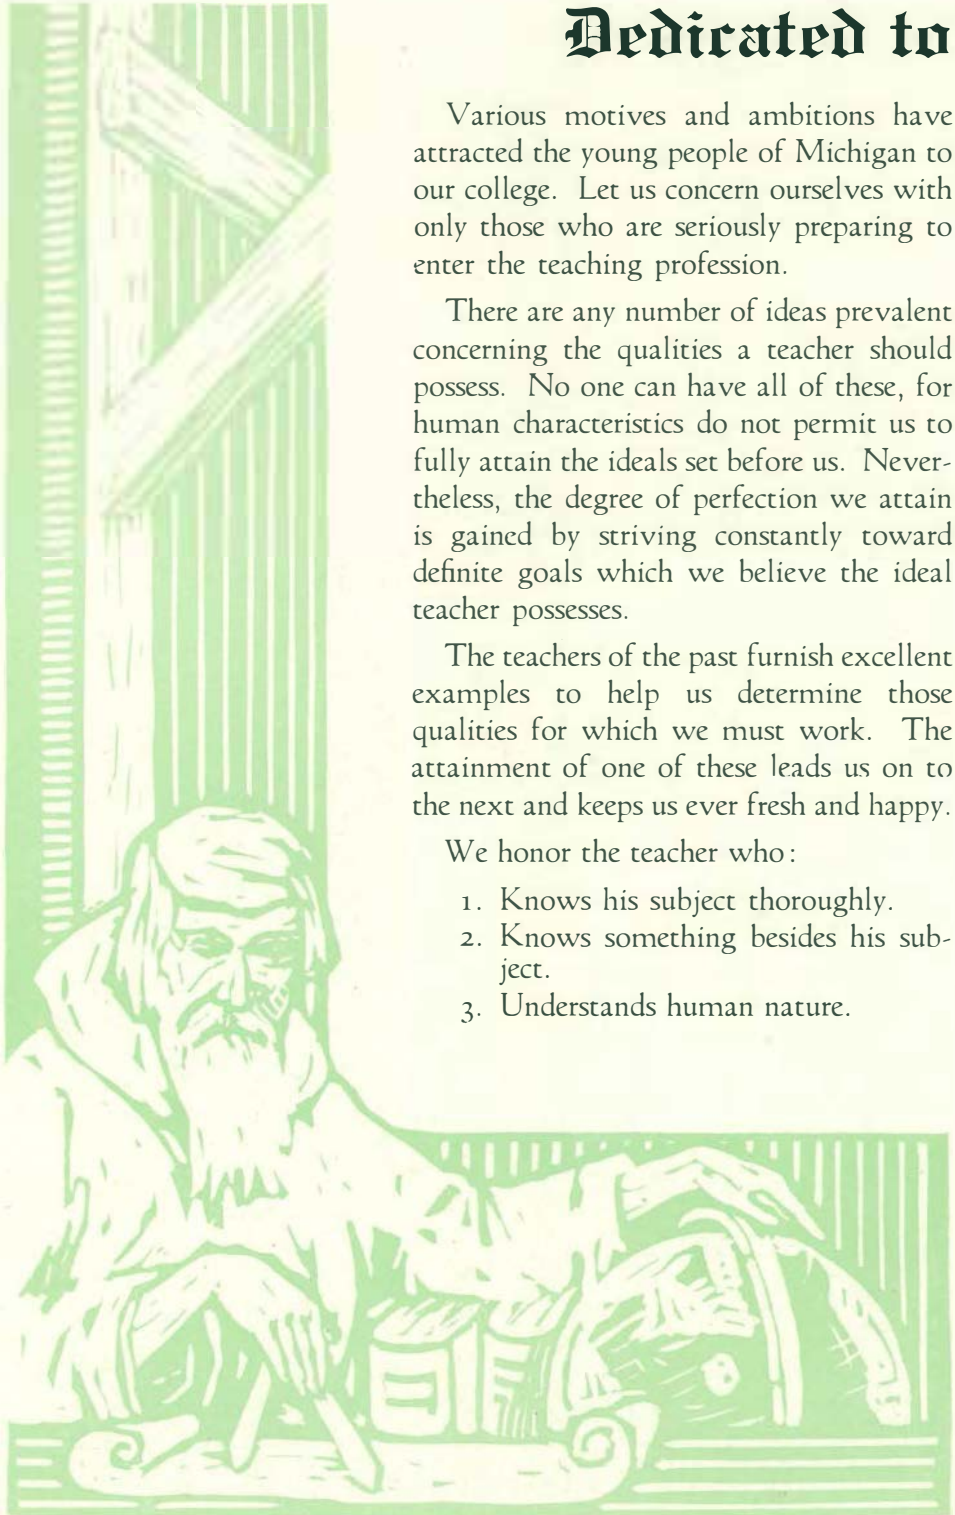

Various motives and ambitions have attracted the young people of Michigan to our college. Let us concern ourselves with only those who are seriously preparing to enter the teaching profession.

There are any number of ideas prevalent concerning the qualities a teacher should possess. No one can have all of these, for human characteristics do not permit us to fully attain the ideals set before us. Nevertheless, the degree of perfection we attain is gained by striving constantly toward definite goals which we believe the ideal teacher possesses.

The teachers of the past furnish excellent examples to help us determine those qualities for which we must work. The attainment of one of these leads us on to the next and keeps us ever fresh and happy.

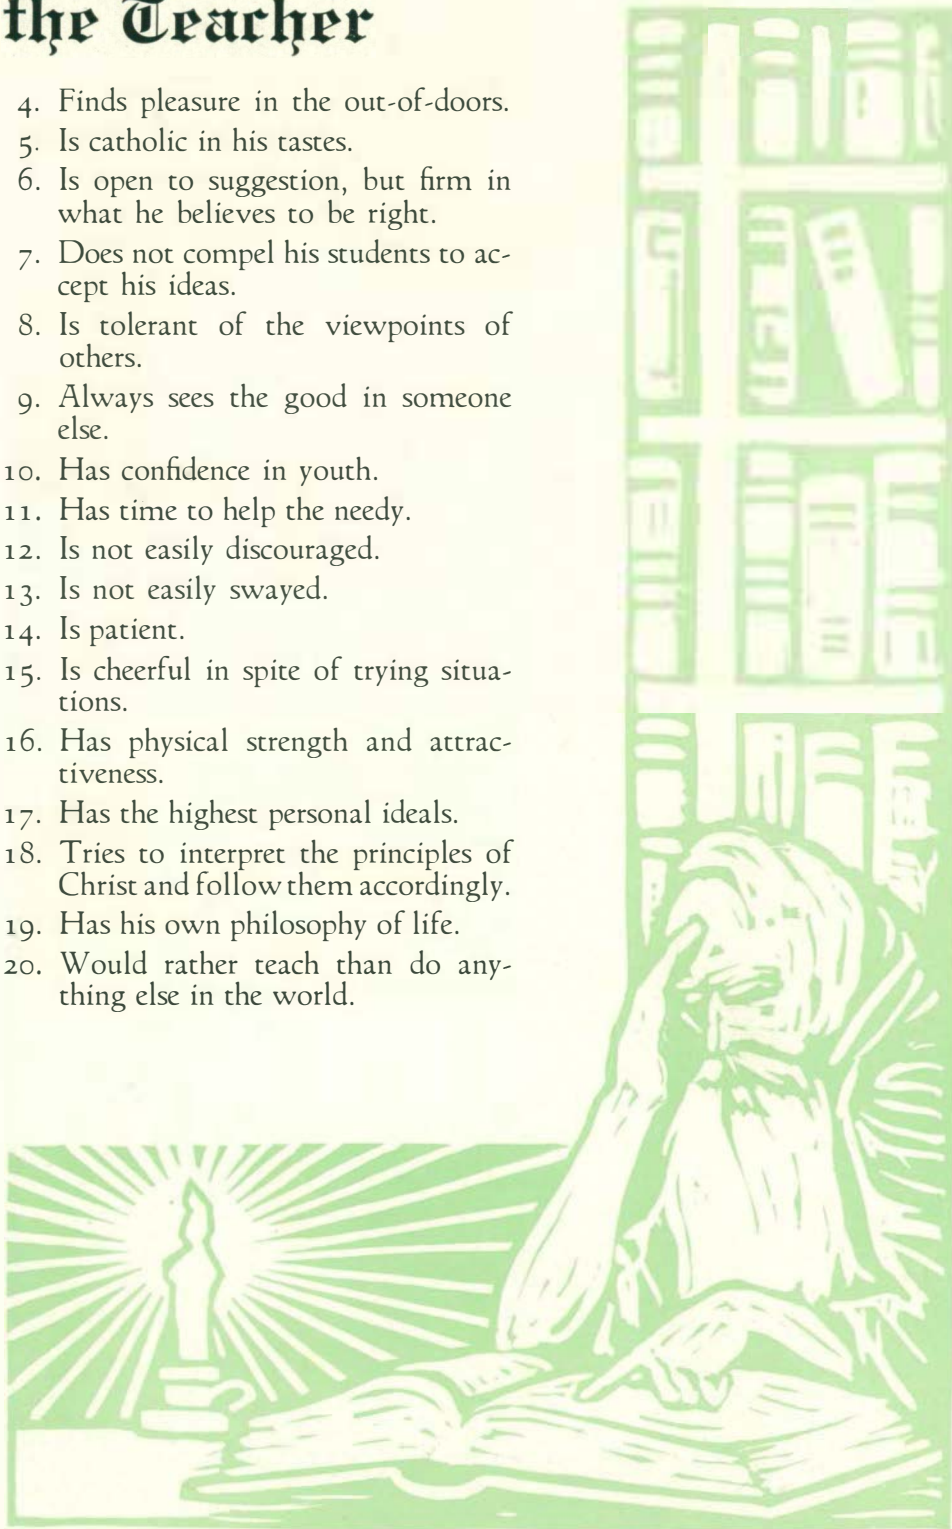

We honor the teacher who:

1. Knows his subject thoroughly.
2. Knows something besides his subject.
3. Understands human nature.

the Teacher

4. Finds pleasure in the out-of-doors.
5. Is catholic in his tastes.
6. Is open to suggestion, but firm in what he believes to be right.
7. Does not compel his students to accept his ideas.
8. Is tolerant of the viewpoints of others.
9. Always sees the good in someone else.
10. Has confidence in youth.
11. Has time to help the needy.
12. Is not easily discouraged.
13. Is not easily swayed.
14. Is patient.
15. Is cheerful in spite of trying situations.
16. Has physical strength and attractiveness.
17. Has the highest personal ideals.
18. Tries to interpret the principles of Christ and follow them accordingly.
19. Has his own philosophy of life.
20. Would rather teach than do anything else in the world.

In Memory of Professor Barbour

What Professor Barbour was to his friends and colleagues, and what his years of service meant educationally cannot be measured but may be indicated by brief excerpts from tributes already published:

. . . I found that he was filled with a burning zeal for the noblest and the best things of life; that he had a courage that rose superior to all defeats; that he had a tender and sympathetic heart for all in trouble and distress. And above all I found him to be the very soul of honor and integrity.

Benjamin L. D'Ooge

Professor Barbour had a superb mind, and was a great teacher of English. He possessed an intense respect for the mother tongue and he made its literature a part of his very life. He was gifted with rare felicity of expression and power of interpretation. With eloquence, persuasiveness, charm, he led his students through the Elysian fields of English poetry and prose. . . Professor Barbour was a delightful public speaker. His mind was keen and analytical; he had a masterly command of language and his appeal was compelling and convincing. He was one of the most effective platform speakers Michigan has ever had.

R. Clyde Ford

Rarely are men gifted as was Professor Barbour with a feeling for the charm and beauty of language. Still more rarely are they gifted with such powers of expression as he possessed—moving, appealing, compelling. His lectures, though on scholastic subjects, were often specimens of creative art.

Alma Blount

So long was Professor Barbour connected with the Normal College and so outstanding was his influence that it is difficult to think of the college going on without him; nor will it, for his influence will live in the lives of the thousands whom he taught in the classroom or from the lecture platform. He has a secure place in the history of the college and the educational history of Michigan.

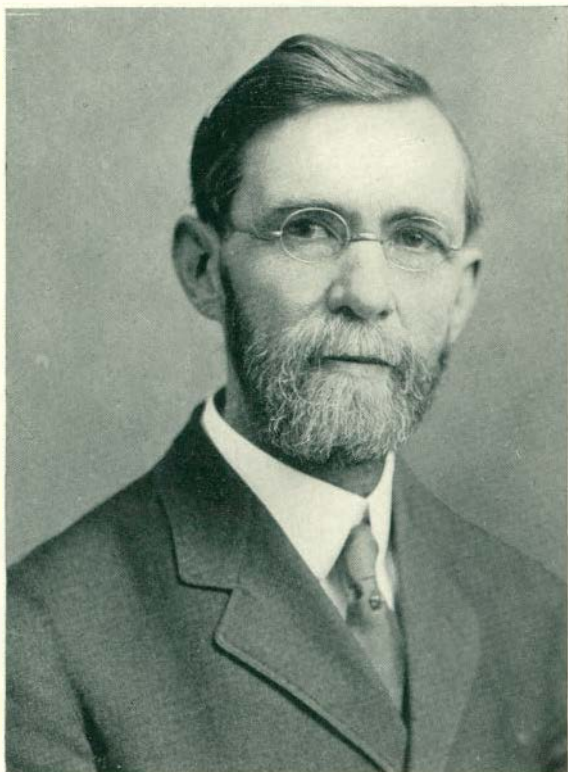

Charles McKenny

He saw life as an endeavor, a reaching forth after the Infinite. Even in the last year of suffering and sometimes darkness, he often said that his faith in God and the future life was as strong as ever. With such a belief no wonder he inspired all with the ideals expressed in great literature.

Though his voice is now silent, his inspiration lives and will grow as those he inspired touch the lives of others. His life and work recall the words of a modern dramatist:

"Life is no 'brief candle' for me. It is a sort of splendid torch, which I have got hold of for the moment; and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations."

Abigail Pearce

Professor Florus A. Barbour

Florus A. Barbour was born in Flint on February 14, 1856, but spent his boyhood and early manhood in Pontiac, Michigan. After completing the high school course in Pontiac, he entered the University of Michigan in the fall of 1873. Owing to an eye injury, received in playing baseball, he was obliged to drop his studies for a year but took his A. B. degree in 1878. Later his Alma Mater bestowed upon him the complimentary degree of M. A. In 1907, upon the organization of a Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Michigan, the University chose him one of the two representatives of the class of 1878, as a member of that society—an acknowledgment of his high class scholarship and splendid record as an educator.

After his graduation he served as principal of Coldwater High School, leaving to become principal of a very large grammar school in Grand Rapids. He was called back after a year, however, as superintendent of Coldwater Public Schools. In 1883 he married one of the Coldwater teachers, Cora Titus, and in the fall of 1885 came to Ypsilanti as Head of the English Department of the Michigan State Normal. In that capacity he served continuously until his death, December 6, 1926.

SENIOR CLASS

We, the class of 1927, desiring to leave to posterity a permanent record of our glorious achievements and good intentions, mostly the latter, do hereby set down the facts in the order in which they occurred during our Senior year at the Michigan State Normal College.

October 7—First senior class meeting. Room III. Big attendance. Everybody happy. Dave Baer, president; Alice LaPorte, vice-president; Annette Kelly, secretary; these already elected. Professor Pray to be class advisor. Stanley Hall elected treasurer; Scott Harris, athletic manager. Meeting started with lots of pep. Question up for discussion: "Shall the seniors have their pictures taken for THE AURORA in caps and gowns?" Yes! No! Result—No caps and gowns.

October 20—Professor Pray invites seniors to his home for a mixer. Jack Smith, Wilbur Ballbach, Beatrice Riggs, and Annette Kelly appointed as a social committee to work with Professor Pray. Marion Stenger and Helen Valk for refreshments. Esther Vander Broek elected for girls' athletic manager. A vigilance committee consisting of Joe Schwell and Maurice Pederson was appointed to see that the freshmen wear their "pots."

October 26—Seventy-five seniors attend mixer. Professor Pray's house too small. North gymnasium obtained. Virginia reel danced—games—entertainment—cider and doughnuts. Big success. Everyone wants another party soon. Let's invite the faculty.

October 28—Our President Baer's fame spreads. His picture appears in the News. Someone has written an article about him.

November 1 to 12—Pictures taken for THE AURORA.

November 10—Plans for faculty mixer made. Mary Poland and Carl Smith to work with the standing social committee for the occasion.

November 16—Tuesday evening in the west gymnasium. Faculty-Seniors. Faculty lose their dignity and play games. President McKenny winner of Musical Chair.

November 19—Gala Day. Bonfire—Parade. Seniors lead. Football game—Dance. Many alumni back. Seniors begin to wonder how they will feel next year when they return.

December 2 to 4—Gladys Lackie and Kirk Seaton attend National Student Conference in Ann Arbor.

December 14—Ten seniors graduate: Estella Everts, Clyde Hatter, Marion Johnson, Ann Tobin, Helen Cudney, Julia Knowles, Leone Oltman, Earl Risky, Ralph Smith and Fern Williams.

December 15—Everyone rushing to trains and buses. Good-bye and Merry Christmas.

January 4—Holiday festivals over. New term begins promptly at 8 a. m. Never mind, seniors, just this term and next. National student conference at Milwaukee. Many students go.

January 12—Another class meeting. Two pages ordered for THE AURORA. Frank Manley leads discussion to change the curriculum. Frank Manley, Harry Meyering, Laura Meade appointed to see President McKenny. Another party suggested.

January 25—Thoughts of the approaching graduation. What shall we leave the college? Eunice Parks, Geneva Webster, Gus Zielke—a committee to look into the matter. Gift to be in memory of Professor Barbour, whose death occurred December 6.

February 2—Twenty-five seniors celebrate at theatre party at the Martha Washington. Sandwiches and coffee enjoyed afterwards. Special permission to stay out thirty minutes late.

February 3—Room II. Committee appointed to nominate speakers for Class Day and Lantern Walk—Dave Baer, Stanley Hall, Maurice Pederson, Geneva Webster, Helen Valk. No more parties this term. Saving our money for a big steak roast in the Spring.

February 4—Tables are turned. Students cast ballots to grade Profs.

March 10—Elections for Class Day and Lantern Walk. Results on following page.

March 20 to 25—Everyone busy with examinations.

March 24—Ten more seniors leaving the ranks: Ruth Bean, Orel Champney, Earl Decker, Harley DuVall, Frank Gordon, Eunice Parks, Charlotte Price, Ervilla Varran, James Baird, and Archie Valleau.

Seniors elected to honor societies:

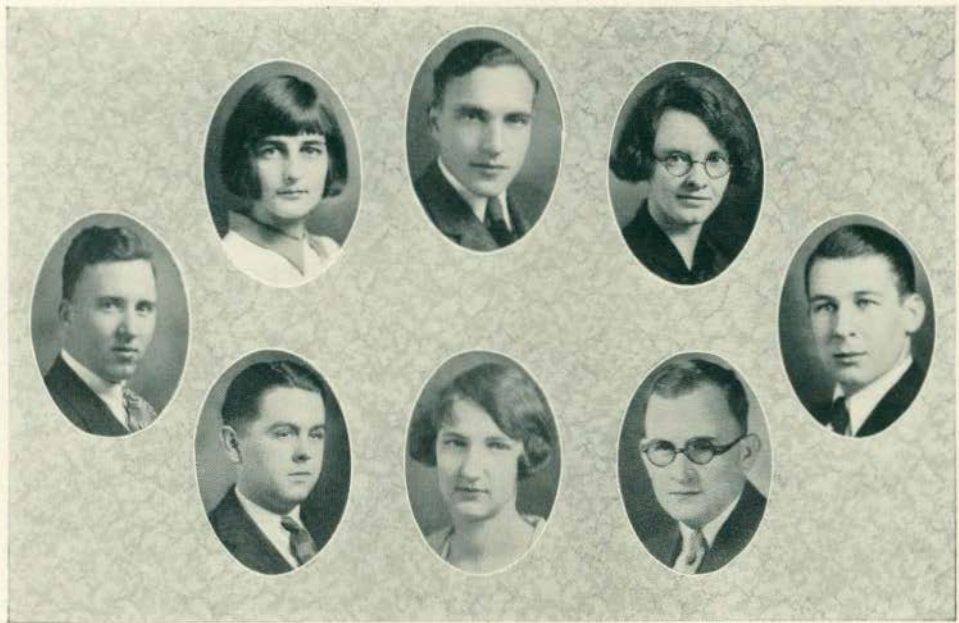

Kappa Delta Pi—Florence Gee, Mary Freitag, Vera Oehmke, Gladys Lackie, Herman Grophear, Frank Miller, Stanley Hall, Geneva Webster, Eva Sheridan, Lucille Dickerson, Marjorie Furman, Robert Yanke, Mildred Harrell, Marguerite Jaqua, Clara Seaton, Frances Gee, Florence Parker, Alice Beal, R. A. Henstock, Eunice Parks, Mabel Parks and Helen Valk.

Pi Kappa Delta—Ray Jennings, Jessie Stuber, Michael DeFant.

Stoics—Vera Oehmke, Florence Gee, Marion Martin, Lucille Dickerson, Mrs. Jenkins, Stanley Hall, Florence Parker.

Senior representatives on Student Council: Maurice Pederson, Dave Baer, Gladys Lackie, Helen Valk, Frank Manley, Alice LaPorte, Gus Zielke, Donald Sutherland.

April 4—The seniors of 1927 come to the closing chapter of their college career, and though they have looked forward to their graduation, are beginning to have a feeling of regret, as the time draws near, at leaving the Michigan State Normal College—her halls of learning, her professors, and the many good times.

JUNIOR CLASS

Hear ye! hear ye! the Junior Class of the Michigan State Normal College is assembling for their first class meeting. Ex-president Pray is presiding. They are voting. The results are being read and lo—the officers are: Carl Forsythe, president; Gertrude Sinclair, vice-president; Reva Jarman, secretary; and William Underwood, treasurer. We are embarking upon our year's journey under new guidance.

But we are not entirely business-bound. It is the 18th of February and we, 210 couples strong, are setting out for the Armory. Are we in the vicinity of Ypsilanti or have we been taken to the scenes of the Arabian Nights? The oriental surroundings might make it appear thus, but as the strains of music float out over the room, we realize that the annual J-Hop of the class of '28 is in full swing. It is 9:45 and the Grand March, led by Carl Forsythe and Bernice McGrath, slowly takes the form of a black "Y." Friends from the faculty who are present are: Dr. and Mrs. Pittman, Professor O'Geran and Miss Emery, Mrs. Burton, Dean Jones, Miss Beal, Registrar Steimle and President McKenny.

One of our prominent class members, Miss Bernice Dendel, won first place in Intercollegiate Oratory, speaking on "We, the People."

TWO HUNDRED JUNIORS

*Two hundred Juniors went to school
Down beside the Normal pool.
Two hundred minds serene,
Two hundred intellects so keen,
"We must study hard," said they,
"For our mark must be an 'A.'
That is how we keep the rule
When we Juniors go to school."*

*The professors grave and stern
Hold their classes in their turn,
Teach us how to see the moon,
Likewise how to sing a tune;
Show us how to draw a plane,
Also to foretell the rain;
Teach the story of mankind,
And the workings of the mind.*

*Two hundred Juniors soon will be passed;
Dignified Seniors they'll be at last.
Every grammar rule they've learned;
Not one experiment have they spurned;
Never failed to attend a class,
Linked together in forceful mass.
Soon they'll graduate from here,
Our Ypsi College, ever dear.*

SOPHOMORE CREED

*"I believe in taking advantage of opportunities,
Especially those offered by M. S. N. C.
I believe in and desire knowledge and understanding
Knowledge of trees, and flowers, and sky,
Knowledge of books, and an intimate knowledge of man.
I believe that my knowledge will lead
To a broader understanding of these,
And will not alienate me in a world of unreality.
I believe that through knowledge and understanding
Comes a greater love for man, for nature, and for God,
And with the love a greater power to serve and to enjoy.
Because of my belief I have joined the modern crusade,
A crusade against ignorance, and all its attendant evils,
A crusade whose aim is knowledge for all
That all may live more richly and more abundantly."*

—Anonymous

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Yes, the class of '29 arrived in Ypsilanti in September, 1925, just as green as any freshman class before it. The hordes of jeering upper classmen never let even the meekest and most unassuming frosh pass unmolested. "Pots off" were the cries.

The beautiful scenery of our campus ceased to be appreciated by the newcomers after the first few refreshing dips into the trickling water of the picturesque fountain. Under the entrancing autumn moon the young people often strolled to gaze upon the splendor of the fountain, but, alas, they felt the drenching water.

A freshie's life is not all water and green pots. The first class meeting was held October 8th and the leaders were chosen. The officers elected were: Blanchard Fagan, president; Kenneth Morrow, vice-president; Carvel Bentley, secretary; Robert Beal, treasurer; "Doc" McCulloch, faculty advisor; Mr. Earl, sergeant-at-arms. Charles Peake and Dorothy Kline made a constitution for the class that was very satisfactory.

The two social events will always be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to attend them—the "mixer" and the "Freshman Flurry."

Although the social events cannot be remembered by all, the accident of our advisor can. How happy we all were when we saw "Doc" back with us!

The class has been very proud of the band and its members, but its eyes tend to follow the beautiful tuba that it bought.

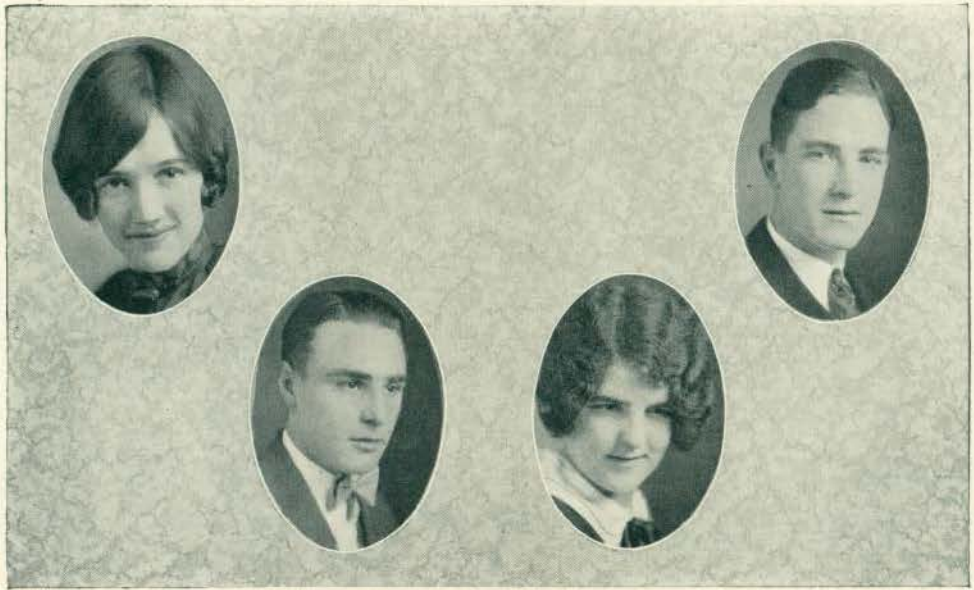

Who has forgotten "Cap Night?" But what class isn't proud when it changes from freshman to sophomore all at once?

After the sophomores had a start in the college with a more dignified air the class officers were elected. The leaders who were chosen are: Chesly Davenport, president; Herbert Smith, vice-president; Dorothy Wiles, treasurer; Carvel Bentley, secretary; Russell Hughes, sergeant-at-arms; and Evelyn Cooney and Mr. Murdock, student council members.

Action was started at once and the Florida Pelicans furnished the music at a very successful fall dancing party on Gala Night.

Although green and white are the colors that float high above our college, the blue and gold claim many athletes and are proud of their many victories.

The sophomore year is rapidly drawing to a close, but the members will always remember its many pleasures. . . . They may with pride look back at their achievements. Although the portals of the senior year are less vague, they are still something to look forward to in the future. It is to be hoped that very few drop by the wayside with only a Life Certificate. The junior class of next year needs us all back again. We must keep progressing.

FRESHMAN

FRESHMAN OFFICERS

Louis Brown, President

Charles Hill, Secretary-Treasurer

Mildred Ritter, Vice-President

FRESHMAN CLASS

*One, Two, Three,
Who are we?
We are the Freshmen
Don't you see?*

Hurrah for the Freshmen! Aren't they cute? This is the beginning of the grand annual track meet of interclass activities. Parents, teachers, and friends on the creaking, crowded bleachers eagerly lean forward to catch all the fine points. There are somber Seniors, versatile Juniors, smart Sophomores, all experienced and well-known from former years, and then that new and most lively group called Freshmen.

See their pretty little green pots bobbing up and down, their long slim legs, short fluffy hair, and eager little faces. How skillfully they are managed by their leaders, Lew Brown, Mildred Ritter, and Charley Hill. Here surely is something new, exciting, and very promising.

Now President McKenny, general manager, nods his head. C. P. Steimle, announcer and assistant manager, springs out into the center of the arena and blows his whistle with a flourish. The meet begins in a whirl. The folks up in the bleachers have to sit tight to keep their seats, while every now and then some participant has to struggle to keep from being swept off his feet in the rush.

The very first thing to astonish everybody was the deadly hand-to-hand contest between Freshmen and Sophomores down by the creek back of the President's home. These Freshmen were the first ones in the history of the school to successfully rush the flagpole. They marched down the field in a long solid wedge right onto the locked-armed waiting Sophomores formed around the flagpole. Three Freshmen in the rear climbed up over the heads of their comrades—a short scramble—and Victory! How those Freshmen yelled!

Then came the call for football. Forty-two men came out every night to take knocks under Johnny Ferenz and the athletic manager, C. Berkley. They carried off the inter-class honors. They turned to the varsity itself and won several times, never allowing themselves to be scored against by more than seven points. By this time they had so much pep that nothing could stop them. Three outside games with Port Huron, Pontiac Junior College, and Wyandotte added up the score of 47-0, 21-0, and 3-0.

Oratory was the next sport. Charles Hill and his "Four Roads to Peace" steered right through the elimination series and a sea of upper-class pre-lawyers, pre-ministers, etc. The second place for the whole school, which he won in the last contest, is one of the highest honors of the institution.

By this time the officials became interested in finding out about the high intelligence of the freshmen. Consequently, the latter all assembled in the Training School Chapel one cold, rainy morning at eight o'clock. We should like to give an accurate report of the amazing results, but these were withheld for fear of discouraging the upper-classmen.

At last we have arrived at Girls' Athletics which are divided into two groups: Class A, the girls who are specializing in physical education, and Class B, those on other courses. Toward the last of the fall term Class B was victorious in hockey. In the winter term a series of six basketball games with the sophomores resulted in the freshmen winning five out of the six games and tying the sixth. In Class A Dorothy Schade led the group and won a splendid struggle against the experienced and very able sophomores and degrees. At present both Class A and Class B are panting for more teams to conquer and hope for new victories in Spring baseball, horse-shoes, and tennis.

In men's athletics the freshmen relay team, which won first place in the panorama relay at Lansing, is famous. Our teams also won first place in tennis besides earning four or five hardly contested second place honors.

And now it is time to pause in our accounts. The cheer leaders are still going strong; the crowd on the bleachers is more excited than ever; and events in inter-class activities are still carried on speedily and efficiently by the managers.

In addition, though the freshmen still yell for their class as firmly as ever, they have now acquired a larger college spirit. They have been working for the glory of the whole college as well as for their own, and, having developed in many ways in the passing year, are ready for the increased responsibility of sophomores. Intermittent with their "One, Two, Three," we hear another yell which comes out stronger and clearer than the other:

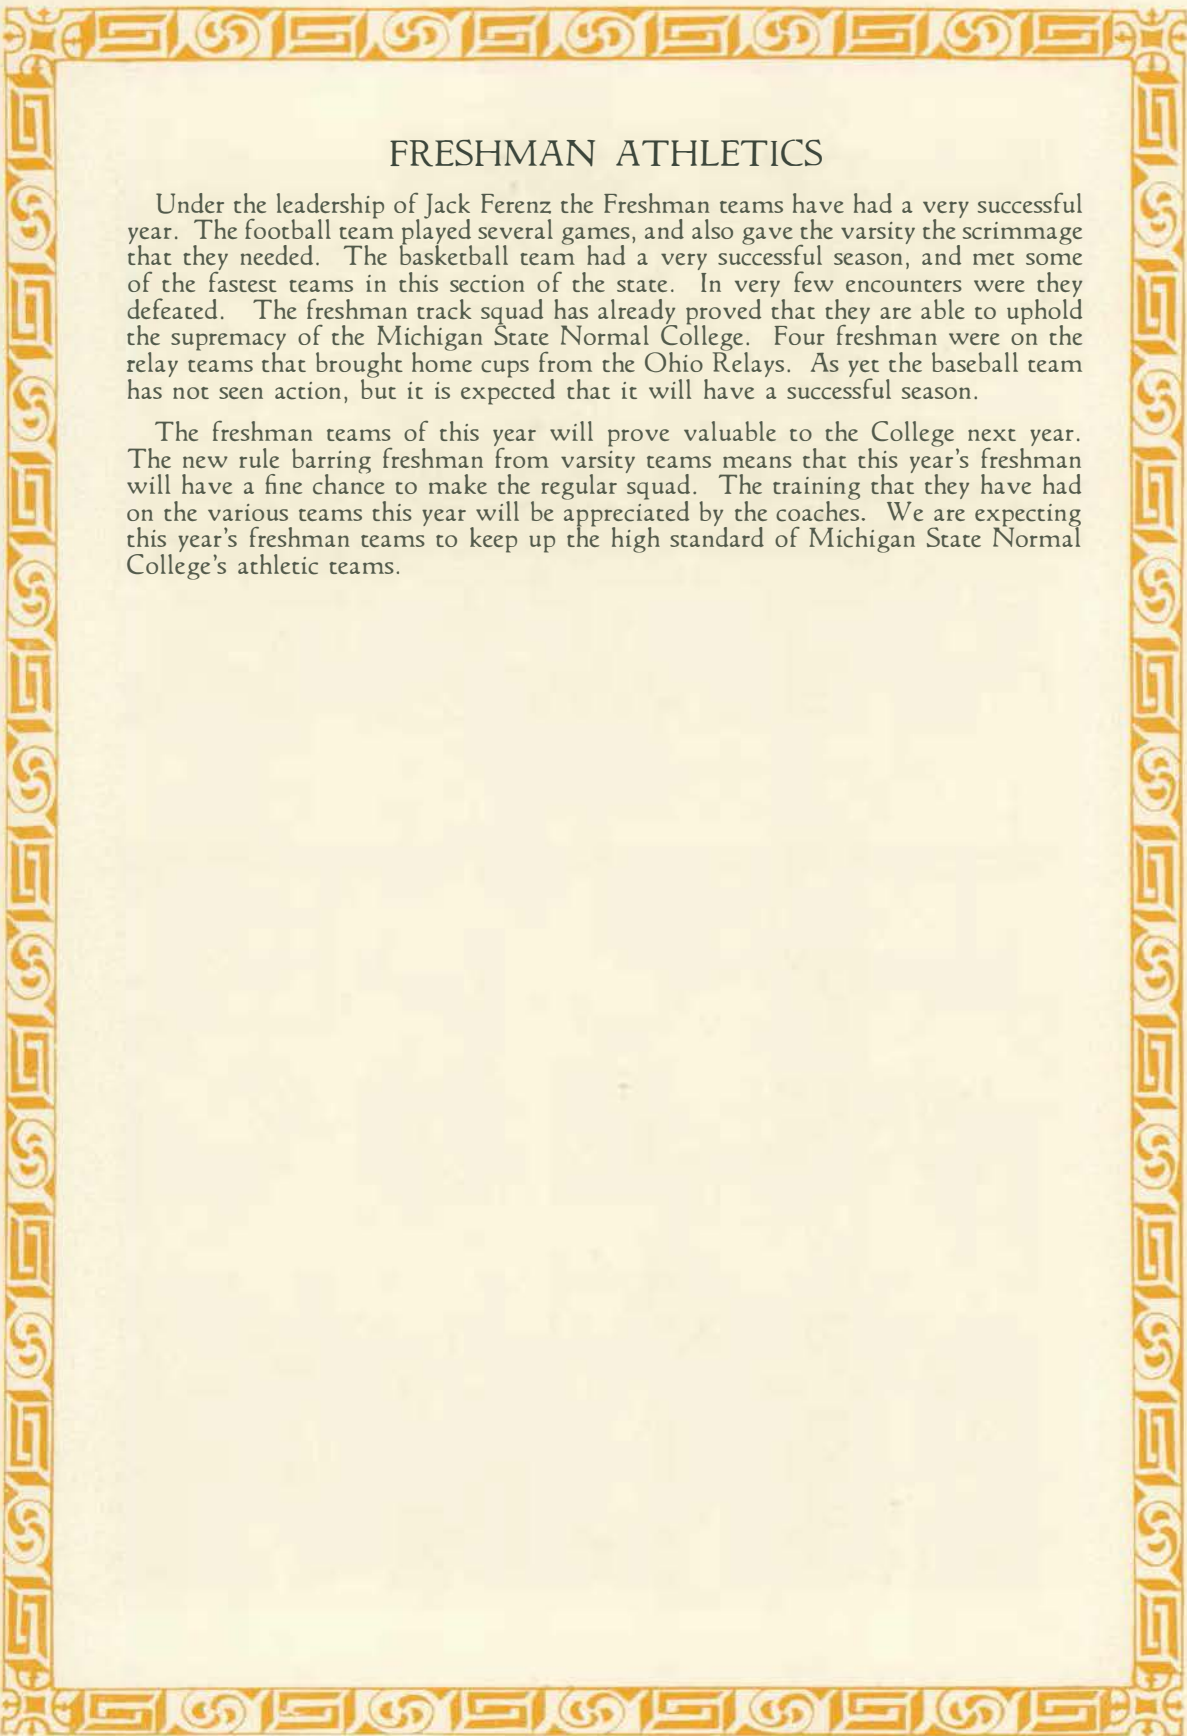

*"One, Two, Three, Four,
Who are we for?
M. S. N. C.
Rah! Rah! Rah!"*

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

FRESHMAN ATHLETICS

Under the leadership of Jack Frenz the Freshman teams have had a very successful year. The football team played several games, and also gave the varsity the scrimmage that they needed. The basketball team had a very successful season, and met some of the fastest teams in this section of the state. In very few encounters were they defeated. The freshman track squad has already proved that they are able to uphold the supremacy of the Michigan State Normal College. Four freshman were on the relay teams that brought home cups from the Ohio Relays. As yet the baseball team has not seen action, but it is expected that it will have a successful season.

The freshman teams of this year will prove valuable to the College next year. The new rule barring freshman from varsity teams means that this year's freshman will have a fine chance to make the regular squad. The training that they have had on the various teams this year will be appreciated by the coaches. We are expecting this year's freshman teams to keep up the high standard of Michigan State Normal College's athletic teams.

As a result of the efforts of the AURORA Board you have in your possession THE AURORA of 1927. The high standard of the books of other years has inspired us to do our best in compiling a book of which you may all be proud. The co-operation of the students in having pictures taken, in returning proofs, and in purchasing books has given us a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction. We have felt that the majority of students have been behind us in our undertakings and, consequently, wish to express our appreciation.

We are indebted to the following people from the art department and wish to thank them for the plates which have added much to the book:

KAPPA DELTA PI

Pi Chapter; Michigan State Normal College. Organized 1922

Every profession has at some time in its history organized a club, society, or fraternity whose express purpose was to further the high idealism of that profession. It was therefore entirely fitting that in 1909 a group of men and women of the teaching profession met at the University of Illinois and organized a club known as the Illinois Education Club. A scant two years later this club was incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois as the honorary educational fraternity, Kappa Delta Pi, which was to become international in its scope.

In the few years which have passed since its organization this fraternity expressing the ideals and purposes of the teaching profession has had phenomenal growth. It is impossible here to show the rapidity of that growth by listing all of the chapters formed, but some of the more important steps may be noted. Less than a year after incorporation the second chapter, Beta, was organized at the University of Colorado. Kappa, the tenth chapter, was formed at Teachers' College, Columbia University in 1920. Our own local chapter, Pi, was instituted in 1922, it being the sixteenth chapter organized. At present there are more than thirty-five chapters of Kappa Delta Pi located at Teachers' Colleges in all parts of the United States. However, Pi Chapter on our own campus remains the only representative from the State of Michigan.

In 1926 Kappa Delta Pi authorized the formation of a Laureate Chapter whose membership is limited to fifty. This chapter is to be composed of men and women of proven worth and international reputation in the teaching profession. The roster already includes such men as Dr. Edward Thorndike, Dr. Lewis Terman, Sir John Adams, Dr. Edwin Anderson Alderman, Dr. Washington Ballou, Dr. Susan Dorsey, Dr. Paul Henry Hanus, Dr. James Earl Russel.

But great as the growth has been the fraternity has not lost sight of its impressive purposes and high educational ideals. The international constitution states that: "The high purpose of Kappa Delta Pi shall be to encourage in its members a higher degree of consecration to social service in the field of education. To this end it shall maintain the highest educational ideals and foster fellowship, scholarship, and achievement in educational work." To carry out, in some measure this purpose, there is published quarterly a magazine, The Kadelplan, which devotes itself to the activities of the various chapters and the publication of articles dealing with problems of the teaching professions.

It is further stated in the constitution that the minimum qualifications for membership shall be: full junior standing, general scholarship of a grade in the upper quartile of the institution, . . . the indication that there will be continued interest in the field of education, and the manifestation of desirable social qualities.

The influence of this fraternity upon the teaching profession is inestimable and may be more properly gauged by the achievements of the men and women whose names honor its roster.

The Student Council was re-organized last October with Kirk Seaton as President. A new constitution was drawn up which gave the Council the power to regulate all student life and activities and to co-operate with the officials and faculty of the college in preserving the useful traditions of the institution and in furthering the interests of the college by endeavoring in every way possible to raise its standards as an educational institution.

This year the Normal College, through the Student Council, joined the National Student Federation of America and sent two representatives to its meeting held at Ann Arbor. This year the Council has also started a new tradition on the campus by sponsoring the grading of professors by the students.

THE NORMAL COLLEGE NEWS

Last fall the Normal College News started on its twenty-fourth year as a publication of the College. The first News was published monthly. After a few years it became a bi-weekly publication, and, as the college grew, it became a weekly paper.

The Normal News started an athletic section in the fall of 1925 which has proved to be a success and has been adopted by many college publications throughout the country.

The Normal News has rather fixed policies which it follows. It adheres to the journalistic principles as far as possible. It tries to promote the activities and interests of the college. It attempts to give the students all the news about the campus that should be published.

During the year the Normal News has wholeheartedly backed many student enterprises. The Alumni Union campaign was given support through the columns of the News. The "How to Study Week," which attracted national attention, was helped by the Normal News. The student grading of the professors which the student Council started, was sponsored by the News.

While it is not always possible to please everyone and print all the articles that are sometimes brought to the office, the Normal News has for its goal a better M. S. N. C. Through its columns it endeavors to make college life more real and interesting to every student on the campus.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Gladys Lackie, President
 Frances Gee, Vice-President

Florence Gee, Treasurer
 Margaret Robinson, Secretary

In 1920, the Michigan State Normal College followed the example of many sister colleges in organizing all of the women students into a Women's League. The purpose of this organization was to bring closer together the women of the college, to maintain high standards among them, to promote their interest and in every way insure their well-being upon the campus. Each succeeding year has witnessed greater efforts on the part of the League to fulfill this purpose. A marked progress has been shown within the last two years.

The past year the League has sponsored a bloomer party, a house-president's dinner, and a Co-ed Prom. The following lecturers were brought here: Professor Hollister of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Rosenbury, former dean of women of the University of Wisconsin, and Miss Cornelius of Detroit. The Get-Together Dinners, begun last year, were successfully continued, and the Neighborhood Teas, a new project this year, proved very successful. A "Good Manners" week and a "How to Study" week were instituted this year and both ideas were enthusiastically received. The Women's League served hot chocolate and held open house for visiting alumnae at Homecoming.

MEN'S UNION

The new officers of the Michigan State Normal College Men's Union were elected in the Spring of 1926 and began to make plans for the coming year. Due to the change from the M. I. A. A. to the Michigan Collegiate Conference the activities of the men on the campus were slowed up considerably, but with the coming of more men to the college the general school spirit has been kept up to the standard that was set in the past two years.

Because Ypsilanti was not in any league during the fall term and most of the football games played were of comparatively minor importance, the Union voted to delay the college trip until later in the year and concentrated all its efforts on the Gala Day program. A student committee under the leadership of President Scott co-operated with the Alumni Association and a faculty committee in arranging a program that lasted Friday evening, November 19th and all day Saturday, November 20th. Five thousand letters were sent to alumni by the student committee and many were back for the Homecoming week-end.

The activities of Friday consisted of a big pep meeting, bonfire, theatre rush and dance. Saturday morning a student parade was held that eclipsed any endeavor that the students had ever made in this line. The students, 2,000 strong, formed a line that extended for six blocks and, bearing flags and canes with streamers attached, marched through the entire town.

The game with Kazoo College in the afternoon saw a record attendance and was a victory for Ypsi with the score of 20-0. The day ended with a large All-College dance and dances by many organizations. It is hoped that Home-coming Day will become a yearly event.

The Freshman-Sophomore fight was held in Sleepy Hollow and ended in a victory for the Sophomores. As a result the Frosh donned the official "pot."

In the second week of the Winter term the Union held the annual mixer in the Gymnasium. Almost all of the men on the campus were present to get their annual "free feed" and listen to the program that had been arranged. Jack Smith had charge of the counter lunch, while the program was arranged by the President and "Bingo" Brown. Boxing, musical features and talks comprised the main program followed by group singing that lasted for almost an hour at the request of the men.

The Union opera had been placed under the management of a committee headed by Charles Peake. The date has been set for May 26. Four acts of vaudeville under the direction of Professor J. Stuart Lathers and a short opera under the direction of Professor Alexander and Mr. Carl Lindegren will comprise the program.

If it is possible the Union will manage a student trip to one of the baseball games during the Spring term. A meeting of the executive board was held during the first week of the term to arrange a program for the closing quarter. The officers have been four of the busiest men on the campus this year. Much of the work which reaches the men calls for the president alone, and he has given his time to serving on numerous committees and getting into many activities because of the office which he held. He has been ably assisted in all of his work by the other members of the executive, Carl Forsythe as Vice-President, Carl Pray as Secretary and Delmar Allman as Treasurer.

The Secondary Education Club of the Michigan State Normal College was organized in 1925 for the purpose of bringing together once a month those students who are preparing to teach in the high schools of Michigan for a two-fold purpose, intellectual and social. To carry out the former, speakers of note are engaged who speak on the relation of the various high school subjects to the high school. Miss Jessie Bonstelle of Detroit, one of the outstanding speakers, spoke on the relation of dramatics to the high school.

The social meetings which follow the business meetings are effective means of bringing together all secondary education people from all departments for the formation of new friendships in a social good time.

Each year a bulletin is issued which gives superintendents of schools throughout the state information regarding students who desire positions.

Membership is open to students who are preparing to teach in junior and senior high schools. The club has approximately one hundred fifty members.

Perhaps some evening in your strolling past the usually dark science building, you may have noticed bright lights in the south-east corner of the third floor. You may not have been aware that there in room fourteen is the meeting place of one of the most progressive organizations on the campus, the Chemistry Club.

The Chemistry Club has as its patron Professor B. W. Peet who founded the organization, and Professor P. S. Brundage. A large part of the benefits of membership in the Club can be traced to the energy and to the almost paternal interest for each individual manifested by these men.

The object of the Club is to promote an appreciation of science, particularly of Chemistry. The means of accomplishing this are varied. Demonstration experiments and short talks by members of the group, suggestions by the patrons, the annual trip to some industrial chemical works, and an occasional special speaker not only interest the members of the Club, but also broaden their views of the practical, technical, and aesthetic aspects of chemistry.

Two new activities were sponsored by the Chemistry Club this year. The first was the attractive exhibit shown during the Mid-Year Educational Conference, and the other the Prize Essay Contest. It is hoped that these activities as well as the others will continue to develop in the succeeding seasons.

COMMERCIAL TEACHERS' CLUB

The Commercial Teachers' Club has accomplished much in bringing the Commercial Teachers more closely together and in creating a common interest in their work. This has been accomplished through its regular meetings and the co-operation of its able faculty advisor, P. R. Cleary. The members of this Club believe not only in living up to their constitution, but also in having a good time, as has been proved by many joyful events.

The year 1926-1927 has proved a very enjoyable as well as a profitable one for the Commercial Teachers.

NORMAL COLLEGE CHOIR

"Frederick Alexander brought his amazingly fine choir from the educational precincts of the State Normal School at Ypsilanti to give its annual concert with the Detroit Symphony in Orchestra Hall Sunday afternoon (December 12th) and again afforded Detroit music lovers one of the delights of the season."

Detroit Times, December 13, 1926.

"Frederick Alexander, who trains and conducts the choir, is faced each year with the task of selecting and schooling new voices, for obviously, the personnel completely changes every two years. This makes his success the more remarkable, and substantial success it is, too, for the strictest standards may be set and the choir still adjudged of the very first class among such organizations of the country."

Detroit News, December 13, 1926.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC CLUB

The Public School Music Club this year for the first time in its history, is represented by the sophomore class of specializing students in public school music, preparing to be supervisors, with but three members comprising the graduating class of 1927.

The new public school music course, extended to three years adding an academic year and college background as well as further musical advancement, offers a larger professional opportunity and gives promise of splendid results.

The club is favorably known among the campus organizations as one with initiative, active in all that pertains to the best interests of the college and participating in its various activities.

The purpose of the Club in its bi-monthly meetings is professional as well as social. Through its varied programs, topics of timely interest in the development and progress of music in the music education world are discussed, and socially, it aims to create a prevailing spirit of unity and fellowship.

EUCLIDEAN SOCIETY

The Euclidean Society was first organized November 15, 1923 with a membership of eighty-four students interested in Mathematics. Since that time the organization has been an active one and has many loyal members out in the teaching profession.

The purpose of the club is two-fold: first, to create a spirit of good-fellowship among the Mathematics students of the college, and second, to help the prospective Mathematics teachers in the work they expect to do. The latter purpose is accomplished by reports at the meetings of interesting mathematical history and of current mathematical literature, and by social programs that may have a carry-over influence into junior and senior high school clubs.

The Laonian Dramatic Society was organized in 1913 for the study of the drama and dramatists. For five years some time was given to the reading and discussion of plays. Then with the coming of the Little Theatre movement, there was more acting of plays.

It is the aim of the society to have every other meeting social, and the alternate meetings professional, so that the Laonian Dramatic Society may be a worthy member of the National Dramatic League, and its members well acquainted with good plays for the little theatres.

The society was composed of girls until 1927 when men recommended by Professor Lathers were taken in. As a part of their initiation, they gave the play, "In 1999."

This year a talk was given at one meeting on the Little Theatre movement. Miss Stowe gave a very interesting talk on "Putting Yourself Into the Part." Another meeting was devoted to the Irish movement. At this time reports about the following Irish playwrights were given: Lady Gregory, Synge, Dunsany, Robinson, and Yeats. The play "Cathleen ni Hoolihan" by Yeats was very cleverly given by Professor and Mrs. O'Geran and three students. Miss Ruth A. Barnes finished the evening by reading some unpublished folk stories.

A special study and presentation of the play, "The Whiteheaded Boy," by Lenox Robinson, was made.

Social times were not left out by any means. Early in the year a social meeting was held at the home of Professor Abigail Pearce. Later social meetings were held at the homes of Miss Ruth Barnes and Miss Eunice Parks. Near the close of the winter term a very enjoyable time was had by the society when it visited the country home of Professor Lathers.

During this twenty-second year of their organization the Minerva have been especially fortunate. Mrs. Sabourin recently spent some time in Europe studying, and Miss Beal returned last fall from a year's residence upon the continent. These two sojourns have resulted in many enjoyable and profitable meetings, for we have been taken upon delightful imaginary tours of the leading places of Europe. When recounting their impressions of the Art Galleries, our patronesses showed many diminutive reproductions of famous paintings about which they told us a great deal. These talks have resulted in the determination of Minervas to sometime travel in Europe.

Besides these feature meetings our programs have been highly diversified and very much worth while.

Through THE AURORA we wish to greet all Alumni Minervas who chance to glance upon these pages and to extend to our incoming members the sincere hope of a successful future.

The Portia Literary Society was organized in 1901 as a women's debating society, but since 1911 has taken up purely literary work. During the past year famous European buildings have been studied. Westminster Abbey, Notre Dame, Versailles, the Alhambra, and other cathedrals and palaces in England, France, and Spain are some of the subjects which, with the use of pictures, have helped to make very interesting meetings. With the careful guidance and assistance of the patronesses, all members feel that this has been made a very profitable and enjoyable year.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

Davis J. Baer, President
Della Mesunas, Vice-President

Gwladys Lewis, Secretary
Ruth L. Boughner, Treasurer

The Physical Education Club is made up of all the teachers and students in the physical education department. It is one of the largest clubs on the campus. Club meetings are held once a month, usually in the form of a party or "weenie" roast at which everyone has a good time.

The Physical Education Club has brought about many of our pleasures during the past winter. A toboggan slide was erected just north of the tennis courts and afforded an opportunity for tobogganing to those who enjoy that sport. The tennis courts were kept flooded and in good condition so the skating fans could have their fun. A pair of Physical Education skis and a hike to the hills northwest of the Science Building permitted skiing.

During the latter part of the winter term the physical education department gave a demonstration of class work to a fair-sized audience. Ten numbers were shown by classes of men and women specializing in physical education. Each number demonstrated the type of work that is done in class each day.

The physical education department conducted a regional basketball tournament the week-end of March 17-19. Games in Class A and B were played in the new Ypsilanti Central gymnasium which has one of the finest basketball floors in the state. The Class C and D games were held in the West gymnasium. This tournament is an annual occurrence, and much credit is due to the physical education department for the manner in which the tournament is conducted.

The official publication of the department is the Javelin. It is published once a month for the purpose of giving club members and its alumni news of what has happened and the things which are to happen in the department.

As this goes to press, the club is planning the usual good times for its members. A committee is busily engaged planning for May-day.

The Normal Art Club is composed of second and third year Fine Arts Students. Every third Wednesday we meet at the home of some member or in the Art Gallery to enjoy a social hour or short program and supper.

During the year we have given two very novel parties. The Painters' Panic, a dance held in the Gym, was remarkable for its gorgeous and unusual decorations. An enjoyable St. Patrick's Party was held in Prospect School in co-operation with the Crafts Club of M. S. N. C.

Our hope for next year's Art Club is that it will have as good times and receive as splendid backing from the student body, in putting its various enterprises over, as we have enjoyed in ours during the past year.

The main aim of the Kindergarten Primary Club is to provide social activities of such a character that its members may become better acquainted. However, through the efforts of Ermine Morse and through the splendid co-operation of the faculty the club has accomplished considerably more than this.

The membership is divided into various groups whose business it is to provide entertainment and professional activities for the club. They have provided musical entertainments, talks by prominent members of our faculty and prominent people from outside of our city. One of the outstanding things undertaken by the club was the entertainment which it provided for the children in the hospital at Ann Arbor.

Altogether the club is very well satisfied with the results of the past year, and they are confident of a still greater success next year.

TRAILBLAZERS' DREAMS COME TRUE

A dozen students enrolled in the Rural Education Department comprised the membership of the Trailblazers Club in 1920.

A few years later its sponsors were dreaming dreams and seeing visions of a Rural Faculty of twenty-six members, several hundred students enrolled in the Rural Training Department, and a new consolidated school in Augusta township. In their dreams they saw a student in cap and gown, a student who had poise, personality, and enthusiasm; a student with the ability to work joyously, to originate and to eventuate ideas, and co-operate wholeheartedly; a student who personified the ideals and purposes of the Trailblazers Club.

Today there are thirty-eight faculty members: on the campus, in the four rural training schools near Ypsilanti, and in the Lincoln Consolidated School—one of the very best in the state—in Augusta township. There are two hundred members in the club, each one in training for some specific service pertaining to rural life. Eleven hundred graduates have gone out to carry the ideals and purposes of the organization into County Normals, Rural Supervisory Service, consolidated schools, the rural schools of Michigan, and even in far-off China.

The Club is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Stunt Night, at the beginning of the school year, served as an effective means of promoting friendship among the faculty and club members. At each meeting thereafter, an entertaining and instructive program was given by one of the various groups. These programs consisted of original plays, etiquette dramatizations, tableaux, and special day programs. The activities of the winter term were concluded with the annual banquet at the Huron hotel, the memory of which event is fondly cherished by every Trailblazer.

"The Trailblazers Club serves as a generating force for rural ideals and progress in the same way that the National Society for the Study of Education serves education in general."

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association has almost finished its second successful year on the campus. Great enthusiasm has been shown by all the organizations throughout the year. The Association has had three banquets during the year at which medals, emblems, letters, and sweaters were awarded to those earning them.

Spring baseball and tennis tournaments have not yet been completed, so the winners of the sorority cup, and club and class plaques are not known.

Following is a list of first and second place winners for the fall and winter terms:

A LITTLE ABOUT THE SPORTS

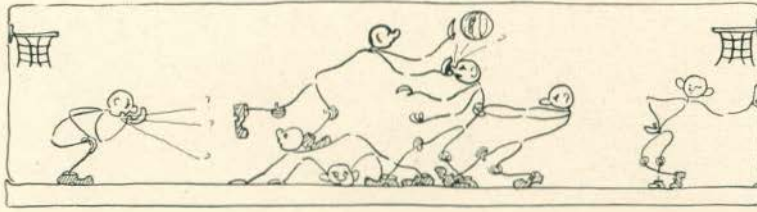

Hockey, a game of English origin, is now an accepted sport for college women. It is vigorous and exhilarating, exacting good judgment and instant decision at every moment of play. It is a mind trainer as well as a muscle developer, involving agility of the mind as well as that of the lower extremities. Class teams have several opportunities to show their less fortunate school mates how to "bully-off" and the original meaning of "pep."

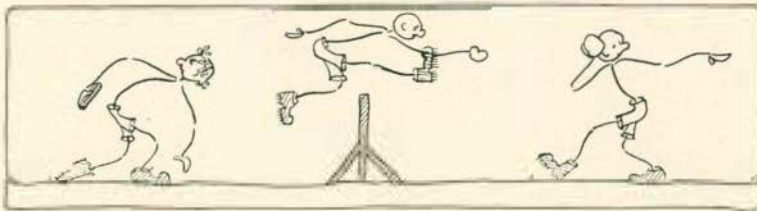

Is your posture faulty? Come out for volleyball and straighten out those curves and kinks. Volleyball may not be well known but that does not take away the qualities that make it one of the best "simple-complex" games. It is coming into prominence because of its popularity and bids fair to remain with us.

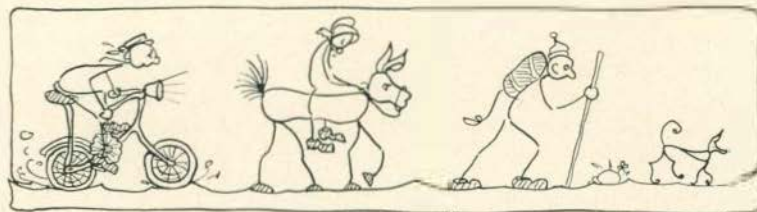

Do you know how to blow bubbles under water? Can you unlace your shoes while floating without filling up like a city reservoir? Can you crawl on more than your hands and knees as the Australians do? And can you dive without unjointing like an umbrella in a tornado? Learn to swim, dive, crawl, and do the trudgeon. You will love the water when you have learned to swim. It will make a fat person feel slim and a thin person miss her joints. You are bound to be happy if you learn to swim.

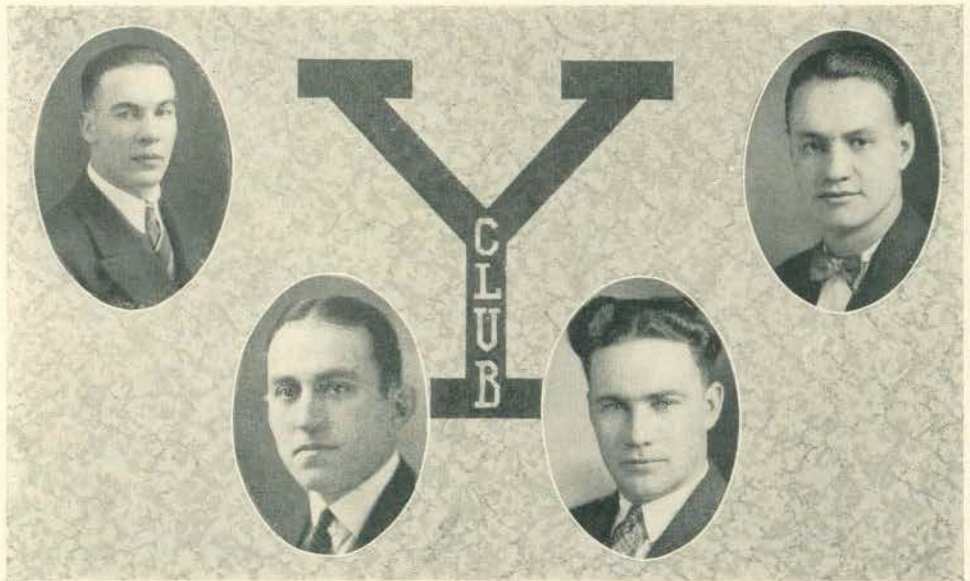

A basket in basketball had for its parent once, an ordinary bushel basket. To look at the basket now used in the game makes one wonder at the marvels of evolution. There seem to be a few games that have the general appeal to women that basketball has. And rightly too—perhaps. As a game it is full of unexpected situations, there is ample opportunity for deception and strategy. After you once “get into” basketball you will forget the movie downtown and not even mind the hard work at practice. Under the new rules basketball is not too strenuous, neither is it limited to a child’s ping-pong game. The rules are not “joy-killers”—they are better “pain-killers.” Get on a team!

Track is appealing more and more to girls. Getting out of doors in spring’s first balmy days and accumulating beautiful arrays of freckles and tan is a privilege that girls are thinking more and more highly of. The events of the track are most healthful, using both the larger and the smaller muscle groups of the body. You can jump “high” or jump “low,” run “fast” or run “slow” with no surly professor to say yea or nay. Besides the happiness coming from a healthy set of well-developed muscles there is the happiness of freedom, of doing the particular thing you like to do best whether it is the dash, the jump, the discus, or what-not. There is nothing so fine as the cool shower and swim that comes after spending an hour of a warm spring day out on the field. And besides raising a little perspiration it will raise your spirits.

Come and join us! Forget your troubles, laugh and play, make friends, work off your grouch on the ball, not on your roommate. Play means as much in your life as work does. Don’t age before your time. When you get old and decrepit and your breath comes short and you have rheumatism, you will at least have memories of the times when you could run and jump with the best.

Six years ago the Varsity "Y" Club, which was known until then as the "N" Club, was organized for the purpose of promoting interest in the Michigan State Normal College athletics among the alumni. Since that time it has not only kept in touch with its large body of alumni, now numbering nearly two hundred, but has also sponsored campus activities and all worth-while causes for the betterment of athletics. Through the work of the "Y" Club, the Normal College is advertised throughout Michigan and other states. It is always working to bring better athletics to Ypsilanti.

This year, for the first time, the "Y" Club put on boxing and wrestling tournaments as a means of raising funds to carry on their work. Formerly, funds have been raised through the Annual Spotlight, but the popular sports of boxing and wrestling have met with so much approval that there is no question of their continuance next year.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The part that intramural athletics play in the program of the college physical education activities is becoming more and more important. During the past year interest has been furthered in this department by the awarding of gold medals to the winners of the various sports in the interclass league. In the inter-fraternity league the competition has always been rather keen. Ten sports are listed on the program for each league. The results for the year to date are given:

The purpose of the organization is, primarily, to establish a fraternal contact with the local chapter. The club now functions broadly through the Ypsilanti Chapter, No. 119, the Eastern Star Ville at Adrian, and the State Education Committee of the Grand Order of the Eastern Star of Michigan.

Its activities are heralded through the Phoenix, the Eastern Star Journal, and the Tyler-Keystone of the Grand Lodges of Michigan, as well as through local papers and the Daily Ypsilantian-Press, and the Normal News.

At the Michigan State Normal the Campus Club's activities include regular business meetings, group discussions, teas, dinner-conferences, seasonal parties, and a Spring Party. All committees are very active.

An invitation to become a charter chapter of the National Eastern Star Sorority was recently received from Omega Epsilon Sigma. The Campus Club, however, preferred to retain its broad representation of the students' home chapter.

The Young Women's Christian Association is one of the most active organizations of the College. Starkweather Hall with its cozy rooms is always open to the students on the campus. Through our fellowship with students, through the Vesper services which are held each Wednesday evening, and through the various activities of the Association we have striven to fulfill the National Student Objective, "We unite in the determination to live unreservedly Jesus' law of Love in every relationship, and so to know God."

The Michigan State Normal College Y. M. C. A. is not a self-centered organization serving members only. It is a movement of, by, and for Normal College men, of friendly service to the end that the finest personal and campus standards and convictions may be established at M. S. N. C.

This Association seeks to include in its membership all men in M. S. N. C. whether students or members of the faculty, who declare themselves in sympathy with its statement of objectives and willing to make it their program of personal conduct and influence on the campus and in the community.

The Association seeks to realize its objectives through its membership and its organized committees.

When a man becomes a member he joins an open fellowship of those who willingly accept the Christian Way of Life, and who undertake to uphold and extend Christian principles wherever they live, work, or have recreation. The Association's value to Michigan State Normal College is largely measured by the dynamic content and vitality of the quiet personal influence of its members.

The M. S. N. C. Association has for its objectives:

- (1) To discover and meet the needs for friendly service on the campus, (new and foreign students, employment, finding rooms, and friendly and hospital visitations).
- (2) To work for a constructive, recreational, and social program for college men.
- (3) To work for honesty on examinations.
- (4) To provide whatever assemblies are necessary to get our Christian message before the student body in order to secure campus-wide Christian standards and convictions.
- (5) To help in making the influence of resident groupings constructive.
- (6) To develop larger Church consciousness and participation on part of college men.
- (7) To stimulate student thinking on essential world problems, and on the Christian missionary enterprise at home and abroad.
- (8) To lead individual students and groups to study and accept Jesus' Way of Life, and help them into closer fellowship with Him.
- (9) To provide for vocational counsel necessary to help every student realize his full powers in a life of Christian Service.
- (10) To extend the character building influence of college men by working with boys' groups in the local community and adjacent towns.

THE WESLEYAN GUILD

The Wesleyan Guild is the student organization of the First Methodist Church. Its purpose is to create opportunities for fine fellowship and spiritual development of college students.

The Guild was established in the fall of 1923 and has been steadily growing in strength and active membership. Its well-rounded program of activities offers every student attractive opportunities for self-expression. Subjects of very vital interest are discussed each Sunday evening under excellent leadership. Sunday classes allowing a choice of studies according to individual interests are conducted by the following teachers: Dr. M. S. Pittman, Miss Rosa Lee Wyatt, Dr. A. L. Heer, Professor Byron Heise, Dr. Arold Brown, and Miss Opal Seeber.

Social times are furnished through the "Student Friendly" on Sunday afternoons, special term parties, banquets, and outdoor recreations.

Unusual activities carried on this year are a church membership campaign, the sending of a delegate to the C. C. A. Conference at Milwaukee in December, Deputation Team Work, an Easter Cantata, and a Spring Pageant.

The interest of the student group itself, the unity of the cabinet, together with the gifted leadership of Miss Opal Seeber, director of student activities, have made it possible for the Wesleyan Guild to continue to be a living force in the lives of students of the Normal College.

The personnel of the cabinet is as follows:

Many students have had a part in making our Baptist organization grow during the four years of its existence and in helping, this year, to carry out our aim of "Love and Fellowship, one with another."

Our organization has been a real help through numerous discussion groups, Bible classes, devotional services, parties and social functions, and has made the Baptist Church a real "Church home" for students here in college.

ORATORY and DEBATE

FREDERICK B. McKAY
Director of Public Speaking

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Beginning with the present year student activities in public speaking are being carried on under the auspices of the campus chapter of the honor forensic fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta. Its Forensic Committee has immediate supervision of all platform contests, and is manned by the following officers: William Underwood, president; Harold Westlake, men's vice-president; Evelyn Cooney, women's vice-president; and Ernestine Anderson, forensic secretary, together with Professor McKay, faculty representative. This committee arranges for the numerous local contests and plans the schedule of intercollegiate debates and oratory.

In the field of oratory the year has witnessed interesting results. The college contest, held November 30th, resulted in the selection of Bernice A. Dendel, junior, and Elmen Winkelman, sophomore, as college orators. In the state contest, held at Olivet College, March 4th, with eight speakers in each competition, both made an admirable showing. Mr. Winkelman spoke upon the revision of the inter-allied debts: "Good Will or Gold?" and received third place in a strong field. Miss Dendel's work was outstanding. Her theme was respect for the constitution of the United States, and was entitled: "We the People". Such was the virility of her message, the poise of her delivery and her grip upon her audience that six of the seven judges awarded her first place and the seventh second place. Her victory could hardly have been more complete. Both orators brought home medals, thus again vindicating Ypsilanti's reputation in this field.

With this year we enter a new competition in public speaking known as the Constitution contest. As this article is being prepared, arrangements are going forward for the local contest on April 12th. We are also entering with some prestige, as we are to entertain the state contest on our home platform on April 29th.

Debating is again an outstanding interest. With this year the squad system is definitely established. The men's squad consists of fifteen and the women's of nine. These twenty-four student debaters are carrying forward the year's schedule. The traditional judging system was not definitely adhered to, and there were a number of forum and audience decision debates. The men's question was: "This house indorses Mussolini's governmental principles." Their season went forward as indicated on following page.

Date	Opponent	Place	Side	Decision

The women's question for the year was: "Congress should be empowered to pass uniform marriage and divorce laws." Their schedule is as follows:

Date	Opponent	Place	Side	Decision
January 28	Adrian	Here	Affirmative	Adrian
		Watson, Stuber, Griffith
		There	Negative	M. S. N. C.

February 18	C. M. N. S.	There	Negative	C. M. N. C.
		Walldorf, Elliott, Styckle
March 4	W. S. N. S.	Here	Negative	M. S. N. C.
		Walldorf, Elliott, Styckle
March 5	Kalamazoo	There	Affirmative	Kalamazoo
		Watson, Stuber, Griffith
		Debates Spring Term
April 12	Heidelberg	Here
April 22	M. S. N. S.	Marquette

An added activity of the spring term will be the Provincial Conference and contests of Pi Kappa Delta to be held at Michigan State College on April 13th and 14th, in which chapter members will participate in debate, oratory and extempore speaking, for both men and women. In such ways as these the chapter continues to be a force felt on the campus in the interest of platform leadership.

It will close the year with thirty-five active members and eight faculty members.

Thus the present year will close with an enviable record in the realm of public speaking.

WE THE PEOPLE

"When the mariner has been tossed for many days in thick weather, and on an unknown sea, he naturally avails himself of the first pause in the storm, the earliest glance of the sun, to take his latitude, and ascertain how far the elements have driven him from his true course." How well the wisdom of a great American orator in an earlier crisis of our history becomes us today! Whither tends our national life? The charter of our Constitution, like a compass, pointed the way to future happiness through respect for human rights and obedience to law. Let us today imitate the prudence of the mariner and seek to determine whether we have deviated from our course, and what new reckonings we must make if our venture in democratic government is to be a success.

Our Constitution was born amid the throes of desperation. A war, recently ended, had left the colonies impoverished in resources and exhausted by the loss of their youth. Their common scheme of government, never successful, had completely broken down. . . . Only high faith, clear thinking and noble resolution could hope to win in that dark hour. On the twenty-fifth of May, 1787, there gathered in the historic old state house of Philadelphia, a little group of men. They were to make great history in the months that followed.

. . . Here was a conference of master minds, charged with the task of creating the principles which should bind men together under conditions strange to the field of government. . . . Finally, out of the darkness came a light, a dynamic force, a summary of the people's power. Under the solemn reverberations of the bell of liberty, eighty-four sentences were proclaimed to the world.

And what is the meaning of this document? . . . It opens with words new in the history of government. Not "His Royal Highness to His Obedient Subjects," but "We, the People" . . . Read between the lines—"the general Welfare" and "to ourselves and our posterity." . . . Does it not guarantee public rights against private aggression? It is, then, something more than a scheme of government. . . . It is symbolic of respect for all the laws, institutions and traditions that make our democracy possible, and failure to respect this, our charter of human rights, must be followed by failure to respect all lesser laws.

In the light of this knowledge, let us examine conditions as they exist today. We find ourselves the citizens of a great and powerful nation. . . . Our frontiers have disappeared. . . . As our contacts have grown more numerous, so have the opportunities for exercising personal liberty in ways exceedingly dangerous, grown in number. . . . Because of these common encroachments upon the rights of others, dozens of restrictions have been thrown around the individual, that were not necessary two generations ago.

Now what are some of the events which can be regarded in no other light than as a direct assault upon the outer defenses of legislation, and even upon the citadel of the Constitution itself? "Thou shalt not steal" is a fundamental law of society, yet in 1924 losses by embezzlement amounted to $125,000,000 . . . "Thou shalt not kill," yet in the same year 60,000 human lives were snuffed out by pistol, knife, and rope. . . Thus, a handful of men and women terrorize and defy millions of law-abiding citizens. . . But still more menacing, the last two generations have witnessed the assailing of the Constitution itself. The Grandfather Clauses of the South have, throughout large sections, made the Fifteenth Amendment a dead letter, and today, we witness an army of bootleggers besieging the Eighteenth Amendment.

Our colonial fathers regarded law and order as fundamental. . . The enthusiasm of our earlier history has been superseded, has it not, by a political lethargy which professes ideals of one hundred per cent Americanism, but sits back and shamelessly waits for government, law and order to right themselves? We demand obedience on the part of others, but personal liberty for ourselves. We assail the criminal, yet refuse to dedicate ourselves to the task of government in our own communities.

Friends, is it not time we stood up to say, "We, the people, rule?" We make law and order. We are the guardians of liberty. The citizen must devote himself to the business of the government. . . He must pledge himself to the enforcement of the laws he has helped to create. He must vote and then support his officials he has elected. I have no other message; I offer no other solution. There is none. It is for such citizenship we call today, a nation of men and women, devoted to the tasks that make possible law, order, democracy itself.

*"What constitutes a state?
Not high-raised battlements or labored mound.
Thick wall or moated gate;
No;—men, high-minded men;
Men who their duties know;
These constitute a state.
And sovereign law, that state's collected will,
O'er thrones and globes elate
Sits empress, crowning good, repressing ill."*

And so long as high-minded men, armored with the weapon of sovereign law, shall oppose their strength to the powers of darkness and the hosts of wickedness, America's future is secure.

GOOD-WILL OR GOLD

Nature has wisely provided that in the prosperity of today we shall forget the misfortunes of yesterday. Yet, there are some impressions stamped upon us so indelibly that, try as we may, we cannot totally efface them. 1927 marks a new high level of American progress and power. From sea to sea our nation presents a picture of greatness in social organization, in wealth, in industry, in government, probably unparalleled. In this our material well-being, there comes to all of us who prize moral values a searching question asked long ago: "What shall it profit a nation if it gain the whole world and lose its soul?" We have not yet gained the world. Neither have we yet lost our soul. Yet, we have gained enough of it that it is pertinent to repeat the question, and I do so in terms of events we know full well. Just ten years ago we plunged into the midst of a conflict in which the powers of the earth were pouring their treasures of gold and of youth upon the altar of war.

Humanity is now paying the price. In four years was wrought a destruction of material and human values so great that generations will pass before the combined efforts of nature and man shall have removed the evidence of that disaster. And more deadly still, over the nations like a pall, hang distrusts, suspicions, jealousies:—war's aftermath, and its very essence. It is from these that America suffers and I make bold to say that they concern our soul. . . .

What then is the situation? The cause of this ill-feeling is found in the question of inter-allied debts. President Wilson asked Congress for a declaration of war against the Central Powers. Shortly afterward Congress voted that our resources be made available to our allies. Almost at the same time credits were established and loans of money made. There followed our advancement of approximately nine and a half billion dollars. . . . Today, the United States demands payment of those sums plus interest varying with the nation concerned. . . .

Now can America justify her action? . . . Read the words of the national enactment authorizing the loans: "For the purpose of more effectually providing for the national security and defense, and for prosecuting the war." The security referred to is our security, and the war, our war. As such it was our sacred duty to defend our nation against the enemy. We were without means of immediate participation, unable, at the time, to put a man upon the battlefields. Yet the enemy advanced with redoubled energy. Every mile closer to Paris was a mile closer to Washington. Here was America's chance to strike with her gold, and strike she did. The line held until the doughboy arrived, and in due time came the armistice and victory. . . . Now face the question: "Who benefited by America's loan?" The allies, of course, but America also. . . . We advanced money. But they gave what all the wealth in the world cannot buy. . . . Before it was possible for us to die, they died, making with their slain bodies a barrier to stop the march of a relentless foe. . . . My friends, do I need to make clear that such a revision is nothing more than justice to those who repaid American gold with European manhood?

But it is more than a matter of justice. And that something more is, after all, what writes the vital history of nations and makes possible the real progress of the world—good-will. Good-will functions in every institution. . . . Human prosperity and happiness depend fundamentally, not on money, contracts, bargains, but on personalities, on friendship, on trust. . . . You recall the Boxer rebellion in 1900, when the world powers intervened in China. There was great loss of lives and property, for which the nations concerned demanded indemnities in money and concessions. The United States, too, suffered losses amounting to nearly eleven million dollars. What course did we follow? While other nations insisted on their claims, we waived our indemnity and thereby set an example of good-will to all the world. That action resulted in trade and friendly relations between the two nations, of great significance to both. . . .

Now if these illustrations be true, what will surely follow our action? In the first place it would pay in dollars and cents. Emnity never won a customer; good-will always does. . . . But this is only secondary. Emnity, too, makes war. Suppose we lost eleven billions by outright cancellation—for which I am not pleading. It would become as bread cast upon the waters to us in terms of leadership for world peace.

It is America's mission in the twentieth century to act the gospel of good-will. To such an attitude twentieth century civilization invites us. To such an action our history commends us. To such a cause our Christianity urges us.

*"America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood,
From sea to shining sea!"*

And even beyond the seas! Friends, I plead for an inter-allied conference to reconsider the debt situation. I plead for an American policy that prepares the way for a better world order than the past has seen; for there is a richer asset than the wealth in a nation's purse; there is a finer faith than that typified by notes that come due. "What shall it profit a nation if it gain the whole world and lose its soul?" Good-will or gold,—Which shall it be?

LOCAL PANHELLENIC

The local Panhellenic is composed of a faculty member or patroness, two upper-class women, and one lower-class woman from each sorority. The officers of Panhellenic are filled by the presidents in annual sequence. The Panhellenic organization acts upon rushing, pledging, initiation, and the standard of scholarship required of sorority members. It considers standards in social customs and the desirable regulation of social activities.

Alpha Tau Delta Fraternity has had a very successful year. Twelve men were initiated into the organization. Its members both here and in the field have continued to uphold the ideals of the fraternity in a most satisfactory manner. Indications are that the ensuing year will be one outstanding for the achievements of this group

This is the twenty-fifth anniversary of Kappa Phi Alpha, and the year has been one of the best in the history of the fraternity, not only from the standpoint of standing on the campus, but also from the instances of progress that the fraternity has made in building up among the members a stronger spirit of brotherhood and instilling in the new men the standards of all 'round manhood for which the fraternity was organized.

The membership of the brotherhood has been near to filling the quota all year. Nine men were initiated in the winter term which brought the number of actives up to 24. There are nine pledges at the time this article goes to press.

OUR COACHES

There are very few colleges in the United States able to boast of a coaching staff such as the Michigan State Normal College. Although seldom heard from, it is their influence and instructiveness that marks whether or not Ypsi's teams are on the top or bottom. If the team is a winner, the coaches work is regarded as matter of fact, but if the team starts to slide, he encounters criticism at every hand. The work of the players must not be overlooked but all the same someone must be there to tell them how, when, and what to do. This someone is either "Rynie," "Bing," "Doc," Lloyd Olds, or Mr. Samson.

OUR CAPTAINS 1926-1927

On every team there is always one man upheld by his mates as the leader. He must know the game, know how to lead his men, and how to play in a clean way. In cross country the captain was Jack Smith, in football Harry Ockerman, in basketball Joe Kazlusky, in baseball "Pat" Patterson, and in track Bernard Otto. Much credit is due these men for their efforts in keeping the laurels of the green and white from the dirt of poor sportsmanship. Ypsi has reasons for being proud of her captains.

CROSS COUNTRY

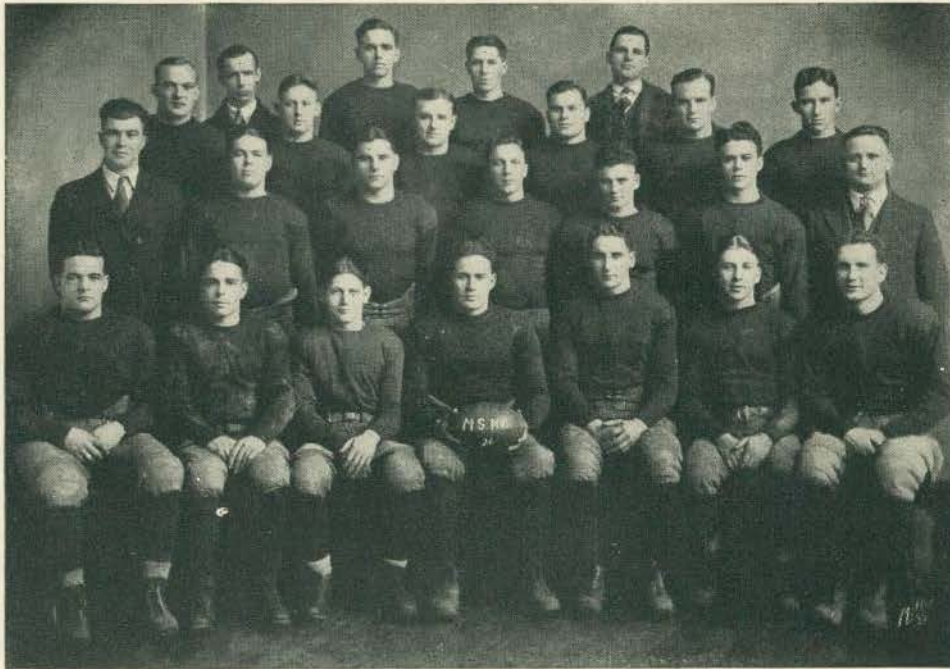

M. A. A. U. CHAMPIONS

Schedule for 1926

Detroit City College at Detroit
 Interclass meet at Ypsilanti
 Oberlin College at Ypsilanti
 Detroit Y. M. C. A. at Ypsilanti
 Hillsdale College at Ypsilanti
 Western State Normal at Kalamazoo
 State Intercollegiate at East Lansing
 State Open at Belle Isle

For the fourth consecutive year our hill and dale team won state intercollegiate honors of Michigan. The only defeat of the season was suffered at the hands of Detroit Y. M. C. A. by the close margin of one point. However, terms were evened when Ypsi defeated the "Y" at the state amateur meet at Belle Isle.

Captain Jack Smith, through his experience and consistency in placing among the leaders in every meet, was selected by the athletic committee as the most valuable man on the squad. Warren "Bill" Bailey, Captain-elect by virtue of his aggressive running, was low point man on the team and his chance to be the leader of a winning team next year appears very hopeful. Altafkr developed into the dark horse of the squad, for after setting off at a slow start, he finished the season in splendid form. Shepard and Boyd ran balanced races throughout the fall with their points helping to make the team a leader. Gaylor, Hanner, Wint, and Baker all came through when called upon and should show great development during the next year. Although the cross country team performed before few spectators and the sport is classed as a minor one, our team was composed of men in the finest physical and mental fitness to do the running which they have this year for Ypsi.

At the first call for football practice Coach Rynearson found himself swamped with candidates. Ten veterans from the championship team of '25 returned besides many new men from prep schools. From this squad of more than one hundred men, a group of about twenty were chosen to represent our college.

Led by Captain Harry Ockerman, the team came out ahead in every game except one. The second battle of the season was lost to Alma. From then on the eleven found its stride and ended the season in championship form. The line developed into a strong, aggressive forward wall, capable of smothering their opponents' plays even before given an opportunity to get under way. The backfield, led by Boyd, was fast and shifty enough to make repeated gains. Our total season's points were 115 to opponents' 12, Alma being the only team to succeed in crossing our goal line.

Gala day proved to be the biggest event of the year. With every student in college participating in the most spectacular parade ever attempted here, and with the football team winding up the season by tramping on "Kazoo," 19-0, homecoming was more than a banner day for the green and white.

With eight letter men back from last year's team as a nucleus, and with plenty of reserve material, prospects of a winning baseball team look bright. First and second are the only places left vacant from last year's nine, but already capable men are stepping in these berths. Through every practice Coach Ryncarson has kept his men right on the jump. They should be all set to start the season on the right foot. Every position is well fortified with the pitching staff improving steadily. For years Ypsi has had the reputation of always having a fast ball club, and this season should prove no exception.

First Row: Hester, B. Boyd, Sutherland, Fey, Potter, Olds (Coach), L. Boyd, Captain Otto, Allman, Bailey, Shepard. RELAY TEAMS

Already the relay teams have established a reputation throughout the East and Middle West. From Notre Dame, Illinois, and Columbus, Ohio, the men brought back statues, loving cups, gold watches and medals. At Columbus alone the Olds' men broke three records and tied another, a feat seldom accomplished and deserving of highest comment. Ypsi is fortunate in having a track coach and men of such high caliber.

Under Coach "Bingo" Brown, a former mentor of Colgate, the first swimming team since 1925 was revived to represent Ypsilanti. The first meet was held at East Lansing with State College; they won 41-19. After two more weeks of practice the squad found its strength and disposed of Toledo University and Hillsdale College in convincing style. In doing so the team showed ability in diving, breast stroke and back stroke. With two more meets on the schedule yet to be held, M. S. N. C. has a fine chance of making a creditable record. However, the swimming team will never be able to perform its best until a new gymnasium with a large pool is built, for, as it is now, the facilities for swimming are very limited.

NATURAL DANCING

Why Dance?

*For rhythmic sense of action free
We dance.*

*To make life what it ought to be
We dance.*

*We dance to bring us sweet release
From cares of day, and troubles ease
So that we come at last to peace
We dance.*

*For molding characters of worth
We dance.*

*To realize our aims on earth
We dance.*

*To thrust conventions that confine
Our spirits in too straight laced line
To bring much nearer the divine
We dance.*

“ A FOOL AND HIS JOKES ARE SOON STARTED ”

Why Teachers Get Gray

Eddie Fox (bright boy): “The ark was built in a warm country, wasn’t it, teacher?”
Miss Wilson: “Yes, what is now known as Asia Minor.”
E. Fox: “Then where did Noah get two Polar bears from?”
Miss Wilson: “Class dismissed.”

Heard in Normal News Office

C. Peake: “May I print a kiss on your lips?”
E. P.: “No, you aren’t my type.”

“Curly” Poling says his arm is like a detour; it goes around something that ought to be a good thing.

Jerry Hall (Frosh): “They tell me Red Shaughnessy is so hard that when he takes a bath he scratches the tub.”

Don’t need Darwin’s Evolution, a woman can make a monkey out of a man whenever she wants to.

Plea

*In the parlor, O my darling
When the lights are dim and low,
That your face is thickly powdered,
How am I, Sweetheart, to know?*

*Every week I have to carry
Every coat that I possess
To the cleaner’s—Won’t you, darlin’,
Love me more and powder less?*

Pat Smith: “Love me?”
Pearl B.: “NO.”
Pat (five minutes later): “Love me?”
Pearl: “NO. , , & .”
Pat: “Then sit on your own lap.”

Co-ed: “I’d like to leave school for the week-end; I want to visit my brother.”
Dean (absent-mindedly): “How long have you known him?”
Co-ed (worse): “About two weeks.”

Red Shaughnessy (performing at Kazoo game): “Let’s go, girls; show ’em your green and white supporters.”

Only a small per cent of our college girls are working girls; the rest are working men.

Better Than Worms

The early bird gets the hot water in the Chi Delt house.

Often Better

The college man is as good a dresser as his roommate is.

Red Spencer: "Does my hair bother you?"
Brute Chaffee: "You said a mouthful."

Helen Frostic: "I'd love to go on the house party."
Leona G: "That's how most girls get there."

Irene W.: "Writing a letter to your dad?"
Harriet Pitts: "No, a requisition."

Future Professions

Some of the M. S. N. C. "shining lights" would make good watch dogs as they are well trained "watching" in the corridors.

Knows the Ropes

Mabel Parks (lady passenger): "Could I see the captain?"
First Mate: "He's forward, Miss."
M. Parks: "I'm not afraid; I've been out with college boys."

Not That

Fair Co-ed visitor: "Are you a student?"
Harp. Britton: "No, I just go to college here."

Experience Teaches

Rosalie Schremes: "After all a canoe is about the only vehicle from which a girl cannot walk home."

1929 Normal News Report

Section of fire escape on the girl's dormitory fell down—five fellows were hurt.

Pat Patterson: "Where did you learn sign painting?"
Byron Boyd: "Well, you see, when I went to college, I had a flivver."

Meg Moon: "So you let Rod kiss you?"
Mary Moon: "How did you know?"
Meg: "He asked me this morning if I would forgive him."

Teddy Messner began his future career as a judge of debates when he congratulated the timekeeper for her splendid speech. Incidentally, she was the type that men prefer.

"Where the heart is the mind is." At least Leon found it so when he introduced the Mount Pleasant debaters as hailing from Mount Clemens.

First Pauper: "That girl you've started going with is a smart little gold digger."
Second Ditto: "Then all I've got to say is she's a ——— poor geologist."

Looks are Deceiving

Following the Mount Pleasant debate, the fellows attended an M. P. dance. This conversation ensued.

C. Forsythe (distinguished debater): "Isn't this a lovely evening?"
M. P. Co-ed: "Yes, but—I don't recall your name. Aren't you a traveling salesman?"
Exit Carl.

R. Gonser interviews the landlady. He tells her that college boys are inclined to be rough!

O'Geran: "How would you recognize a coin made 400 B. C.?"
Walker: "By the date, 400 B. C. stamped on it, of course."
