A master has revealed his portion of the great unfinished canvas, and now we call him dead.

I N M E M O R I A M

The vaunted power and magic of words seem puny and common when the spirit—the vibrant living force of a living man—must be portrayed in cold type on a cold page. Dr. Lyman, a giant in stature and in heart, lives on in the minds of his students and fellow workers. To describe him in terms of the subject he loved most, he was a positive individual, never negative; he was a real and rational force in college, community and state; and the integration of his qualities by those who knew him results not only in "Here is a man", but also "Here is a friend".

MEN'S UNION OFFICERS

Ray Lowry	President
Homer Parker	Vice-President
Fred Beckmann	Secretary
Dean Rockwell	Treasurer

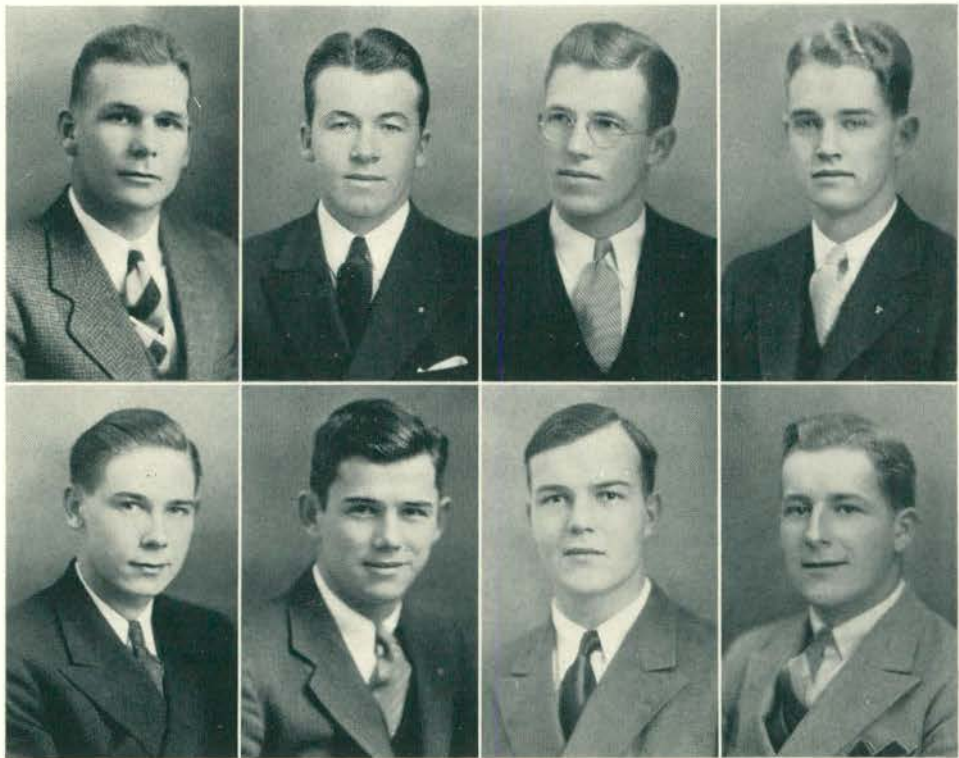

The Men's Union of Michigan State Normal College again, as in the past, distinguished itself as the outstanding organization on the campus. The nineteen hundred and thirty-five organization of the Union ranked well above such organizations on other campuses throughout the United States. The basis for this statement is taken from information gathered from statistics which President Ray Lowry collected at the National Conference of Men's Union Presidents, held at Purdue University.

MEN'S UNION

At the beginning of the college year, under a New Deal and F. E. R. A. jobs for all, the Men's Union promptly started preparation for the premiere of Homecoming celebrations. The Homecoming festivities, under the general chairmanship of Ray Lowry, were built around the theme of the Huron Indians. The prizes for floats and house decorations were cups which will be rotated each year and will become the permanent possession of the organization winning either trophy three times.

In their next undertaking, the men again set the precedent for parties which were to follow, in presenting the most successful and colorful of "Drags". Music was furnished by Duane Yates and his famous band. Decorations were in black and silver with one hundred and fifty silver stars studding the stage which was draped in black with "Yule Log Drag", lettered in silver in Old English, across the back. Sparkle was added to the decorations by two spotlights—one of green and one of red, directed upon the stage.

Precedent is not to be taken lightly; so with this thought in mind and with memories of the "Drag" still vivid, the Union members produced the 1935 edition of the Spring Breeze. This "Breeze" was virtually a windstorm as those who were at the party will attest. The orchestra was excellent and did its best to make the wilted students throw off the thought of classes and enjoy themselves.

MEN'S UNION EXECUTIVE BOARD

The Executive Board of the Men's Union for 1935 was an outstanding organization dedicated to service and co-operation. The Executive Board, presided over by Ray Lowry, was very active in keeping alive campus tradition. Under the guidance of the Executive Board, the Homecoming celebration, Yule Log Drag and Spring Breeze became realities.

The Board also suggested the changes in the conduct of the class games and urged the men to observe the rules concerning smoking on the campus. It was through the efforts of Robert Arnold, Senior representative, that Ellsworth Vines was brought to our campus.

The Executive Board is always ready to do things, hence it has started plans for a Musical Comedy, which will be given next year.

Too much credit for the success of 1935 Men's Union cannot be given those men who worked unceasingly for the promotion of the welfare of the men on this campus.

(Signed) Fred L. Beckmann
Secretary, Men's Union, 1935

MEN'S UNION MEETINGS

Three meetings were held per term throughout the year. Important business completed during the year was the passing of uniform rules governing fall class games. Heretofore the games were poorly organized from the standpoint of rules and regulations.

Other outstanding events of the year included personal appearances on the campus of outstanding men in the sport world. The persons brought to the Michigan Normal Campus by the Men's Union included Ellsworth Vines, tennis star; Jim Londos, wrestling champion, and Mickey Cochrane, Manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Early in the winter term, the baseball film, "Play Ball" was shown to the men of the campus through the courtesy of the American League Baseball Association and the Wuerth Theatre.

Much of the credit for the success of the Men's Union of 1935 must be given Dean James M. "Bingo" Brown for unfailing cooperation and guidance.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Women's League has a three-fold purpose. It endeavors to offer to every League member the opportunity to develop the technique of friendliness, leadership, co-operation, and democracy. It sponsors a program that provides education in cultural use of leisure time. It co-operates with the faculty in maintaining proper standards of college life.

The social program includes teas for transfer students, honor students, and householders, the Harvest Hop, the June Jig, and the Co-ed Prom, which this year took the form of a Reincarnation Party.

For each class the League sponsors a club: Viventes offers freshman women social orientation; sophomores continue this program through the Goldfeather Club; in Euthalia, the junior women study and attend the best current plays; the senior women, through Book-a-Month, review novels of distinction.

Intellectual life is stimulated through Faculty Chats and Women's League Assemblies. Women students excelling in forensics, scholarship, creative writing, art, and music receive awards.

The League has an outstanding Campus Sister program. During Freshman Week a freshman woman is under the care of a Campus Sister, who helps her in adjusting herself to college life.

The Women's League is a member of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students. The president of the League attends its annual convention. This year the president-elect attended the National Convention held at the University of Indiana.

CLASS DAY

For Class Day activities Gerald Tape was chosen valedictorian and Eloise Tillotson salutarian.

Mary Claire Rice read the class history; William Bilto the prophecy; and Eleanor Perry the class will.

The class poet was Vivian Lantz; the soloist, Alice Cook; and the orator, Richard Delaforce.

Through these, the past four years were reviewed and the coming ones glimpsed.

LANTERN WALK

With "grave and measured tread" the seniors, clad in cap and gown and carrying lighted lanterns, made a stately march of farewell to the campus on Friday evening June twenty-first.

Following Ken Howe, general chairman, the procession halted at the buildings in turn, and a tribute was paid to each by a member of the class: Administration Building, Howard Sechrest; Welch Hall, Ruth Hallman; Pierce Hall, Elizabeth Howey; Library, Anna Quackenbush; Science Building, Paul Bartlett; Men's Gym, Glen Haidt; Women's Gym, Leola Barnes; Health Cottage, Dean Rockwell; Starkweather, Doris Ferris; McKenny Hall, John Soule; Roosevelt, Eleanor Hutson; and the Science Gardens, Roy Ostlund.

SENIOR HISTORY

Four years ago, through the completion of Charles McKenny Hall, there began a new social life for M. S. N. C. students, and into this new life came a group of six hundred wearers of green buttons and those ornamental headgears called Frosh "pots". These newcomers mingled their exclamations of admiration with those of the upper-classmen as the wonders and possibilities of the new building were shown them. But not all their days could be spent in this delightful building. There were the dizzying complications of classification, instructions concerning the use of the library, frantic searchings for classrooms. In spite of all this, the class organized itself into an efficient working group with Rudolph McCulloch, Cora May Dwelle, and Mary Claire Rice as class officers.

As Sophomores, the class made plans for the year under the leadership of Yates Kennedy and Professor Pray. As Sophs, the class came out on the short end of the rope in the class games. Notwithstanding this, it placed many valuable men on the varsity teams. It was well represented on the student government boards and in debate and oratory.

The junior year, with Robert Wilson as president, was made famous by the huge success of the J-Hop. The college danced to the music of Henry Finney in a modernistically decorated ballroom.

The final year was filled with momentous preparation for graduation. Again Robert Wilson headed the class and managed the traditional Skip Day, Lantern Walk and Class Day.

THE J-HOP

True to its standard, the class of 1936 offered a J-Hop on February fifteenth, finished in detail. To picture the dance is to present evidence of unprecedented co-operation of the chairman, his committees, and the entire class.

One of the largest crowds of the year danced to the smooth, cosmopolitan music of Freddie Fisher and his fourteen piece Edgewater Beach Hotel Orchestra until one-thirty.

The program committee selected blue leather programs trimmed in red. Gold compacts with Ypsi seals made novel favors. Meeting rooms on the second floor near the ball-room were magically transformed into lounges. The grand march was unusual since it was not confined to the ballroom, nor even to the upper floor.

Chaperones were Dean and Mrs. James M. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Steimle. President John M. Munson, Dean and Mrs. Charles L. Anspach, Dean Lydia Jones, Professor and Mrs. Lloyd Olds, Professor and Mrs. Frank Whitehouse, Professor and Mrs. Paul Misner, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stahl, and Mrs. Fannie Cheever Burton were honorary guests.

J - H O P

Indirect lighting, in pastel blue and red, from modernistic tubes along the side walls, lent a soft atmosphere to the ballroom of Charles McKenny Hall. On the stage were silver and white lighted columns against a dark background. Blue and red candles and two modernistic tubes decorated the cafeteria where refreshments reflecting the color scheme were served to groups of dancers at intervals during the evening. A violin and piano furnished music downstairs.

The J-Hop of the class of 1936 was remarkable for the smooth efficiency of the arrangements and the brilliant music of the band.

JUNIOR HISTORY

As freshmen, the class of '36 defeated the sophomores in the class games. As sophomores, they overpowered the new freshmen. As juniors, they commenced the year by capturing the silver loving cup for the best float in the Homecoming parade.

Under the leadership of Walter Whitehouse, the first business meeting was conducted in style worthy of the best parliamentarian. To fill the vacancies left by Johnny Johnson and Dorothy Ellen Cook, who did not return to school, Frances Atwell was elected secretary and Natalie Herrick was elected vice-president.

As a preview to the J-Hop, the class gave a mixer on January 30. Features of the evening included a waltz contest. Skilled dancers caused the judges great difficulty in awarding the jade ring and formal stud set, the prizes for the event.

After the contest, the juniors betook themselves to the cafeteria where the door prize, an electric timepiece especially designed for eight-o'clocks, was presented.

The supreme event of the year! The J-Hop of the class of '36! With a maid for the ladies, a doorman for the gentlemen, the guests found themselves transported into an atmosphere of elegance.

Members of the class had prominent places in extra-curricular activities. They represented the college in the state oratorical contest, debating, and the state interpretative reading contest. Their names were found in the cast of "Paris Bound", and in musical activities. Heading the Normal News was the class president, with many juniors filling places on his staff.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

The first class to begin its career with President Munson marked its history with several triumphs during the school year, 1934-1935.

James Matthews succeeded William Smith as president. George Wendt took the place formerly held by Jula Evans, that of vice-president. Christy Wilson replaced Betty Von Eberstein as treasurer, and Carl Newman followed Dan Caton as secretary.

The Sophomores won a signal victory over the Frosh in the Homecoming games, despite the superior numbers of the opposing wearers of the green paint. To add to the enthusiasm which attended the Homecoming parade, the class entered an Indian float in harmony with the theme of Huron Days.

The social functions of the year began with a fall term mixer which featured a startling and somewhat embarrassing robbery, and that naive and chronic columnist, Wilbur Knott, who until that time had been suspected of being the greenest of freshmen. The winter term mixer followed, planned by the ingenious chairman of the fall term success. A spring party closed the social calendar of the Sophomores as a class.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

The class was well represented in many fields and took its part in campus government by having two members on the Men's Union Executive Board, two committee chairmen and one member-at-large on the Women's League Executive Board, and two women on the Advisory Board.

Continuing their success in the field of sports, the Sophomores maintained representatives in football, basketball, track, boxing, and baseball.

In dramatics also the class was outstanding, for in addition to a Sophomore playing the leading feminine role in the winter term play, "Paris Bound", four of the supporting cast also were members of the class. Sophomores participated, too, in the field of debate.

The class has truly become a part of the college, for its members are found in every phase of campus activity.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

The girls were quickly taken under the wings of campus sisters, but the fellows were allowed to shift for themselves with a chance to demonstrate a bit of that masculine fortitude. Although our superiors distributed green pins and pots as symbols of our rank, we did not become fully aware of their true significance until threats and monitions turned into too realistic duckings, and we came to realize that freshmen were, indeed, of questionable importance in the eyes of upper classmen. Less strenuous but no less mortifying was the Women's League assembly, at which the freshmen girls were allowed to relinquish their green emblems after the humiliating admission that they were but lowly earthworms.

We took up our first business of the year when we gathered in Welsh Auditorium and elected our new officers. After listening to the candidates' speeches—an innovation—we finally chose the following: Abram Hodge, president; Mary Jane Coe, vice-president; Ruth Halleran, secretary; William Lyons, treasurer. These students lost no time in naming committees to arrange for the Freshman Mixer, which was held November 10, 1934, and went down on the record as a very successful party.

When you work you are a flute through whose heart the whispering
of the hours turns to music.

Which of you would be a reed,
dumb and silent, when all else sings in unison?

PI KAPPA DELTA

Michigan Epsilon Chapter

Pi Kappa Delta is a national honor forensic society consisting of one hundred forty chapters. It now has 13,171 members. The local chapter was installed in 1921.

PI KAPPA DELTA TOURNAMENT

On March 22 and 23 the colleges of "The Province of the Lakes" of Pi Kappa Delta held their bi-annual Tournament in Debate, Oratory and Extemporaneous Speaking at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio. This Province reaches from Maine to Michigan and South to the Ohio river. Ninety-two contestants from seventeen colleges entered the various events. Mary Joan Purcell won first place in Women's Extemporaneous Speaking, LaVon Cutcher won second place in Women's Oratory, and Arthur Hughes won third place in Men's Oratory. The Men's Debate team, Arthur Hughes and Dick Lichtenfelt, was eliminated in the fourth round of debates, after nine of the seventeen schools had been dropped, losing to Kent College who later won the tournament. Professor Harry T. Wood, Director of Men's Debate, was elected Provincial Governor for the next two years. Next year the National Tournament will be held in Houston, Texas, and the following year the Provincial Tournament will be held at Kalamazoo College.

NORMAL CHOIR AT THE CASS THEATRE

DECEMBER 16, 1934

"Then they sang—sweetly, simply, thrillingly, movingly. The hush of the voices when they whispered 'This was in Judea, very far away'; the tenderness of that poignant couplet, 'We will serve you all we can, Darling, darling little man'; the emotional sweep of the Gospodi Pomilui; the towering eminence of Bach in the "Sanctus"—all these are unforgettable moments in a precious afternoon, an afternoon on which Grieg, Mendelssohn, Mozart and Tchaikovsky might well have been proud to collaborate with the kindly gentleman you and I know as Fred Alexander.

"In an age in which perhaps too great emphasis is placed on new art forms in music, painting, poetry and architecture, it is well that there is among us one who is content to celebrate the Christian festival with something of the simplicity of its mighty Founder."—Al Weeks, Detroit dramatic and music critic.

ORCHESTRA

"The quality of this orchestra is attested not only by the complimentary things which visiting critics have said, but by the programs which they undertake."—John Erskine, President of Juilliard School of Music and Noted Novelist.

"This orchestra amazed me. It played with genuine skill. The tonal quality, the ensemble, and the general spirit of the organization is indeed noteworthy for an institutional body."—A. Walter Kramer, Editor of Musical America.

THE BAND

The Band plays an important role in college activities, both on the gridiron in the fall and as a concert organization throughout the year. Uniformed in professional black, trimmed with college green and white, it presents a brilliant appearance both on the march and on the stage. It has earned an excellent reputation for precision in evolutions, as well as for musical proficiency. Trophies are awarded the members for meritorious service. Membership is open to all students.

WODESO CLUB — WOMEN'S DEBATE

The Wodeso Club celebrated its 20th year by carrying out the largest intercollegiate schedule in its history, thirty-eight debates. Mary Joan Purcell, president; Catherine Daly, vice-president; Margaret Evans, Mary Louise Sheppard and Lavon Cutcher constituted the old members. Out of its membership of eighteen, twelve participated in intercollegiate debates. Of the eighteen debates, nine were won and nine lost. The question was: "A policy of development toward collectivism, under our present form of representative government, should be adopted by the United States."

GENERAL ORATORY

The forty-sixth annual general oratory contest took place in the ballroom, December 4, 1934. The judges chose from the six speakers Lavon Cutcher and Grady McKay, both juniors, as the college orators. Miss Cutcher selected as her subject for discussion the movie situation in America and entitled it "Young America Sees the Movies". Mr. McKay's theme was centered about the title, "Bear Oil", and was a discussion of advertising and salesmanship and their relation to the capitalist system. They participated in the state contest held at Hope College, March 1. Among the eight contestants, Miss Cutcher was awarded fifth place and Mr. McKay tied for fourth place. Miss Cutcher competed March 22 in the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial Tournament at Dennison University and placed second among eight speakers.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING

The Normal College representatives in the Fifth Annual State Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, which was held at Michigan State College, November 27, were Mary Joan Purcell and Joseph Ludwig. Among the fourteen contestants each was awarded eighth place. Miss Purcell spoke upon "Industrial Democracy" and Mr. Ludwig upon "Limiting Incomes and Inheritances".

Miss Purcell competed on March 22 in the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial Tournament at Dennison University and among seven contestants was awarded first place.

INTERPRETATIVE READING

For three years the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League has sponsored an interpretative reading contest-festival. M. S. N. C. entertained at the first in 1933. Last year the contest-festival was held at Olivet College and both M. S. N. C. representatives placed in the contest and read in the festival. This year Mary Smith and Donald Gill were chosen to represent us in the 1935 meeting at Wayne University, where both placed first in the state, and read over Station WXYZ late in the evening after the festival. Miss Stowe has served as state faculty director of the Interpretative Reading division for three years.

PEACE ORATORY

In November, 1934, James Yarger was chosen college Peace Orator. He chose to discuss the shortcomings of nationalism and to make a plea for the international spirit, under the title, "Stage-coach Nationalism". On April 12 at Wayne University, he was chosen as one of three speakers in the Eastern Divisional Contest to enter the state contest held at Michigan State Normal College.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. is to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We have worked toward the attainment of a satisfying philosophy of life. Worship has played a part in our matins, and intelligent thinking in our jury panels. We have found joy in service to others. That our horizons might be broadened, we entertained twenty foreign students. In order to weave it all together, we have listened, at our Lunch-of-the-Month meetings, to faculty members explain their philosophy of life.

STUDENT RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

Arthur Hughes	President
Ella Mae Sturdevant	Secretary
Doris Ferris	Treasurer

Student representatives from the Baptist, Congregational, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, and Presbyterian Churches, and from the Y. W. C. A. comprise the Student Religious Council. This organization is making a serious effort to unify the religious program of the campus. The projects of this year have included two interdenominational meetings each term, inter-cabinet meetings, and inter-church parties. The Council planned a week of religious emphasis ending in an Easter Dawn Service in Science Gardens.

Prior to this year, there have been two dramatic societies on the campus, the Normal Players and the Laonians. The merging of these societies in the fall term brought forth the Mimes. A series of programs has been presented, composed of one-act plays and readings. The vital new feature of the club's work has been the "road experience" offered this year. Several of the play casts travelled to nearby towns and rural schools to present plays for parent-teachers groups.

Professor Hollister of the Speech Department of the University of Michigan addressed a meeting of the Mimes. Theatre parties and fine speakers were featured on the spring schedule of this progressive new club.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The social committee, composed of six members from the two upper classes, assists the social director in planning college parties. It is the duty of the members to get opinions from the students about the parties in order to give the kind of parties that the students enjoy most.

In addition to the regular all-college dances on Friday nights, two cabaret parties were held. The students were most enthusiastic over this type of party. The Homecoming Dance had the largest attendance of all the dances of the year.

The local Panhellenic, which has been active on this campus since 1926, is composed of representatives from both local and national sororities.

It has been a yearly custom for Panhellenic to award a loving cup each term to the sorority having the highest scholastic rating. Theta Sigma Upsilon won the cup for its fine record of the 1934 spring term. This year Panhellenic voted to substitute for the loving cup an award of books to the two or three sorority girls who have the highest scholastic rating for the year. This award was made at an all-sorority dinner during the spring term, to Eleanor Perry, Vivian Lantz, and Virginia Ross.

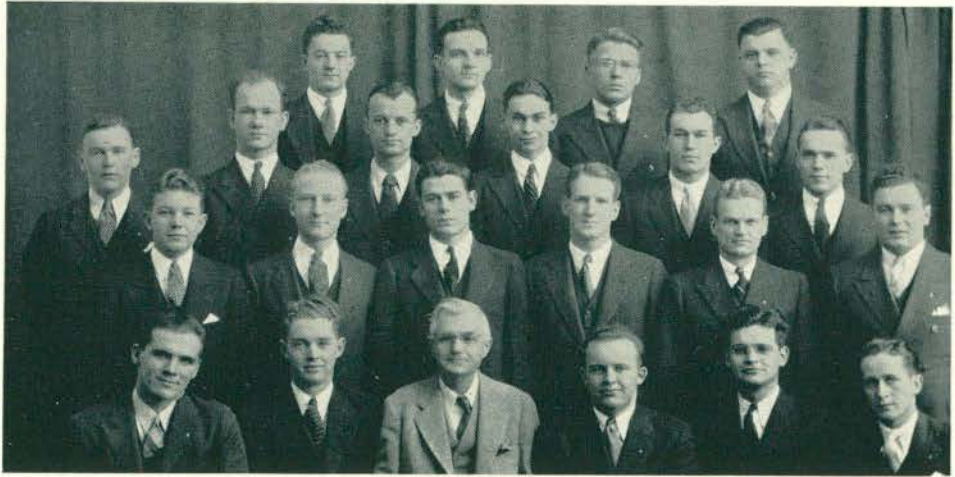

In the winter term Panhellenic sponsored both a tea for freshman women and a dance which was attended by sorority members, pledges, and friends.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Formed with the objective of furthering a spirit of unity among the men's social groups on the campus, the Interfraternity Council has proved itself of real value in the past year.

The Interfraternity closed dance on November seventeenth, and the Interfraternity banquet on March eleventh, were two of the ventures which did much to foster a feeling of friendship among the various Greek letter societies on the campus.

FROM FARM TO FORTUNE

By Horatio Alger, Jr.

CHAPTER I

Once upon a time, there descended from the Upper Peninsula a young Swede who made a name for himself in Michigan State Normal College, as a slow-spoken, direct debater.

• • • •

CHAPTER XL

Then once upon a time, not so very long ago, there descended, again, from the Upper Peninsula, the former President of Marquette College, who was the former student of the first chapter, to become the still slow-spoken and direct President of the college he once attended.

TWILIGHT OF YOUTH

Silent and sweet as summer evenings are;
The western sky, subsiding to a spent
Rose-taupe remembrance of the sun's descent,
Hung from the furtive flicker of a star;
Brown, melting shadows stretched across the ground,
Beneath a dripping disc of mellow moon;
Then sudden crickets singing, and the tune
Converted to a strange, soft, moonlit sound.

So come our youthful twilights, when we stand
Touched by the soft, dim light of years to come,
And feeling in our nostrils all the sweet
Perfume of life and living; on one hand,
Today grows dim, and on the other, some
Prophetic moon throws shadows at our feet.

—Keith Cox

COMPENSATION

If we should always dwell upon the heights
The very mountain tops would seem a plain;
And should we drink continuous of delights,
They soon would be insipid, stale and vain.

There is zest in climbing to the rare attained
And rosy peak, seen from the vale below.
The cup of joy that is not often drained
Lures ever with its sparkle and its glow.

—Johanna A. Sabourin

THE SCIENCE GARDENS AND BEYOND

—in spring—

My heart is plastic, and these knolls and ridges
Mold it to shape their own similitude.
My heart is all one wide and soft, green smoothness,
Rolling and dipping in a verdant mood.

My heart is fertile and it brings forth beauty,
Pale, glowing blossoms on a leafless tree,
And close and far and filling full the distance,
Green branches where the gray ones used to be.

My heart's a symphony and in the passage,
A swift and smooth cadenza for the flute,
Till suddenly, against the hinted twilight,
A bird is silent and the whole world mute.

My heart is liquid and it clinks and gurgles
Over a thick, gray root above the ground;
My heart is vast and tremulously placid
And sparkles splashlessly without a sound.

My heart is quiet and the day is ended;
The humming twilight dims and disappears.
Now I have closed my heart and shut within it
Enough of beauty for a million years.

—Keith Cox

EARLY MORNING

Let me steal one more crumb
From the banquet of Sleep
In the hall of the Castle of Rest.
When the day bugle calls
And the portcullis falls,
The crumbs snatched in haste
Taste the best.

—Johanna A. Sabourin

HOME COMING

Huron Days, conceived and directed by Robert Arnold and John Hutchinson, co-chairmen of Homecoming, and Ray Lowry, president of the Men's Union, marked the gala week-end of the year.

The tug-of-war between the Freshmen and Sophomores put a dramatic finish to the traditional rivalry between the two lower classes with the Sophomores emerging victorious.

Sprinting, pushing, broken heels, and several black eyes characterized the annual foot-race from an inspiring pep meeting at Pease Auditorium to the Wuerth Theatre Friday evening.

Weird braves and squaws of every tribe and color were in evidence during the Big Parade. There were noise makers, toy guns, and tomahawks enough to make the bravest pale-face wish he hadn't ventured into the midst of this Huron ceremonial. Prizes were awarded to the Junior Class, Women's League, and W. A. A. for originality in float decoration.

The football team, spurred to a winning pitch before a crowd of five thousand "alums" and students defeated St. Viators 13-0. During the half, Ray Lowry awarded prizes for floats and house decoration.

Dr. Charles Anspach as master of ceremonies and "Bingo" Brown as main speaker made the Football Banquet a live affair. Clare Wigell's band played to the largest crowd ever accommodated in McKenny Ballroom.

RE-INCARNATION NIGHT

The Co-ed Prom, the annual Women's League masquerade party, was held March sixteenth, at McKenny Hall. At this Re-incarnation party everyone dressed according to her suppressed desire. Two groups evinced their desire to be the famous Dionne family, and the prize for the cleverest costumes went to Roberta Chapel and Verona Blair as Mr. and Mrs. Dionne, and to Gertrude Deal, Effie Mulcrone, Miriam Jolliffe, Jessie Prentice and Betty Stanaway, as their progeny.

The prize for the handsomest couple went to Ruth Holleran and Connie Dudley, who came as bride and groom. The prettiest costume prize was won by Bo-Peep, personified by Mavis Nash, and the funniest couple award was taken by Arlene Munn and Clara Walker, dressed as southern darkies. The best character portrayal was done by Helen Harding as Dr. Dafoe.

"The Executive Board in 1857" was interpreted by the present Women's League Executive Board, dressed in old-fashioned array. Margaret Owen and Nell Martin waltzed their way to a prize in the waltz contest. Music was furnished by Clare Wigell and his orchestra, assisted by a trio composed of Marian Meisel, Mary Janchuk, and Mary Smith. Frank Walton entertained the re-incarnated co-eds with tap dancing.

THE SCAPEGOAT

This world's a sorry place. We live to die,
And dying leave no answer to the why
We ask while living; though our voice ascends
To Heaven pleading, there is no reply.

All our life's a question. We are born
From nowhere, naked, in a cold, forlorn,
And ruthless world. We live, grow old, and then?
We disappear with no one left to mourn.

There are those who'd gladly point the way.
The ones who answer thus: Learn how to pray,
And others just as blindly wise: Not Gods,
But for humanity we live, they say.

This world's a stepping stone to better things,
Some answer, with the dream of harps and wings,
And golden street; some make the same reply
But with the dream of Hell that conscience brings.

This is what the man of science tells—
Man is a process—made up of myriad cells.
All different? Yes, of course. Why, I don't know.
Oh no! not God. In them no spirit dwells.

Agnostic, unbeliever, and the priest
All have an answer ready, and the least
That we can do is listen—though we laugh.
And laughing raises man above the beast.

No act is neutral. It's good or bad because
Man has made a set of moral laws
For man to keep or break. We break or keep Them inadvertently—or for applause.

Our sins, do they die with us or exist
To plague our heirs? It's written: They persist.
But what are sins that they should thus remain
Sole monuments long after we are missed?

In ages past the scapegoat bore the blame.
Each year a priest heaped all the tribal shame
On an old goat's head, then drove it out to die,
While a people praised and shouted their god's name.

Poor guiltless goat! Doomed by divine decree
To death, and those who sinned are free!
Does sin live on? Or perish with the goat?
And what is sin? Man asks eternally.

Then what of wrongs that were the goat's alone?
Could it be dying for the tribe, atone
For its mistakes? The scheme of things is false!
Who but the debtor should repay the loan?

Yet all this talk of nothing leads us—where?
Lacking a goal, for what must we prepare?
Existence is uncharted. There is an end
We know; however, that's not our affair.

Again the voice ascends! A prayerful wail
To never present Heaven—it too will fail.
No answering voice is heard. All gods are dead—
All vanquished by iconoclastic hail.

Each generation bears its crop of woes.
The generation dies, and fate bestows
On the succeeding one the former's cares.
Scapegoat for the sin some other sows.

So we're the scapegoat. Heaped upon our head
Are all the sins of those who now are dead,
Or should be, and we struggle on to die.
It were better if it were our sins instead.

Priest-like the elder generation stands
Above us; just as priest-like, it demands
That we not only bear the blame, but how.
And, just as goat-like, we heed its commands.

I think that man is born for better things.
Truly to fly—not vainly wish for wings.
The nature of the beast keeps us on ground
The hawk brings down the smaller bird that sings.

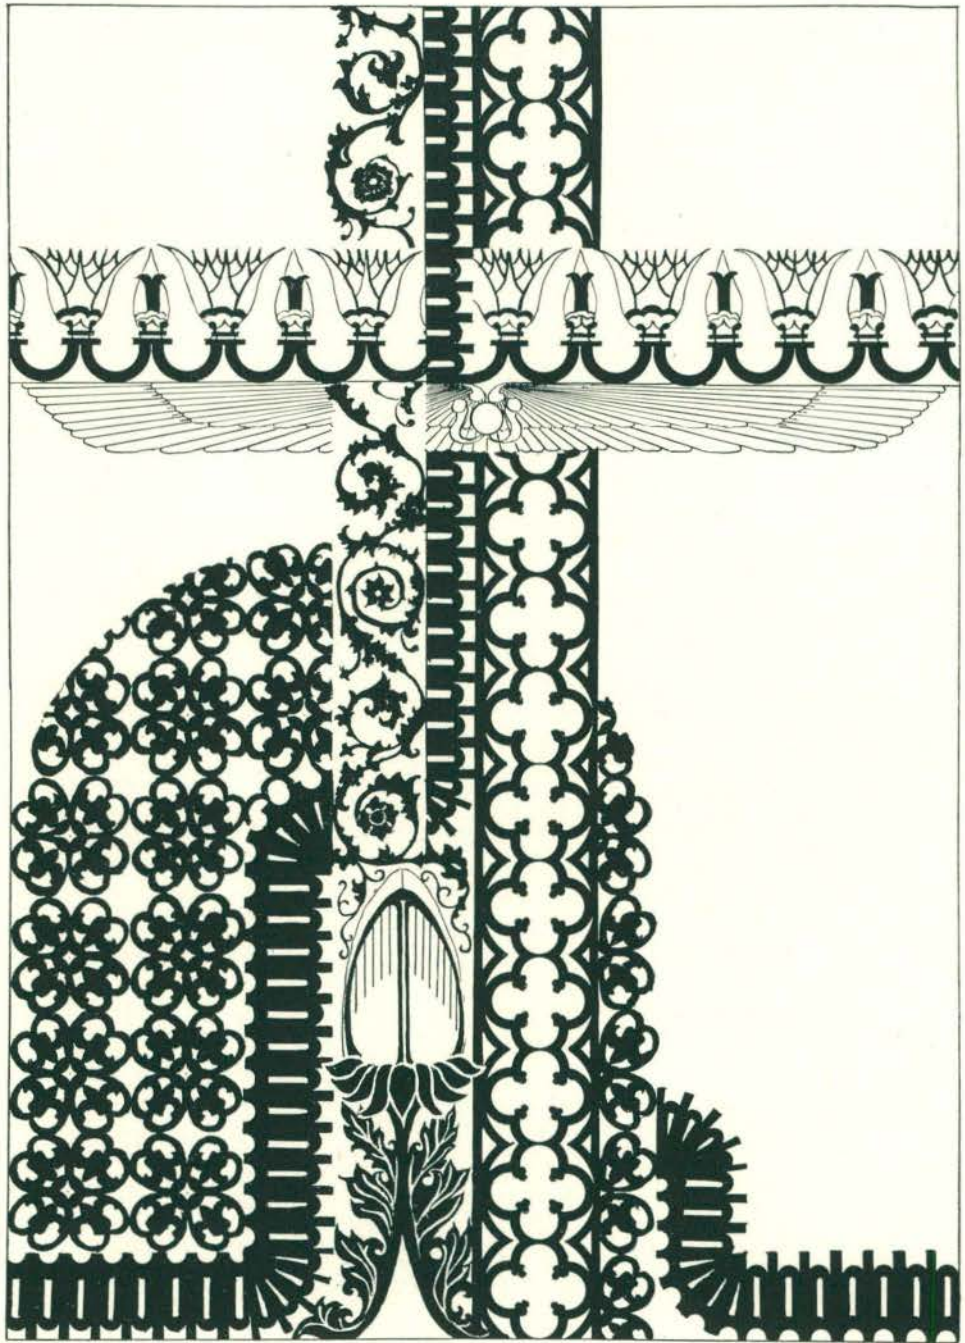

If man could but be born untrammelled, free,
Without the elder's burden constantly
Upon his head, then life would be a joy
And man a butterfly, not just a bee.

But we can mould our lives into the shape
We so desire! Yes, meaninglessly ape
Our predecessors who have been called great.
Birth casts a die from which there is no 'scape.

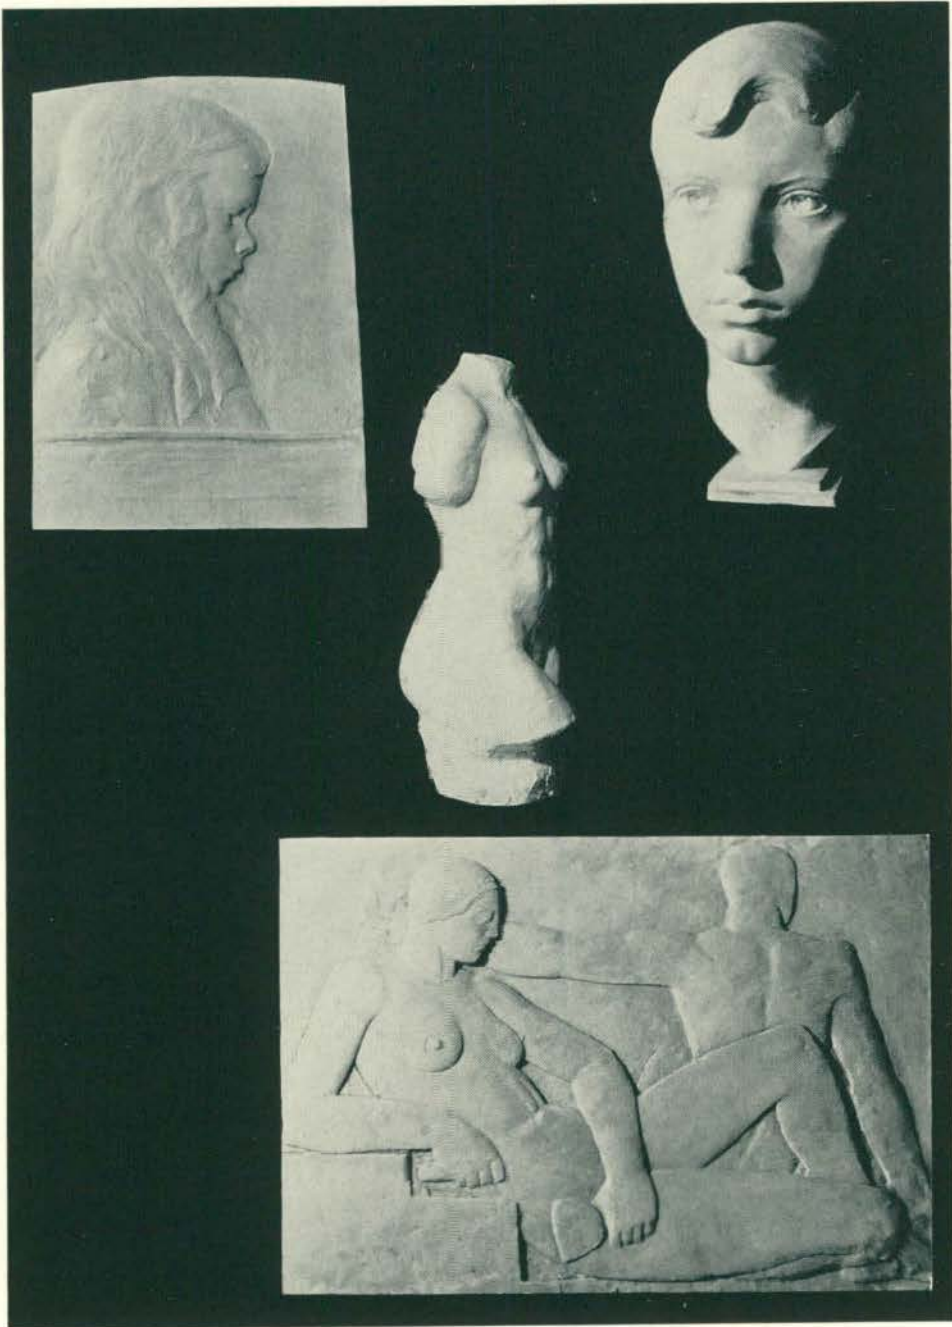

From infancy our thoughtless heads are crammed
With knowledge—till the gap of time is spanned;
Our minds are up-to-date, and we are sent
Out in the world—a scapegoat to be damned.

Again we talk of nothings. What's the end?
If there is no answer, can we hope to mend
With idle mouthings the problems of the years?
If there is a way, on what does hope depend?

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Coach Rynearson's gridders from the first days of their early practice showed that the Hurons this year would not be a team lightly regarded by any opponent. With men of such ability as Captain Earl, Hanneman, the two Wilson brothers, Jarosch, Parker, Dirkse, Welever, and Rovinsky, a bright future loomed for the Hurons.

NORTHERN STATE

Our first game, with Northern State Teachers on October 6, gave the coach a good chance to evaluate his men. The Ypsi warriors won an easy victory by a score of 26 to 6. The second game at Cedar Rapids, against Iowa State Teachers, was a disastrous one. In spite of the valiant fight put up by Rynie's grid-men and the brilliant performances of Welever, Parker and Jarosch, the final score was Iowa State 33, Ypsilanti 0.

CENTRAL STATE

On October 20, the team journeyed to Mount Pleasant to lose a heart-breaker to Central. The Michigan Normal players lost in the last twenty-three seconds of play. The final score was Central 14, Ypsilanti 13. In this game the whole team distinguished itself, but Jarosch, Parker, Hanneman and Rovinsky excelled. The cold, raw, rainy, October 27 game was played at home. Our team plowed and splashed to a 13 to 6 victory over Alma on a sloppy field.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

HOMECOMING

On our day of days, Homecoming, the boys outdid themselves and trounced a strong St. Viators team 13 to 0. Every man on the team played "heads-up" ball, with Jim Dirkse a shade in the lead.

FERRIS

Our next game, with Ferris, played at home, resulted in a close game, with the Hurons winning 9 to 7. No spectacular ball was played by either team.

TERRE HAUTE

November 17 finished a successful season for the Michigan Normal boys when they travelled to Terre Haute, Indiana, to trample the Indiana State Teachers College under by a 33 to 4 score. In this game the two Wilson brothers, Dirkse, Welever and in particular, Butch Parker and Bob Jarosch did outstanding work.

At a post-season meeting their team-mates honored Jarosch and Parker by electing them co-captains of next year's team. This is the first time in the history of Michigan Normal football teams that co-captains have been elected.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Coach Harry Ockerman and Captain Haidt found eight veterans and promising material from last year's freshman team at the start of the 1935 season. These sturdy Normal basketeers faced a tremendously difficult schedule. At first it seemed that Hanneman, star forward, would be unable to play. Coach Ockerman began a series of rigid training sessions to prepare his men for a hard season.

The cagers responded to their training and finished their schedule of fifteen games with eight victories. It speaks well for these men that they were never beaten by a lop-sided score. In the game with Michigan the score was: Michigan Normal 26, U. of M. 27. Armour Tech won by the slight margin of 38 to 36.

To sum up all of the games, of which many were played on two or three consecutive days, we find that the Huron team scored 427 points as against 417 scored by all their opponents.

Captain Haidt, Dirkse, and Hanneman turned in stellar performances, showing outstanding ability in combining offensive and defensive play.

In the post-season election of the 1935-36 captain, his teammates honored "Chuck" Hanneman by electing him, showing their appreciation of his ability and sportsmanship.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Olds called out his 1934 cross country team with the knowledge that three of the varsity men were veterans in the long distance game, Rosenkrantz, Werbin, and Zepp. Both Gibbs and Caplis had made many stirring runs for Michigan Normal. Caplis dropped out in mid-season to recover from a leg-injury, and returned to run the last two meets.

Two recruits from the freshman team of last year, Frye and Hall, strengthened the team greatly. These men, the only inexperienced members of the team, are to be commended for their grit and good work.

Our first meet of the season, a triangular affair, with Adrian and Lawrence Tech resulted in a perfect score for the Huron Harriers, with Zepp finishing first, closely followed by Werbin, Rosenkrantz, Frye, Gibbs and Hall.

Kalamazoo came to Ypsi for a dual meet, in which the Normal runners again "slammed" for a perfect score.

Our next meet was with Ball State Teachers of Indiana, on October 27. Zepp and Werbin finished first and second, with the Ball State captain, Clevenger and his team-mate, Armstrong, finishing third and fourth.

An invitational meet, our fourth, took the team to Loyola University of Chicago. Zepp finished first, closely followed by Werbin in second place and Rosenkrantz in fourth. Michigan Normal tied with Milwaukee State Teachers for first team place, and won on the flip of the coin.

On November 10, the Ypsi team lost its first meet to a powerful Michigan State team by a score of 25 to 34. This race turned out to be a two-man battle between Captain Zepp of Normal and Captain Ottey of State. Zepp won with Ottey placing second.

The Central Intercollegiate Cross Country Championship, held on Michigan State's five mile course, was another loss for the Michigan Normal Harriers. Lash of Indiana won first honors, followed by Sears of Butler, Ottey of State, and Zepp of Normal. The Normal won third place in the race for team honors.

On November 28, the team split, with Zepp going to Iowa City to the National A. A. U. Championship, where he placed seventh against former title holders, and the rest of the team went to the Michigan A. A. U. at Kalamazoo where Harry Werbin became the Michigan A. A. U. Cross Country Champion.

VARSITY TRACK

When Coach Olds and Captain "Chuck" Eberhard looked over the slim number of men who responded to the call for varsity track they plainly saw that the Hurons would have to rely on quality of individuals rather than quantity in their coming track season. And individuals they were who brought the name of Michigan Normal into fame in 1935 track history by their flashing performances.

Led by Captain Eberhard, this brilliant band included such men as Abie Rosenkrantz, Billy Zepp, Hal Baker, Jim Matthews, Harry Werbin, Bowman Hall, and Santee Brockman.

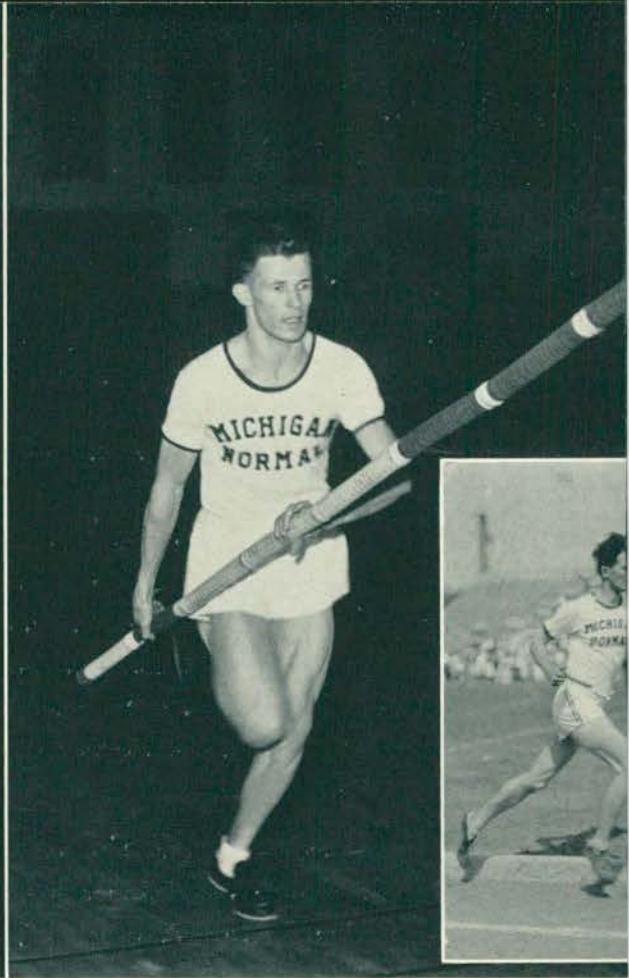

Our first indoor meet was the Millrose Games of New York City. Baker, Hall, Matthews, and Rosenkrantz brought the Hurons to the front in the college mile relay in 3 minutes, 29 seconds flat. Bill Zepp, suffering from a bad cold, placed no better than fifth in the two mile run.

In the Michigan A. A. U. indoor meet at Ann Arbor, February 9, Michigan Normal again won the mile relay in 3:28 and Bill Zepp set a new record in the two mile run, defeating Tom Ottey of State, running the distance in 9:21.8.

In the triangular meet, February 16, between Michigan State, University of Michigan, and the Hurons, we placed third. Our relay team placed second against a fast U. of M. team. Zepp again beat Ottey and broke his own record of the previous week. Rosenkrantz set a new field record for Yost Field House of 1:55.1 for the half-mile run.

Next day, the Ypsi speedsters easily slaughtered a fresh Butler University team. Zepp broke the old mile record of 4:26.8 by running in 4:25.4.

On February 24, our team went to the Michigan Intercollegiate Relay Carnival at Lansing and romped home with the mile and two-mile relay championships. Baker, Hall, Matthews, and Rosenkrantz made up the mile team while Zepp replaced Matthews in the two-mile relay.

RECORD-BREAKING RELAY TEAM

On March 8, with only eight men, the Hurons took third in the Central Intercollegiate Track Championships at South Bend. Here Captain Eberhard, Abie Rosenkrantz, and Bill Zepp distinguished themselves by winning the hurdles, half-mile and two-mile runs in record-breaking performances.

Going to the Armour Tech Relays the following week, the men ran three relay races. They came in second in one and scored victories in the other two.

We closed our competition by going the following week to Indianapolis for the Butler relays and took third in the two-mile relay and fourth in the mile relay against strong teams.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Coach Ockerman and his band of baseball players anticipated a tough schedule. Nor were they disappointed in this forecast. To date they have lost three games out of four.

A powerful University of Michigan team "snowed under" the Hurons in two meetings to the tune of 13 to 1 in the first and 11 to 4 in the second.

Michigan State beat Coach Ockermann's bat-men by a close margin of 4 to 3. On their trip to Chicago, the Normals nosed out Armour Tech by a 6 to 2 score and anticipated a battle with the University of Chiccco which was rained out. A game with Assumption also made way for a rain storm.

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY

The Frosh cross-country team was a well-balanced unit, excellent in team work but lacking in stellar performers. This team did not place high in competition but broke even in its wins and losses. The most satisfying victory was over a strong Monroe High School team which had defeated Frosh teams of the past three years.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Freshmen reporting for football had no scheduled games, and looked forward to skirmishes with the varsity as their chance to show the coaches how they looked in action.

Against the experienced varsity and reserve squads the Frosh gridders showed a surprising amount of spirit and fight. On many occasions they broke up plays the varsity had successfully used on other teams. Many of the outstanding players will fill the gaps left in the Huron squad by graduation.

FRESHMAN INDOOR TRACK

The Frosh indoor track men participated in two meets. In the first they were barely nosed out by a team from Scott High in Toledo. In the second they decisively whipped a powerful Ann Arbor High team. This team is expected to furnish strong performers for next season's varsity squad.

FRESHMAN OUTDOOR TRACK

In the two meets held thus far the Frosh have broken even. Monroe avenged her cross-country defeat by trimming the Frosh by ten points. The defeat suffered by our men was due to lack of men in the distance events.

The team made a trip to Muskegon and defeated a Junior College team by a large margin. This team was strong though small and holds promise for coming years.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The Frosh aspirants for basketball showed unusual ability both in games and in practice sessions with the strong varsity team. The small playing schedule handicapped this band of future Huron netters, which nevertheless promises a wealth of material for Coach Ockermann during the next three years.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

The Freshman Baseball team demonstrated unusual interest in the game despite the fact that no schedule could be arranged for it. The vision of future varsity competition has spurred the freshmen on to serious practice in which they revealed a pleasing prophecy of probable ability.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Jack Weaver
Intramural Manager

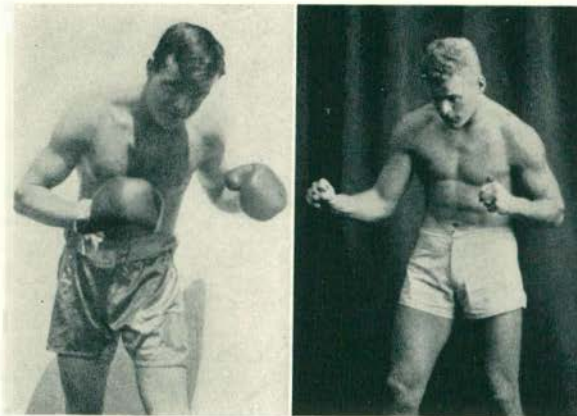

The present Intramural System at Michigan State Normal College was established by Professor L. W. Olds at the beginning of the 1921-1922 college year, as a branch of the Physical Education Department. The Intramural Program of Activities is to provide opportunity for competition for those students who because of either lack of time, interest or ability, are not provided for in a program of inter-collegiate competition. To meet this demand the program has been broadened to include many sports which provide interesting competition for the general student body and embraces many activities which have a distinct carry over value.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, our goal was to present the student body with a new, informal yearbook. The months of planning and work were pleasant due to the stimulation and guidance offered by the Service Engraving Company, the Rogers Printing Company, and the Michigan Bookbinding Company. The staff members extend thanks to Miller's Studio, and Saunders Photo Shop for their co-operation.

Especial thanks are due Gordon Westlake and Wanetta Arms for their contributions to the feature section of the Aurora.

The generous advice of the faculty committee and the smooth co-operation of the staff members account for the pleasure which was found in producing the 1935 Aurora.
