Face of Eastern

A university has a face. Its face is a montage of its people. And, as surely as the faces of people reflect their feelings, so the face of Eastern reflects the school's mood.

Eastern's is a mobile face. It shows pride when its athletes triumph, concern when its students suffer, and sudden anger at injustice. To read its mood one must read its people—its students, staff, faculty, administrators—the face of Eastern.

Through the pages of this AURORA, we, the staff, have tried to portray the face of Eastern.

*D*edication... James

"Bingo" Brown

Bingo Brown is an institution. Since 1923 his words of encouragement, his ever-open door, and love for 'his boys' have given him a very special place in the hearts of countless Eastern students.

Last year the Kappa Phi Alpha fraternity dedicated its annual banquet to him. That group's newsletter honored him as they said "His 37 years of unselfish devotion and service to our alma mater have built up a set of traditions that few colleges ever enjoy. Bingo's sympathetic personal touch has, at some time or other, been bestowed upon all of us. Men without number have been encouraged to 'go on,' 'finish the job,' or 'bounce back' from failure."

Evidence of his faith in students is shown in countless letters he has written to students who were down three or more honor points. He has said "I believe they have the ability and my letters help them to believe they do."

We dedicate this 1961 AURORA to James "Bingo" Brown--a man who has dedicated himself to Eastern.

The Face of Eastern

...in relaxation

*S*tudent Activities ...

A university, like any individual, has a face that shows fun. This section shows the people who are Eastern in their off hours. These are people relaxing, doing the things they like to do.

The parties, the dances, and the between-class coffee breaks are here. Here, too, are the big events that break the routine and give Eastern a chance to enjoy itself.

This, then, is the face of Eastern relaxing. This face shows the spirit of people having fun; people doing the things they enjoy.

Preparations for

All the campus prepares for the homecoming events. Graduating seniors make ready for their final fall fling as students at E.M.U.; Freshmen students, prepare with exuberance, especially the freshmen coeds. At the homecoming pep rally they have their chance to send those labeling green ribbons up in smoke. To promote pre-game spirit, the cheerleaders led the way to the pep rally by linking together a chain of football fans in a snake dance.

The men on campus turned their attentions on the fairest of the fair as they decided who should be the girl to reign over the events to come in the 1960 E.M.U. homecoming.

The advent of the homecoming weekend brings about a dawn of recognition to all involved of: "So much to do . . . so little time to do it." Especially hard working were the determined dorm decorators and float builders who braved the elements and late nights before the judging.

Featuring the theme "Great Books," Eastern's 1960 Homecoming Parade originated from the front of Mc Kenny Hall. Half a mile in length, the parade included floats, homecoming royalty, and four bands.

Overall best float was the "TKE House of the August Moon" which also won top honors in the fraternity division. The best sorority float was "Cyrano DeBergerac" by the Sigma Nu's. Vets Club's "Hunchback of Notre Dame" took the award for organizations while Downing Hall's "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" won the residence hall division.

Each year at the time when the leaves turn over and fall to the ground, so does the reigning homecoming queen turn over her crown and royal robe to her successor. Wearing the E. M. U. regalia this year is our 1960 homecoming queen, Judy Mashke.

Queen Judy received her crown during the presentation ceremonies at an all-campus assembly in Pease auditorium. Placing first in a field of five finalists, Judy headed a court composed of Judy Mansfield, Carol Patrick, Jinx Porte, and Sandy Strickland.

As if by cue, the sun made a timely appearance to add an appropriate golden sparkle to the halftime ceremonies. Queen Judy and her royal court were escorted across the field by an honor guard of R. O. T. C. cadets and presented to their subjects, the students and alumni of Eastern Michigan University.

Judy, a member of Alpha Xi Delta, was sponsored and supported by her sorority sisters.

At half-time, the queen and her court are presented.

Homecoming Football

A reverent hush fell over the noisy stands as students, faculty, and alumni of E.M.U. joined together in singing their "Alma Mater." In a mass profusion of pennants, mums, confetti, and spirit, Eastern fans thronged Briggs' Field to see their Hurons in action.

The homecoming football game was a happy time. The students, with the many worried hours of planning and preparing for the annual festivities behind them, concentrated their efforts on cheering for the team. The alumni reunited themselves with old friends and familiar surroundings.

Performing enthusiastically to do their parts in making the 1960 homecoming a success, the members of the E.M.U. band provided music during the half-time ceremonies and throughout the game. The homecoming queen and her court of royalty also made an appearance, adding beauty to an already colorful scene.

Spirits only slightly dampened by occasional rain and the unfortunate outcome of the game, the crowds dispersed as the clock ran out ready for the next phase of activity.

One of the exciting moments in the Homecoming game.

The crowd watches the game intently.

A Few Minutes between

Classes

When the minute-hand finally marks the end of a class period, a fresh surge of life and vitality are ushered into the person of Eastern's student body. Bustling with the desire to laugh, to relax, and to be released of tension, students can be found either at, or on their way to, their favorite 'stomping' grounds. For many, the bulk of social life means the student union in McKenny Hall. Here there is the opportunity to relax, laugh, compare classes and instructors, groan over a test, and perhaps, make a date. To others, relaxation and enjoyment mean a casual stroll across campus with a 'favorite' or a brief conversation with a passing friend. And then, there is that familiar path that leads back to the dorm, where worries may be temporarily discarded.

McKenny is the center of social activities for many parties and dances.

Presidential Candidates Visit

With the approaching presidential election in November Eastern students, as well as the country as a whole, took an active interest in the campaigns and the candidates. Student political clubs were active in campaigning for the candidate of their choice and many an impromptu debate broke out between students.

Eastern was fortunate in having both major candidates appear so close to the campus. Kennedy stopped in Ypsilanti and Nixon was seen and heard in Ann Arbor.

Another highlight in the pre-election campaigns was the Waugh-Keyes debate co-sponsored by the Young Democrat and Republican Clubs. Two figures, one from the campus and one from the community, debated the platforms of the major political parties to an audience of students and faculty.

The Campus Rings With Christmas Spirit

With December comes Christmas, and with Christmas the campus bustles with a special activity and spirit.

The dorms outdo themselves in an effort to make this year's decorations more beautiful than the last. Parties and festivities show the Christmas spirit.

But Christmas is a time of service as well as of joy. Parties are given for the underprivileged and handicapped. Special decorations and service projects are carried out at the local hospitals by different clubs and organizations. Gifts are given to needy families in the community.

And, Christmas is a time of music. Records of carols are heard in all the residences. At the All Campus Sing, each group sings some number of its choice and the beautiful music of Christmastime becomes a part of the campus.

Christmastime means the annual Parent-faculty Tea at Jones Hall.

A semester must, and does, come to an end. It ends in a turmoil of cramming, late-nights, exams, graduations, and good-byes.

But, although there is an infinite sigh of relief when the last exam has been taken, there is also a small sigh of remembrance. There is the regret 'IF I had only studied more. If I had only. . .'

February Brings a New Semester

There is a special kind of newness in the beginning of a semester. It is the newness of clean notebooks, unopened texts, unknown professors, and new faces.

Registration, with its singular brand of organized chaos, affects the entire campus. For the students it is a time of mangled schedules, millions of forms, and queues waiting at each stop. And, for the faculty it is a time of untangling students, brief coffee breaks and long hours.

Classes begin and school settles into its familiar routine. A fresh semester has begun.

Eastern's bowling-alley-turned-bookstore is feverish with activity at the start of each semester.

Activities Within

Within each residence hall there is an individual spirit and a special kind of activity. Each dorm becomes a unit in itself as well as a collection of individuals.

To promote this spirit, most of the halls boast of an active social calendar. A favorite event is mother's, father's or sister's day. During these, the students' families have the opportunity to become acquainted with the dorm and with the campus.

There are parties: Christmas, Halloween, Decorating, Homecoming, and Birthday parties. Many dorms offer a more formal type of activity as well. Faculty and parent teas or corridor dinners illustrate some.

There are parties: informal or semi-formal, costume or casual, TGIF or holiday parties. There are service projects; services to the community, to the school or fundraising. There is a chance for relaxation: in outings, week-ends and intramural sports.

Shakespeare to Modern Comedy Featured

Opening the 1960-61 series of stage productions was a presentation of TEA-HOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON. The play, by John Patrick, based on a novel by Vern Sneider, earned both the Pulitzer Prize and the Critics Circle Award for 1953.

This comedy centers around the problems an American Army captain encounters when he tries to follow the Army occupation manual in the village of Tobiki.

Player's 1959-60 season closed with Shakespeare's ever-popular farce, THE TAMING OF THE SHREW. A special matinee performance was given for some 300 high school students who visited the campus for the first annual High School Drama Workshop.

EMU Players Production

One of the "most unusual plays in the modern theatre," was director George Bird's comment about COCK-A-DOO-DLE-DANDY.

The play, by Sean O'Casey, is a fantasy built around the figure of an enchanted cock turned loose in a joyless little Irish village where the priest-led people have been taught to fear this symbol of joy and happiness as a reincarnation of the devil. In spite of its tragic ending, most of the play is a gay farce moving quickly from comedy to tragedy.

HOATZEN, an original one-act by Dwaine Steffes, was the production of the EMU Players Laboratory Theatre which provides students with the opportunity to experiment in various forms and styles of dramatic production.

Offered as a bonus to season ticket subscribers, the play marked the first time Quirk stage had been used for an arena-style production.

Special Events

Variety and a bit of spice are added to Eastern's school year by the special events and programs. These range from guest speakers to plays, from programs to carnivals.

A wide range of programs with appeal for all is planned each year by different groups. These special events add highlights to the routine and make up a vital part of campus life.

University Civic Orchestra and

Woodwind Ensemble

Students and townspeople join forces in the University Civic Orchestra. This year, roughly half of the 69 members are students at Eastern. Townspeople in the group come from many neighboring communities; some of the members are teachers or former EMU students who played in the university orchestra while in college.

The orchestra is listed in the Adult Education program in Ypsilanti. It is a member of the Civic Orchestra Association of Michigan.

Beside annual concerts, the group cooperates with the Dramatic Arts Department in presenting the annual musical which is the conclusion of the dramatic program for the year.

The woodwind Ensemble, with eleven members at the present time, is composed of students with ability and interest in the field of woodwind instruments.

The group plays at programs for business and professional women's groups in this area. They have presented programs at Mercywood Hospital and for the Ypsilanti Ladies Literary Club. The class, which meets once a week, can be taken with or without university credit.

The Woodwind Ensemble practices under the directorship of Mr. Fitch.

Long hours of practice must come before any performance of the band.

Band and Brass Ensemble

During the Fall of each year, band members make up the marching band so familiar to spectators at the football games. Then, after the last home game, they become the Concert Band and present three major performances throughout the year.

There is a Winter Concert in January, a Spring Concert during mid-March and the concluding Outdoor Concert in May. At this final performance band awards are given to students for participation.

Band, which can be taken either with or without credit, is required of all students majoring in instrumental music. Many other students elect to take this, however, as it is open to anyone interested in music.

The Brass Ensemble provides an outlet for selected musicians to gain additional experience. The group, which consists primarily of music majors, has seven members but this number can be broken down into smaller groups for different occasions.

This group plays primarily chamber music. It performs at functions such as the banquet of the State Board of Education and a program for patients at Mercywood Hospital.

Womens Chorus

Mens' Glee Club

Two separate groups, Women's Chorus and Men's Glee Club, make up what was previously Choral Union. Each group may now practice or give performances by itself although they join forces for some purposes.

Performances given by these groups include the annual Christmas Concert, Baccalaureate, and the Palm Sunday Program. Men's Glee Club sings at high school assembly programs and at the annual Athletic Award Banquet.

Both groups meet twice weekly for rehearsals. The Women's Chorus numbers between 120-130 members while Men's Glee Club has 35 members.

Faculty ... face of Without faculty, a university could not have a face. Theirs might well be termed the face of knowledge. And, knowledge, in its broadest sense is the purpose of a university.

To the faculty is given the problem of passing on their learning, and their thirst for learning, to the student. Probably the most familiar face is that of a professor lecturing to his classes. Nevertheless, there are other faces, faces of administrators, faces of advisors, faces of friends.

Many Roles for Eastern's Faculty

Although the traditional picture of a faculty member is one of a professor in a lecture hall, this is only one facet of their total face.

A professor is far more than a teaching machine. His activities connected with school are far broader than test correcting. These, then, are only a few samples of Eastern's faculty members in their various roles.

Sports...events through

Eastern's sports show a host of different faces.

The progress of each game can be seen in the face of the team. On the bench, the players live each play as it is carried through on the field. The players' faces show the determination and the strain as they fight to win. The runner, giving his final sprint before crossing the finish line, shows the will that carries him through the race.

The faces of the coaches show the face of the game. The tension, the hopes, the disappointments, and the triumphs can be read in the faces of these men.

And, the game shows too, in the faces of the spectators. As they vicariously live each play, the tension, excitement, and hope can be read in their expressions.

Eastern's sports, then, can be read in the faces of the people involved. . .those who play, who watch, and who live each game.

Time Out for Football

Anxious Hurons wait to try their hand against Eastern Illinois.

The football team suffered a losing but honorable season. Playing against much stronger and powerful opponents, the Hurons tied one and lost eight. Riddled with injuries, the squad played its hardest. Even with this record the team placed four men on the IIAC league teams. Bill Yanis made the offensive unit while Norm Jacobs, Gary Dode, and Nick Genova were elected to the defensive team. With Genova and Jacobs returning next year, the future looks bright.

Taking first place in all of the dual meets, Jormakka led his team to a 4-0 record. Further distinctions were mainly for the Finnish Captain, who placed second in an open meet at Southern Illinois, first in the Interstate Conference meet, seventh in the NCAA meet, first in the Michigan AAU meet, and second in the National AAU race.

The Huron squad was fourth in the IAC meet, as Jormakka set a new league record of 18:38 for the three and three-fourth miles course. Jormakka also earned an All-American rating for his performance in the NCAA meet.

Basketball

Eastern Michigan's basketball team, under the direction of yearling Coach Dick Adams, played some fast-moving and crowd-pleasing basketball this winter, but the victory column came out mighty short. The Hurons compiled an 0-12 Interstate Conference record, and a season record of 5-18.

Captain Tom MacKenzie, despite missing the last four games, and Ron Gulyas led the team in scoring, while forwards Don Massey and freshman Ed Gallup added strong rebounding power and some good scoring punch. Adams had the squad concentrate on a fast-break style of play, and the result was a number of interesting games for Huron spectators, despite the shortage of victories.

Track

It was a rebuilding year for the Eastern Michigan track team, as graduation had taken away such established stars as Olympic hurdler Hayes Jones, outstanding Finnish distance runner Mauri Jormakka, plus Doug Carroll and Bill Stephens. With a relatively inexperienced team, Coach George Marshall was able to win the first indoor meet of the year and look forward to improvement during the indoor and outdoor seasons.

Wrestling

Coach Russ Bush started the season on an optimistic note since it was the first year that he was able to field a wrestling team at Eastern Michigan with a man at every weight. Although he still had enough men by season's end to enter the Interstate Conference meet, the potential of the squad had fallen considerably due to injuries and drop outs. Lost were Captain Ron Brooks, Dennis Laurain, Norm Parker, and Bob Sutch for part of the season. Nevertheless, standouts on the squad were Bart Kruse, Duke Relyea and Joe Giuliani.

Gymnastics

This was the first year of official inter-collegiate competition for the Eastern Michigan gymnastics team, and Coach Bob Willoughby's young and inexperienced crew took to the sport quickly. Although unable to match many of their inexperienced opponents, the squad was led capably by veteran performer Ed Herndon. In their first collegiate meet, the Detroit Turners Invitational, they scored more points than any other team, and gained a number of places with good individual performances.

Women's Recreation Association

Tennis

The W.R.A. Tennis program, open to all women on campus, boasts a new set of tennis courts for the 1961 season. For beginners, there are instructions; intermediate and advanced players participate in tournaments.

Toward the end of the season, Eastern sends players to various other schools to play in both singles and doubles tournaments.

Field Hockey

Field hockey, a modification of ice hockey and soccer played on a football field, is sponsored each year during the Fall.

This W.R.A. sponsored sport has three goals at Eastern: meeting other college students, having fun, and winning. All three were accomplished during the 1960 season. Eastern's team played girls from Adrian College, University of Michigan, Bowling Green University, and Michigan State University.

Marilyn Cooney looks on as her teammates fight for the ball in a fast action field hockey game.

These women look on as their teammate approaches the line.

This year, as in the past, the bowling season was a great success. A total of 106 girls participated, over a period of 10 weeks.

There were two leagues; dorm and sorority. In the dorm league, competition existed between King (with 3 teams), Jones, Goddard, and one independent team. Because of a tie for first place, between the Jones' Jills, and the King Pins, a playoff game was played, and the Jones' Jills won a very close contest.

In the sorority league, Alpha Sigma Tau, took the award for first place.

Bowling

A beautiful delivery; as she says a silent prayer for a strike.

Volleyball

Three different leagues are open to women students interested in volleyball. One league is made up of dormitory teams, one of sorority, and one of physical education majors. Many girls play on more than one team. Tournaments, which are played on Tuesday and Thursday nights, began in October and ran until the middle of January.

Competition is keen among the teams and good sportsmanship is stressed. This year, more than 200 women participated in the volleyball program.

Swimming

Catalina Club, EMU's synchronized swimming group has a well-rounded program each year. In the Spring, girls attend the Intercollegiate Synchronized Swimming Competition. Clinics and demonstrations are put on at various schools and planning which includes choosing directors, a theme, a title, and the routines.

Fall brings the annual show. Both the Marlins, a beginning group, and the Catalinas perform. This year's show "Snicks, Snacks, and Splash" featured a theme of world-wide foods.

Long hours of rehearsing go into each performance of the Orchesis Club's Annual Dance Concert.

Old Time Flicks, a take-off on the days of silent movies, was featured in this year's dance concert.

Modern Dance

Women's Recreation Association sponsored the Orchesis Club's annual dance concert, at Quirk Theater, on March 2nd. and 3rd. of this year. Featured in the program, were dance numbers which were written and prepared for presentation by Eastern coeds. The entire cast consisted of students that had worked under the supervision of Marilyn J. Poppe.

Archery

Archery met the second semester at Bowen Field House. It was a co-educational sport and competition was varied. A tournament was entered by mail, and played off by way of correspondence. The sport was culminated by an archery-golf day.

On Wednesday evenings, the Co-Rec Badminton Club met at the gymnasium. Twenty students participated in the activities which included women's singles, women's doubles, men's singles, men's doubles, and mixed doubles. The season's winners were Steve Manchester in men's singles, Mary LaVoie in women's singles, and Steve Manchester and Claudia Wasik in mixed doubles.

A badminton play day gave Eastern Michigan University a chance to play host to teams from Adrian College and the University of Michigan. The Eastern teams were winners in all of their matches.

Basketball

The one organization which assures all women at Eastern of a varied recreational program is the Women's Recreation Association. Every woman on campus is automatically a member and is thereby able to vote for the executive officers of the organization as well as being able to apply for membership on the general board. Some of the activities sponsored by W. R. A. are: Catalina Club, Modern Dance Club, all team and individual sports in a tri-league of sorority, dormitory and physical education major teams, spring camp, and co-recreational nights.

"...Our purpose promote recreation, secure better student relation..."

Co - Rec Night

W. R. A. not only serves the recreational needs of the women on campus, but through co-rec nights, the men are welcome to participate in such activities as volleyball, swimming, trampoline, basketball and badminton. These nights have proved very successful with a good time had by the many students attending.

Cheerleaders

Eastern's peppy cheerleaders in their green and white outfits are a familiar sight at athletic events.

They number ten girls--a varsity squad of six and a junior varsity of four. These are chosen each year in try-outs which are open to any interested girl. Members of the present cheerleaders and several faculty members make the final choice.

Besides cheering at many games, the girls hold a cheerleaders' clinic each year. Highschool cheerleaders spend the day at Eastern with the EMU squad acting as hostesses.

esidences... faces of

The residences provide a chance for the many faces of Eastern to meet and to become friends.

If, at the beginning of each year, the people within the dormitories seem to be a blur of faces with slightly associated names, time soon changes this. Faces become people, friends, and separate personalities.

In the married student housing, friendships develop between neighbors. The couple downstairs and the couple next door become friends to play cards, share gossip, or study with.

The residences, then, become a place where the faces of Eastern grow to become the faces of friends.

Interhall Council

Interhall Council, whose membership includes the president and vice-president of each dorm, serves to unify and coordinate the rules and practices within the dormitories. The chairman is an elected member of Women's League.

This year, work has been done revising the constitutions of the women's residence halls. The group has also discussed a proposed honor system for the women's dorms.

New Head Resident in Buell

Buell Hall, constructed in 1957, provides modern conveniences for 314 women students. This year, Mrs. Lynn Stinson, of Bay City, began her first year as Head Resident of Buell.

Throughout the first semester Buell activities included the traditional corridor dinners and corridor mixers. Its traditional Halloween Party was a howling success when many of the "cool ghouls" arrived incognito. This year, for the first time, Buell Hall had a Dad's Day. More than 60 fathers attended the get-together arranged by their daughters.

Buell activity participated in Eastern's annual Christmas festivities. These began with Angel Week, December 4th through 10th. Later in the month, Miriam Rogers, hall musical director, led the girls in the all-campus Christmas Sing. The festivities were climaxed by campus caroling.

The Academic year 1960-61 got off to a good start for the men of Brown Hall when one of their five football teams won the all-University intramural championship. Other sports the men of Brown participated in were, basketball, softball, volleyball and individual sports.

During the fall semester Brown Hall sponsored two dances for its residents and one All-University dance. During Spring semester plans are to have a couple more dances and a skating party.

The Hall Council successfully initiated plans for redecorating Brown Hall early in the fall. The State Board of Education followed all recommendations for improvements listed by the Hall Council.

Downing Takes Homecoming Honors

Miss Verna M. Carson, Head Resident of Downing Hall, chats with Resident Assistants, Miriam Carroll and Theresa Pickens.

Downing Residence Hall, dedicated to Estelle Downing, a former English professor at Eastern Michigan University, was opened for occupancy in 1957 and today houses 312 women.

This year, homecoming was a happy occasion at Downing. With "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" as a theme, the Downing girls placed first for residence hall floats and shared honors for first place in residence hall decorations.

Downing girls plan many activities for members of their families to enjoy. Mother's Week-end and Dad's Day are annual events. This year, a Little Sisters' Week-end was introduced.

Busy Social Life in Goddard

The girls of Goddard Hall, under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Hallowell, enjoyed a year of fun and friendship with not a moment to spare in their busy social curriculum. This hall's home-like atmosphere and enthusiastic girls contributed greatly to the presentation of many new activities. Goddard girls were likely to be found deeply engrossed in bridge lessons, preparing for a mixer with another hall, making decorations for the cafeteria, or planning an important dinner.

Pixie Week, an annual affair, began the first dorm social event of the year. With Christmas approaching, the dorm saw a complete change of scene inside as well as outside. Christmas red and green dominated the scene; the traditional Jones-Goddard sing added to the festivities.

Head Resident Mrs. Hallowell and Resident Assistants Donna Clay and Sandy Groenleer.

Early Spring afforded the girls an opportunity to honor their parents at Dad's and Mom's Days. Entertainment, refreshments, games and fun occupied a major portion of each of these days. An entire weekend was also devoted to Goddard girls' younger sisters, giving them a peek at campus life.

Goodison Elects Governors

Goddison Hall, which accommodates 202 students, is under the supervision of Dulcie V. Smith, Head Resident. The hall was dedicated in 1939 to Bertha A. Goodison, a former member of the art department. Formerly a women's dormitory, Goodison has been a men's hall since 1957.

The hall's government is somewhat different from that of others. Its nucleus is composed of a Board of Governors. These governors, the supervising officials of their respective corridors, are elected by the residents in the Spring. From this board, a president is elected; serving this year as president is Tom Rogers.

Jones' Girls Proud of Hall

Pride in their dorm marks the girls of Jones Hall. Named in honor of Lydia I. Jones, Dean of Women from 1924-39, the residence hall was constructed in 1949.

The year's activities began with freshman and transfer teas which welcomed the girls to Jones. The traditional Pixie Week also helped bring the residents together.

The girls were proud of the fact that Jones won in homecoming dormitory decorations for the second year in a row.

On December, the annual formal Fantasy in White was held. Also in December, a Parent-Faculty Tea gave parents the opportunity to mix with faculty members. A Christmas Party and the Candle-Walk Breakfast given in honor of graduating seniors.

King Hall Known for Tradition

Head Resident and Resident Assistants at King: Joan Klempirik, Mrs. Whitney, and Donna Weidenbach.

King Hall, the oldest dormitory on campus, is known for the tradition it has developed throughout the years. This tradition reaches its highest peak when the King girls celebrate Christmas in the spirit and customs of many different lands. The girls also sponsor a Christmas party for the Lincoln School children to whom they distribute presents salvaged and re-made from articles at home.

In November, the King girls devote a special day to their dads. On Dad's Day, the girls entertain their fathers with a special dinner and planned activities. This gives the fathers a chance to become acquainted with one another, the university, and campus life.

Abe Karam, resident assistant, and Head resident David Stockham, discuss plans together.

One of the benefits to be gained from college is the experience of group living. The staff and student government of Munson Hall try to keep this always in mind as they strive to keep the dormitory running smoothly.

Comments often heard may include: "But I swept last week, it's your turn" or, "That picture happens to be my girl." Or, problems may spring from different hours kept by roommates or the most desirable volume on a hi-fi set.

Life in a dormitory becomes a series of personal adjustments.

Married Student Housing

Pine Grove Terrace and Cornell Courts provide housing for married students on campus. These modern apartments include living room, kitchen, bath and bedroom.

A few of the apartments have two bedrooms.

The apartments are completely furnished and all utilities are paid.

Typical Pine Grove residents relax in their modern apartment.

Publications

Board in Control of Student Publications

John Kocsis, member, and Bill Jones, ex-officio head, consider an item during one of the monthly meetings of the Board.

The Board in Control of Student Publications is the governing body for student publications. Its seven voting members include representatives from student council, the university faculty, and an ex-officio head appointed by the president. Editors and representatives of the three publications are welcome and may discuss or comment upon questions raised.

Meeting monthly, the group appoints editors and paid positions, passes budgets, and acts wherever need be in the control of publications.

Concepts

Concepts, which features the best creative writing and art work of EMU students, is printed twice each year.

Any student is eligible to submit work which is then selected by the editors and faculty advisors for publication in the magazine. Poetry, essays and short stories are included in each issue. Art work includes drawings, paintings, sculpture and ceramics submitted by students.

The magazine is distributed, free of cost, to Eastern's students and faculty.

Aurora

Somehow, in a chaos of pictures and pre-screens, copy and cutlines, coffee and cigarettes, an AURORA is put together.

The staff of this 1961 AURORA is larger than many from the past; the yearbook itself is 32 pages longer. The format this year includes a second color on some pages and a larger type size.

These are, the staff feels, improvements. There is room for more improvement and the staff members, perhaps more than most, realize the need. It is this realization and the hope of a better book--better in coverage, in photography, in layout, in appeal--that keep the staff working and progressing.

An enlarged format, which made the paper a full column wider and almost three inches longer, was introduced in the 1960-61 Eastern Echo. The increased size first appeared in the homecoming edition which also included the first three-color photograph ever printed by the Echo.

Further improvements, primarily in technical matters of layout, style and make-up, have come about by a critical analysis of each issue by Al Jones, a half-time worker in University News Services.

This year's Echo has included three regular columns and a weekly feature which introduces readers to some faculty member each week.

Social Committee

The All-Campus Social Committee has sponsored many activities for EMU students during 1960-61. These include After-Game Dances and Week-End Dances such as the Blue Book Ball.

The group also promotes such activities as special movies, the All-Campus Christmas Party, a Jazz Concert, the J Hop and an ice-skating party.

This committee gives freely of its time and energy in bettering social activities at Eastern.

The Hospitality Committee serves the many high school students, parents, faculty, alumni, and guests who visit Eastern. The members provide information about Eastern, as well as being a guide, and extend to all the traditional E.M.U. hospitality.

Future Teachers Clubs, prospective students, Future Teacher's Day, Principal Freshman Conference, Guidance and Testing Refreshments, and College nights are a few of this group's activities.

Organized in 1956, it has grown from a few students to over eighty-five members at present. The advisor is Ralph F. Gildden, Dean of Student Activities, and the chairman is Marcia A. Mead.

An annual picnic for all participants in the Hospitality Committee and its activities is held at the home of Dean Gildden and is enjoyed by all. At this time also, there is an award given to the members who have participated in the organization for four years.

Religious Organizations

Council Student Religious Organizations

Headlining the CSRO's year was its all-campus Concert-Lecture series which included the October art exhibition -- "Five Centuries of Religious Prints," the classic Christmas "Festival of Lessons and Carols," an organ concert by Heinrich Fleischer, the appearance of e. e. cummings, a program of Lent-Easter classics featuring the University Choir, and lectures in religion by Dr. Morris Weitz of Ohio State University and Rabbi Martin A. Cohen of Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati.

The religious organizations also joined in conducting the Wednesday afternoon coffee hours in Starkweather, sponsorship of seminars in religion, the World University Service drive, faculty-student firesides and a spring retreat at Port Huron.

Renovation of Starkweather Hall began in April. Total cost of this project will be $90,000. Starkweather Hall, dedicated in 1897 and serving since as the center of religious affairs at Eastern, was the first building on a state university campus west of the Alleghenies erected specifically for religious purposes.

Canterbury

The Christian Science Organization, endeavors to add spiritual depth to the educational aims of the academic community, as well as to the moral and spiritual progress of the individual members of the group.

In addition to the regular, open, weekly meetings, the organization presented the color film, "The Story of Christian Science," as a part of the religious seminar program. A nationally known lecturer was also brought to campus this year to lecture on Christian Science.

Under a new advisor, Dean Albert Brown, Canterbury, composed of Episcopalian students, meets every Wednesday morning at Starkweather Hall for Holy Communion and every Sunday evening at St. Luke's for supper and a meeting or outing.

This fall the group attended the Flemish Art Exhibit, St. Paul's Cathedral, Evensong at St. Andrew's in Ann Arbor, gatherings at various homes and Wesley House. Ten members attended the Canterbury Diocean Conference at Drake House during Thanksgiving recess and three members attended a regional conference in Ohio.

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship

The purpose of Inter-Varsity is to study the teachings of Jesus Christ and to discover how they relate to a college student. This is done through weekly Monday night meetings, regular prayer meetings, and Bible studies. An average of 40 students attend the Monday night meetings. This year the group had a formal banquet held in McKenny Hall, attended two week-end conferences, and sent 12 students to a regional missionary conference.

Newman

Newman Club is the official Catholic college students' organization. Its chief aim is to aid members spiritually through discussions and lectures by the club chaplain and guest speakers on various aspects of Catholicism. Educational and social events, however, are also a definite part of Newman activities.

Besides religious talks and discussions, the 1960-61 agenda of activities included communion breakfasts, dinner dances, co-rec nights, a roller-skating party, and a spring picnic.

Chaplain of Newman Club is Father John Helner.

Arab Club

The Arab Club was founded on Eastern's campus in 1959. The purpose of the club is to promote better understanding between Arabs and Americans.

Each semester the Club sponsors a dance called The Arabian Nights which features Arabic dancing and singing. A speaker also tells of the problems facing the Arab world.

The Club has been successful so far. American students appear to welcome the opportunity to learn about other people in this way. Membership is always open to both Arab and American students

Chemistry Club

To learn more about what can, and is, being done in chemistry and to meet others with similar interests is the goal of the Chemistry Club, the oldest continuous student organization on the EMU campus.

This year's activities included a lecture by Dr. Alfred B. Garrett, acting chairman of the chemistry department at Ohio State University; a spring alumni banquet; and, a field trip to an industry based on chemistry. Additional lectures and movies also enrich the club's program.

WEMU

To stimulate interest in all phases of broadcasting and to provide opportunities for participation in broadcasting is the goal of the WEMU Broadcasting Guild. This is the group's second year as an EMU organization.

Outstanding among the activities of the Guild this year have been two PANORAMA series. The first of these was a thirteen-week radio series featuring campus talent. It was aired on station WHRV. The group also worked on a faculty-centered series entitled WORLD HORIZONS.

During the year of 1960-61 the Chess Club gathered informally every Wednesday night in the dining rooms of McKenny Hall.

A typical meeting includes the consumption of cookies and cokes, banging of pieces, squeals of glee, and the periodic roar "Everybody who's anybody plays chess in the Chess Club."

Average club turnout is 10 per night. In the future the group hopes to arrange matches with neighboring clubs.

The informal meetings are presided over by A. J. Meyer and sponsored jointly by faculty members E. Goings and G. Martin.

"We build" is the motto of the EMU Circle K Club. The purpose of this group, formed on campus in 1957 and sponsored by the Ypsilanti Kiwanis Club, is to serve the EMU campus and the surrounding community.

This year, as in the past, Circle K has shown movies every two weeks for the students. These are popular movies shown in Strong Auditorium at 7:30 Wednesday evenings. The club also placed Christmas decorations on campus as in previous years.

EMU Players

The EMU Players strive to promote dramatic interest on campus, to encourage participation in dramatic activities, and to help students appreciate the vitality of the theater. One hundred hours of work are required for active membership in the organization and twenty hours for associate membership.

This year the Players have presented Teahouse of the August Moon, Cock - A - Doodle-Dandy, Othello, and The Pajama Game as well as a series of films. The campus-wide Variety Show was sponsored by this group.

Social events for the year have included building a Homecoming float, a banquet, and a picnic.

English Club

The various activities of the English Club are geared to encourage the understanding and appreciation of literature. The club has no formal membership, but rather welcomes all who are interested in the field.

This year's program has included several lectures: Professor John B. Virtue speaking on "The Poetry of Housman," Professor Notley S. Maddox speaking on "The Better Trash of Other Years," and Professor O. Ivan Schreiber speaking on "J. D. Salinger." Two record sessions were held at which the members heard Hal Holbrook's Mark Twain Tonight and Dylan Thomas's Poems on Records. Another meeting featured Professor Ralph Haug presenting a "Literary Tour of England" with slides.

Geography Club

One of the leading purposes of the Geography Club concerns the development among the students on this campus, a closer bond of fellowship in the field of Geography and especially to encourage geography in education.

To promote geography, the club has presented such noted speakers as Dr. M. Goodman from the University of Detroit, and Dr. Robert E. Nunley of Wayne State University. In addition, the faculty members, namely Dr. J. F. Lounsbury, Geography Department Head, Mr. J. Martin, Associate Professor and Dr. J. Sinclair have given illustrated lectures to the club.

Through the lectures and coffee hours which are opened to anyone interested, it is hoped that the club will attain its purpose.

Home Economics Club

To give experience in organizational activities which are professional and also social, and to establish membership in the National Home Economics Association are the goals of the EMU Home Economics Club.

Activities this year have included lectures on various topics of interest. At their initiation, members heard speeches by Joyce Dunn, critic at Lincoln School and Marilyn Milne, dietician at the University of Michigan. Speakers at later meetings were Mrs. Alice Epple, County Extension Demonstration Agent, and a representative from Jacobsens who spoke on bridal wear and preparations.

The club has served the campus through the sale of fruit cakes and a Christmas project.

Social activities have included a club picnic and a Christmas dinner.

Natural Science Club

The activities of the Natural Science Club are designed to promote learning of the historical and recent advancements in the field of natural science and to encourage friendship among its members. Club activities usually fall into two categories--formal meetings featuring a guest speaker or social events.

This year the club featured a lecture by Dr. A. Smith, professor of botany at the University of Michigan, at a meeting followed by a refreshment hour. Also included in club plans were the building of a floating bridge over a bog at Loessel Field Lot to aid students in future ecological studies and a spring field trip to the stone quarry at Sylvania, Ohio, to hunt for fossils.

Library Club

Various activities throughout the year help the Library Club to promote educational and social functions outside the classroom for students interested in library science.

This year the group has co-sponsored two book fairs with Roosevelt School. They are participating members of the professional group, Michigan Association of School Libraries.

Social events include a picnic for members and a tea for the officers of the National Association of School Libraries.

Demonstrations put on by the club include a book mending one for the Occupational Therapy club and a storytelling demonstration.

Ski Club

To ski and to promote the sport of skiing as a leisure time activity is the purpose of this club. Ski Club members planned various activities to provide enjoyment throughout the year.

During the winter months the group went on several week-end ski trips and also had an ice-skating outing in Ann Arbor. A roller-skating party, horseback riding, and a canoe trip on the Huron River were Spring activities.

Student N E A

The Student Education Association provides opportunities for the personal and professional growth of students who intend to enter the teaching profession.

Besides presenting programs of information about placement, qualifications, state and national organizations, and current topics in education, the club sponsors a high school Future Teacher's Workshop each Fall.

Occupational Therapy Club

Any student enrolled on the Occupational Therapy Curriculum is eligible for membership in O.T. Club. Annually, the club holds a Craft Sale just before the Christmas Holidays with O.T. students making the crafts and gifts that are sold.

The club serves by giving programs at nearby hospitals and for the children at Rackham School. They also assist in preparing materials for the Easter Seal Drive.

A special event for this year has been a demonstration of rehabilitation work done for aphasic patients at the Speech Clinic of the University of Michigan. Other programs are held in Occupational Therapy Departments of various hospitals in the area.

Special Education Club

Membership in the Special Education Club is automatic upon enrolling in the Special Education Department. This includes all areas of education of the exceptional and gives the club a potential membership of more than two hundred students. The purpose of this organization is to promote professional growth, human relationships, and social competency.

Activities for the year included a series of field trips. The group visited Whitmore Lake Boys Vocational School, Ypsilanti State Hospital, Lapeer State Mental Hospital, Coldwater State Mental Hospital, Flint School for the Deaf, Adrian Girls Vocational School, Wayne County Training School, Lansing School for the Blind, Detroit Orthopedics Hospital, and Hawthorne Center. The group also sponsored their annual candy sale and participated in the campus-wide Christmas party and sing. Several meetings featuring speakers were held.

Women's Physical Education

The Women's Physical Education Club, under the guidance of Miss G. Montgomery, had a very busy and successful year. In September there was an open meeting for all prospective members, and later in the month a picnic was held for the new members. Throughout the semester, the club kept busy by planning a Major Day for many of the surrounding high schools. Senior women interested in the field of Physical Education were invited.

Varsity Club

Membership in this club is open to any man who has earned a letter in a varsity sport at Eastern. Speakers at the groups' meetings include coaches and other authorities in the field of physical education.

Varsity Club members run the concession stand at high school and tournament basketball games. The group purchased the pennants which adorn the ceiling in Bowen Field House.

Veterans Club

Veterans' Club, re-organized on this campus in the Fall of 1958, has been active in numerous projects for the school and for charity.

Each Monday, a group of members travel to the Ypsilanti State Hospital where they do volunteer work with teen, and pre-teen, boys. Last year during the Christmas season, the club used money from its treasury to purchase food, clothes and toys for a needy family in town.

The Veterans' Club homecoming float took first place in the club division. Sandy Strickland, Vets' Clubs' candidate for homecoming Queen, was on the queen's court.

Active in Intramural sports, the club won the overall independent championship last year.

Also, last year, the club sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Day with all profits going to charity. The group has plans to repeat this again.

Women's Recreation Association

The Women's Recreation Association strives to promote and foster an extracurricular program of wholesome recreational activities for all EMU women and to encourage co-recreational opportunities.

Field hockey, volleyball, badminton, basketball, archery, softball, tennis, and golf intramurals provide recreational opportunities throughout the year. Co-recreation nights are also held throughout the year, usually once a month. This year, a faculty co-recreation night was sponsored by the group.

WRA has several special Spring activities. These include a camp weekend for all the women on campus, the WRA board outing, and the WRA banquet.

Social activities include entering a float in the Homecoming parade, participating in the Christmas Sing, and Christmas caroling in Ypsilanti.

FRONT ROW: Judy Gothelf (treasurer), Claudia Wasik (vice president), Martha Verda (advisor), Connie Riopelle (president), Sharon Roberts. Young Republican's is a student group formed of anyone on campus who is interested in the Republican party.

During the fall, group members did some canvassing of nearby precincts as part of a total effort to determine the number of registered Republican voters. Members of the group also worked at Ypsilanti Republican Headquarters answering the phone and giving information.

With their traditional enemies, Young Democrats, the club co-sponsored a dance in the Fall and the Waugh-Keyes Debate where both parties aired their platforms and aims.

Greeks... add to the

The social fraternities and sororities exist primarily to serve their members. Yet, the total face they show is not completely fun-loving.

There is more behind a pin, and behind the face of one who wears it, than a purely social outlook.

Many of the activities of the Greek organizations are purely entertainment. These include such things as the Chick Relays with its pie-eating contests and the Greek Weekend with its carnival-like atmosphere.

Not as often recognized, however, is the serious side of the Greek face. Christmas parties for the underprivileged or the handicapped and money-raising for charity illustrate this outlook.

The shine of friendship, too, shows in the faces of sorority and fraternity members. Such groups develop and encourage lasting ties between members.

In these many ways, the Greek organizations add to the total face of Eastern.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council, its membership composed of two members from each social sorority, has the responsibility of maintaining fraternity life and inter-fraternity relations on our campus.

Panhellenic Council is the self-governing body of the sororities on this campus. Each of the ten social sororities send two members to this group.

One of the primary responsibilities of this group is handling the bi-annual rushing. Shortly after the beginning of each semester, 'Panhel' sponsors Peek at Greek which officially begins rushing. During the three-week rush season, Panhellenic Council handles all disputes, sets all dates and hands out rush books to rushees. The Panhellenic Sing marks the end of rush.

In cooperation with Inter-fraternity Council, Panhellenic Council sponsors several dances throughout the year.

Interfraternity Council

Inter Fraternity Council, whose membership represents every fraternity on campus, is the governing body of the social fraternities.

The group handles the mandatory open house. Every man who intends to rush must attend this meeting which explains the purpose of I.F.C. and of Greek organizations at Eastern. Each fraternity sets up a display and operates a booth to acquaint rushees with their group.

I.F.C. also maintains the bid box where rushees pick up bids and return their choices. Other matters within the groups' jurisdiction include rules for pledging, fraternity problems, and the number of bids a fraternity may offer.

With Panhellenic Council the group also co-sponsors Greek Weekend.

Alpha Sigma Tau

The purpose of Alpha Sigma Tau is to promote the ethical, cultural and social developments of its members. Alpha Sigma Tau at Eastern holds the honor of being the original chapter in this national sorority. Founded here in 1899, the group became national in 1905 when Beta Chapter was established at Western Michigan University.

The more formal social activities have included a Founder's Day Luncheon, an initiation, potluck dinner and Christmas party with alumnae, and the annual Candlelight Ball dinner dance.

Alpha Xi Delta

This organization, since its founding in 1955, has striven for high scholarship on campus and has striven to be an active influence for good in the student body. The Alpha Xi Delta's had a distinct beginning this school year by winning the Chick Relays for the third year and also by having one of their members chosen for Homecoming Queen. The organization has volunteered many hours to agencies such as the Muscular Dystrophy Drive and the Cancer Drive.

Beta Pi Gamma

Beta Pi Gamma was founded in 1957 with the purpose to perpetuate fellowship, trust, and scholarship.

Among the many events of Beta Pi Gamma are the cider sip for parents, alumni, and guests during Homecoming, the workshop in November to make holders for hearing aids for Rackham, and a joint Christmas party with Alpha Gamma Upsilon for underprivileged children. A dinner dance was held in February in Windsor, Ontario.

Delta Sigma Theta

Delta Beta is the local chapter of Delta Sigma Theta, an international sorority founded in 1913 by Howard University undergraduate women. The local chapter started in 1949.

Volunteering aid to organizations such as the Women's Christian Association, the Red Cross, Girl Scouts, and the United Community Fund are some of the ways in which the girls of Delta Sigma Theta serve the community.

The major social event of the year is the January Crimson and Cream Ball.

By working through the international headquarters, the girls are able to finance an exchange student program.

Delta Zeta

Uniting its members with bonds of lasting friendship for the pursuit of knowledge, and the development of plans for guidance and action is the purpose of Delta Zeta.

Sorority activities include a dinner-dance, breakfasts, and a weekend. Each year the girls hold a Senior Farewell and a Mothers Tea. Another well-known function is the Ugliest Man Contest.

In the line of service, the girls hold a Christmas Party and make Easter Baskets for underprivileged children.

Emanon

FRONT ROW: Joy Moss (Treasurer), Joan Behrand (Secretary), Carolyn Exelby (Advisor), Margot LaBan, Maryann Kyte. 2nd. ROW: Miriam Bank, Adrienne Herst, Stephanie Sokoloff, Ellen Schultz.

A newcomer to Eastern's campus, Emanon was organized last year and gained sorority status in March, 1960 with a Panhellenic Charter.

Composed of 11 charter members, Emanon works toward the promotion of high ideals for its members. In doing this, the sorority participates in various social activities on campus and assists in many philanthropic activities.

The girls participated in the Muscular Dystrophy drive during November. Hours spent in work at Rackham School and visits to childrens' homes in Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor are examples of the services Emanon performs.

Social life, however, is not neglected, and various parties are always in the planning. Included in these is the annual Christmas party and a sorority weekend.

Sigma Kappa

Uniting its members in a bond of sincere friendship for the development of character and the promotion of social and intellectual culture is the aim of Sigma Kappa.

In 1959, the group, which started at Eastern as a local sorority, became the Delta Alpha Chapter of national Sigma Kappa. The national which has 102 chapters was founded in 1874 at Colby College, Maine.

Sigma Kappa is active in many campus wide activities including Homecoming and Christmas festivities.

The girls also participate in closed activities which include a Dinner Dance, sorority brunch, banquet and other initiation activities.

Sigma Nu Phi

A strong feeling of sisterhood and coordination in working together are the listed purposes of Sigma Nu Phi, founded at Eastern in September of 1897.

A winning float in the Homecoming parade proved the efforts of the girls. During homecoming week, the girls also participated in the Chick Relays and held a Chocolate Hour for Alumni members.

Social events for the Sig Nu's include a Faculty Tea in November, a December Christmas party, the Sweetheart Ball and Greek-Weekend activities in April.

In January, the group held formal initiation of new members and installation of officers for the coming year.

Climax of the year is the Sorority Weekend in May.

Sigma Sigma Sigma, proud of being known on campus as the 'swinging, singing sigmas' offers membership to girls desiring sincere and lasting friendships. They are equally proud of being known for leadership in many campus organizations especially A.W.S.

The social calendar of the Tri Sigs' is a long and varied one which includes such things as Dads' Day, Annual Spring Dinner Dance, Christmas parties (both all-campus and membership) and rush parties. The list also includes such things as the Tri Sig-Phi Sig All-Campus dance and Greek Weekend activities.

Homecoming this year was especially big for the Tri Sigs with two girls, Sandy Strickland and Jinx Porte, on the Queen's court. At this time they also held a Cider Sip for the alumnae and participated in the Chick Relays.

Service activities are not neglected as the girls visit the children at Mayberry T.B. Sanitarium, make favors for the trays at Beyer Hospital and participate in the Robbie Page national service project with a shoe shine at McKenny.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Brotherhood and Fellowship stands as the dual purpose of Alpha Epsilon Pi. At the present time, the group is a colony of a large national fraternity. In the near future, however, there are plans to become a charter member. This would mean membership in I.F.C. and the possibility of a fraternity house.

Under the slogan 'Walking for those who cannot walk', pledges begged for Halloween candy this year and then gave this to the children at Rackham School. The entire fraternity cooperated in a shoeshine for the United Foundation. When the money that had been donated by the campus was counted, the A E Pi's matched that amount from the fraternity treasury.

A Winter formal dance, usually held at a private club in Detroit, is the major social event of the year. Past members of the fraternity are invited and usually 45-50 couples attend.

Alpha Phi Alpha

In the Spring of 1959, the Epsilon Eta chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha received the status of an interfraternity council member and became part of the national fraternity.

Although there are only five active members at the present time, this fraternity has many activities. At the start of each school year, there is a general meeting and new officers take over their respective duties. During fall the group has parties and work meetings.

The annual Sweetheart Ball is held each year in the Ballroom of McKenny.

Arm of Honor

The men of the Arm of Honor work to promote brotherhood and fellowship with all members working as a unit.

Major activities for the fraternity include the annual Ball of Honor, and a semi-formal dance held during the fall months. In Spring, they sponsor an Alumni Banquet and a picnic where actives invite friends to spend the day at Silver Lake. During the summer the actives hold a get-together.

Alpha Gamma Upsilon

Alpha Gamma Upsilon is proud of supplying an atmosphere which develops each individual's personality. Within the Alpha Gam brotherhood members find a congenial group of college men with similar interests. It is this which produces the spirit that can be truly called fraternal.

Social activities consist of a semi-formal homecoming dance "Catch a Win." Some one hundred couples, this year, spent four hours of dancing and entertainment. A hay ride, a bonfire, and a number of other parties were also on the calendar.

A national convention, Easter party for Rackham School, and Christmas Party for 60 underprivileged children have been highlights of the year. An honored part of the fraternities scrapbook is a letter from one grateful mother after the Christmas Party. "Dear Fellows," it reads, "They (my children) said it was lots more fun than any of our family parties . . . You are all to be commended for your true Christmas spirit."

Delta Sigma Phi

Delta Sigma Phi, a social fraternity, holds many social affairs during the year including the Alumni Homecoming Banquet, the formal Coronation Ball, and the informal Sailor's Ball. They also have a bi-monthly leadership dinner inviting prominent speakers. The primary aims of this organization are lifelong brotherhood and expansion of character through brotherhood.

Kappa Alpha Psi

Progressive achievement is the motto of Kappa Alpha Psi, a comparatively small, yet active, fraternity at Eastern.

The fraternity is proud of the athletic triumphs of several members. Hayes Jones, Olympic track star from EMU, was a Kappa Alpha Psi. Another brother, Al Day is a professional football player.

The local chapter, Delta Nu, was founded on this campus in 1955. The national fraternity has been in existence since 1911.

Kappa Phi Alpha

The establishment of good scholarship, good fellowship, and good sportsmanship is the aim of Kappa Phi Alpha, a fraternity founded on this campus in 1902.

High on the list of social events for this fraternity is the Red Rose Ball in December, a semi-formal dance for members. In the fall, Kappa Phi and Sigma Nu Phi co-sponsored an all campus dance in McKenny. The major social event of the spring is the annual Spring Banquet.

The Kappa Phi's hold house parties about every other month and work parties once a month.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Phi Sigma Epsilon was founded on this campus in 1934 to promote brotherhood and friendship among members both in school and after graduation.

Probably the most important event for the Phi Sigs this year was the purchase of a new fraternity house at 209 North Huron.

Known throughout the campus are the Phi Sig "Slave Sales" in the fall and spring. At these sales, members of the fraternity are "auctioned" off to the highest female bidders and become their slave for the next day.

At Christmas time, the fraternity sponsors a party for underprivileged children. They also visit Mayberry T. B. Sanitarium with their sister sorority Sigma Sigma Sigma. With their sisters, the group co-sponsored an all-campus dance during November.

Pi Kappa Phi

Pi Kappa Phi originated on this campus as a local fraternity Tau Sigma Chi. The group changed name and affiliations several times until, in the fall of 1956, they became the Beta Pi Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi.

At the present time, there are 12 active members. Professor William Work and Lt. Col. Alton Shipstead are advisors to the Pi Kappa's.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Sigma Tau Gamma, a social fraternity, celebrated in 1960 the fortieth anniversary of the national fraternity.

The first event of the season was the annual Alumni Active football game, followed by the annual Alumni Dinner held at the Huron Hotel. Topping the Christmas season off, a Christmas party was held in McKenny Hall for underprivileged children of Ypsilanti. In February, Sigma Tau Gamma sponsored an all-campus dance with Alpha Sigma Tau. The White Rose Ball, a formal dance, enjoyed by everyone, concluded the 1960-61 season.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Joined by common goals, interests and ideas, the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon work to promote fellowship and brotherhood among members.

The local chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Pi, is one of 170 active chapters throughout the United States.

During homecoming week, the TKE's sponsor the Chick Relays. These are a series of contests open to sorority members. They feature such events as sack races, pie-eating contests, and a football punt.

In February, the group sponsors the Washingtonian, the Founders' Day dinner dance.

At the present time, the group numbers 55 active members.

Theta Chi

The Theta Chi's major project for the year has been remodeling of the fraternity house. The house was painted throughout and the ceilings were all covered with acoustic tile. Wall to wall carpeting and new furniture grace the living room.

Fraternity members have reason to take pride in the intermural athletic record this year. The group placed first in tennis, badminton, and cross country. They also took second place in both golf and wrestling.

Major social event of the year is the semi-formal Theta Chi Cruise. The theme this year is Greece.

Alpha Phi Omega

Headlining Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity Lambda Phi chapter's year was the acquisition and reorganization of the Student Book Exchange. Profits from this enterprise were directed to the establishment of an APO Scholarship program for future Eastern freshmen.

Other service projects for the year included campus poster distribution, direction of the Homecoming parade, service as ushers at the Christmas and Easter religious programs, and chairmanship of the World University Service drive. With Pi Kappa Phi the group operated the concessions in conjunction with Eastern's winter sports events.

Representation at the National Convention in Philadelphia and at regional meetings marked the busy APO calendar. Social events included a Christmas buffet, a pot-luck pledge banquet, the annual May canoe trip, and several parties.

Omega Phi Alpha

Through many activities Omega Phi Alpha, service sorority, gives help and service to the campus and community. The girls fulfill this purpose by ushering at the swim show and Christmas Concert, making favors for Ypsilanti State Hospital, planning a party for the children at Parkridge Community Center, and painting chairs at Rackham School.

Besides service, the girls have many good times together at parties and at the annual Spring Banquet.

All male business and economics majors are invited to an open house to be held by Psi Kappa Alpha fraternity March 10 p.m.

Dean Brown will speak "Why Join Fraternities?" will also be a panel discussion with the business faculty night from 8 to 9:30.

All interested men should come to the Formal Lounge in McKenny Hall at this time.

Stoics Hold Meeting

Stoic Society will hold its business meeting Dec. 6 at 8 p.m., in Starkweather Hall. At this time, the final vote for the acceptance of new members will take place.

Adahi asks 'dead day'

By MARY CHOATE
Adahi, senior women's honorary, has as one of its goals this year the involved in this and the Adahi members wish to know if the student body is in favor of such a move.

Why establish such a day? Most students are aware of the fact that a great emphasis is placed upon their performance in a final examination. In so many classes the emphasis, in percentage, is as much as three-fourths of a grade. If the student is allowed more time to prepare for a final exam, it is probable his over-all performance will improve.

Secondly, this "dead day" would give the student time for the review which is necessary before one attempts study for such an exam.

Adahi group plans activities

Adahi, Eastern Michigan's woman's honorary society, held an informal gathering last Saturday at Silver Lake. The group made plans for the coming year at the meeting. Besides ushering at all-college assemblies, a present function of the organization, the group is working to promote a "dead-day" before final examinations, a tutoring service for the campus, and a series of "fire-side chats" with professors from various departments.

Adahi is a group of outstanding senior women who have a 3.00 cumulative average and who are

Pi Gamma Nu Open to Students

Pi Gamma Nu, National Honorary Social Science Society, is inviting qualified students to become members.

The society's local chapter has been on campus since 1935.

Requirements for membership include: junior standing; a minimum of 20 hours in the social sciences (history, political science, sociology, geography, economics); a cumulative 3.00 point average in the social sciences; and no "E" in any subject.

Adahi (Senior Women)

Adahi, senior women's honorary society, highlights its spring semester activities with the annual tapping ceremony for new members. The organization, fashioned after the National Mortar Board, was formed in Spring, 1957, and presently has thirteen active members and seven honorary members.

The goals of Adahi are to promote leadership, service, and scholarship on the campus. To further these aims, the group ushers at campus assemblies, addresses envelopes for the Honors Convocation, sponsors a campus-wide tutoring service, and has recently been active in initiating a talking-books program for the blind students on the campus.

Alpha Psi Omega

(Dramatics)

Pat Binns, Leona Pohlonski, Karen Boesen (Vice President), Peter Saputo (President), Barbara McLain, Pat Betz (Secretary-Treasurer).

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary fraternity for people who have distinguished themselves in the field of dramatics. Membership is based on a point system and can be earned either by work backstage or acting. It usually takes between a year and a half to three years to earn a membership in Alpha Psi and each person must remain active in dramatics to retain the membership.

At present, the group numbers 18 members. The purpose of this group is to promote interest in dramatic activities and to encourage each member to learn more about the field. In conjunction with these aims, the fraternity sponsors a coffee-hour discussion after each production to which the entire campus is invited.

Kappa Delta Pi

(Education)

Kappa Delta Pi is the national honor society in education. It serves to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards.

Each Spring, the group sponsors a banquet for new members. At this time there is a guest speaker and members learn more about the philosophy and aims of the honorary.

This year's programs for the All Campus Christmas sing were planned and prepared by Kappa Delta Pi in conjunction with Adahi.

Mu Phi Epsilon

(Women's Music)

Mu Phi Epsilon is the national music sorority, founded on Eastern's campus in May, 1950. Striving to promote music and friendship, Mu Phi is required to give two concerts each year, one of which is devoted to American music. It also co-sponsors, with Phi Mu, our brother fraternity, the annual, all campus Christmas Sing and assists ushering at community concerts.

This year Mu Phi became more uniform with the making of skirts in the purple and white colors of the sorority.

Maxine Sweet, Carolyn Kunse, Ann Roller, Anne Thomas, Patricia Cabbage, Geraldine Brewster, Sara Sanderson.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

(Men's Music)

To advance the cause of music in America, to foster brotherhood, and to promote loyalty to the Alma Mater are the purposes and objectives of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. These goals have been achieved first, by the introduction of the annual quartet sing; secondly, through the annual American music concert, performed by the chapter; and finally, by the planned establishment of a Phi Mu-sponsored music scholarship.

Any male student affiliated with a school-sponsored musical organization is welcome to join Phi Mu Alpha and to help the further accomplishment of these goals.

Emily Koinis (Treasurer), Mr. Sutter (Advisor), Paul Will (President), Betty Meldrum, Pat Burch.

Among the purposes of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, is the search for an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems and the development of an understanding of different opinions and institutions.

Michigan Alpha chapter has, over the past year, actively pursued these goals. An initiation banquet with a guest speaker, a program featuring a discussion of American foreign policy by a group of foreign students, and a series of informal seminars with various members of Eastern's faculty have been some of the activities of the campus chapter.

Pi Gamma Mu (History)

Pi Kappa Delta

(Speech)

The purpose of Pi Kappa Delta is to encourage forensic activities of University students. The chapter engages in many tournaments: discussion meets, debate tournaments, oratory contest, extemporaneous speaking, plus many of the non competitive speaking situations such as sponsoring high school regional tournaments on campus, or holding exhibition debates.

This year the debate squad tied for second place in the Michigan Inter-collegiate speech league tournament. The annual banquet will be held in April. The group plans to attend the national Pi Kappa Delta contest in Oklahoma this March.

Seniors... face of the

In the heart of every university, is one student face which is most admired. . .the face of a senior.

His face shows the expression of fulfillment, the sadness of farewell, and the vision of a future beyond this place. The last year shows in his face for it is the finality of a closing part of his life.

A senior can know the influence he has had on his university; he can appreciate the prestige given to him by the underclassmen.

A senior's face is one that can look back as it looks forward. Whatever the future may bring, a senior can always re-live the time when he was a part of the face of Eastern.

Acknowledgements

Without the cooperation of many people, this book could have never been produced. We owe a debt of thanks to our photographers, Dick Wilbur, Joe Prater, Bud Small, and Rosemary Lawrence. And thanks, too, to the men of University News Services and Publications, Bill Jones, Al Jones, and Dick Dabek. Acknowledgements go to E. James Kitson, Manager of McKenny Hall.

A final word of gratitude to Edwards Brothers Inc., the firm that printed this book.
